Knowland To Seek Rules For Senate Probes

Asks Uniform Procedures Fair To Everybody

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) called today for a revision in the ground rules for Senate investigations, pledging that the Republican leadership will back changes at the opening of the next Congress.

In an obvious reaction to public criticism stirred up by the televised McCarthy-Army dispute, Knowland said the Republican Policy Committee will ask its counterpart Democratic group to cooperate in adopting a uniform code for inquiries.

Although details yet are to be spelled out, Knowland said in an interview he thinks such a code should deal with the rights of witnesses, methods of issuing subpoenas, hearing procedures and television and broadcasting problems.

"This is not a partisan matter," the Republican Senate leader said. "Senators of both parties are deeply concerned with laying down ground rules for the fair conduct of hearings and at the same time not hamstringing the proper investigative function of Congress.

"We are concerned with maintaining the vital dignity of the Senate, the preservation of proper investigative powers of Congress and the rights of individuals.

"This situation is of such concern that regardless of which party is in control of the Senate, the first order of business when Congress reconvenes next year should be to establish procedures that reflect the judgment of the whole Senate on how its committees should function."

Knowland said it would be obviously impossible to attack this problem except at the beginning of a congressional session when no vital legislation would be blocked by what he conceded is likely to be lengthy discussion of rules changes.

In the meantime, however, he

Lawmakers Face $600 Million In Budget Requests

BATON ROUGE, May 22 (AP)—A record breaking state budget—totaling nearly 600 million dollars—is expected to greet the Louisiana Legislature tomorrow night as it opens its third week.

The lawmakers will step up the pace as they approach the May 30 deadline for introduction of bills. Constitutional amendments may be introduced for 10 days after the bill deadline.

Committee action, and possible floor action, is expected on such touchy subjects as the right to work bill, the administration's 40 million dollar institutions bond issue and a bill calling for a convention to rewrite Louisiana's much-amended constitution.

After 374 bills in three days of the first week, 458 more were submitted in four sessions last week. In past sessions 300 to 500 bills have flooded in on the last day.

The Senate—after more than a week of delay in committee—faces possible floor action on a concurrent resolution opposing any downward changes in the old age assistance program.

The resolution—aimed at blocking proposed family responsibility and lien and recovery laws—swept through the House in the first week, but was sent to the Health, Welfare and Institutions Committee by the Senate.

The commitee reported it favorably 6-3 and it may be up for action Sunday night.

Another major resolution—urging positive action to retain segregation—breezed through the House with only three dissenting votes Thursday. The Senate sent it to the Education Committee.

The resolution was written at a top level meeting of state, educational and legislative leaders at the governor's mansion Wednesday. The administration floor leader, Rep. Kenneth Cagle of Calcasieu Parish, supported it in the House.

It is expected to get speedy consideration by the Education Committee and should come up for Senate floor action this week.

The resolution terms the Supreme Court decision against

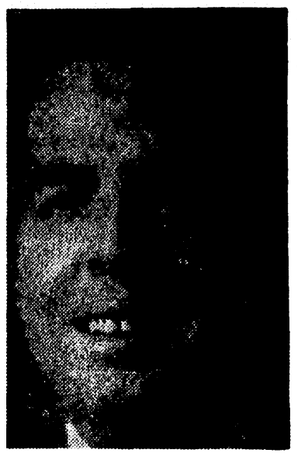
City Councilman M'Neely Dies; Funeral Today

Robert A. (Bob) McNeely, who won a swamping first primary victory last month to be returned to his seat on the West Monroe City Council, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at his home. He was 43.



ROBERT A. McNEELY

His death stunned the people of West Monroe, who gave him one of the strongest victories ever enjoyed by a political office seeker in West Monroe.

Mayor J. Allen Norris termed McNeely's untimely death "regrettable," and extended condolences to the McNeely family.

His death creates a vacancy on the West Monroe City Council that will probably require a special election to fill. At the time of his death McNeely was serving on an unexpired term he was elected to fill over a year ago and was scheduled to take office for a new term July 1.

McNeely lived at 118 Riverbend Drive, and was an employee of the Brown Paper Mill forestry division.

McNeely became ill while at the paper mill. He came to West Monroe to see a doctor but went home instead, arriving about 3:30. His family called a doctor and an ambulance. When they arrived he was dead.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday at the Mulhearn Funeral Chapel. Burial by Mulhearn Funeral Home will follow in the Hasley Cemetery.

Born in Melville, La., McNeely came to West Monroe in his early youth and had been with the paper mill for more than 20 years.

Mr. McNeely had been a close follower of sports for many years and was preparing to enter his third season as Fifth District chairman of American Leagion Junior baseball, a job he accepted in 1952. In both his seasons as chairman he had seen teams of his district win the state championship.

During the 1930s he was an official of the old Ouachita Valley League in which the Brown Paper Mill operated a team known as the Brownies.

Pallbearers were named last night as Bailey Grant, Jeff Caldwell, Jesse Norris, Raymond Butler, C. F. Woodcock, Ivy Norris, Leon Miletello, Ralph Fields.

Honorary pallbearers will be all friends of the family.

Northeast State Baccalaureate Today At 5 P. M.

Dr. Frank Tripp, executive secretary and general superintendent of the Southern Baptist Hospital, New Orleans, will give the sermon. The speaker holds an honorary doctor of divinity degree from Mercer University, Macon, Ga., and an honorary doctor of laws degree from Ouachita College, Arkadelphia.

Following the baccalaureate service, President and Mrs. Lewis C. Slater will honor the graduates and their parents at a garden party 221 Chauvin Avenue, from 6 to 7 p.m.

Today's baccalaureate program will include the processional and recessional played by Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton of the college faculty. The invocation will be given by Rev. A. Waldrep Johnson, pastor of the Church of Christ, Monroe, and the benediction will be given by Rev. Ralph Cain, pastor of the Memorial Methodist Church of this city.

Music for the occasion will include "My Shepherd Will Supply My Need," with the hymn tune arranged by Virgil Thomson, "Blessed Are the Pure in Heart," "Holly, Holy, Holy," and "O Come Ye Servants of the Lord," sung by the Northeast State chorus under direction of Charles Wilhite, college instructor.

Showers Likely During Week End

The mercury at the CAA's Selman Field Station here rose to a peak of 83 Saturday. The low was 52 degrees.

120,000 Londoners Hear Evangelist's Last Talk

LONDON, May 22 (AP)—American evangelist Billy Graham jammed Wembley Stadium with 120,000 people tonight — more than the Olympic games packed in—for the farewell meeting of his London crusade.

He came to the vast arena only a few minutes after leaving London's second largest sports stadium, the White City, where he preached to a capacity crowd of 67,000.

At both places all seats were filled and thousands of additional worshippers jammed the infields and the aisles.

Graham stood with head bowed and near to tears at Wembley as he preached his farewell sermon to London to wind up a three months crusade which has attracted around 1½ million people.

Baccalaureates Of Many Schools Set For Today

The baccalaureate season for schools and the local college initiates graduation week in Monroe today.

The first exercise of this nature will be held in St. Matthew's Catholic Church where the 9 a. m. mass will be held and the 1954 class attired in their caps and gowns, will attend in a body. The sermon will be given by a former assistant pastor of St. Matthew's, Rev. Dennis Curren. He is noted as speaker and is popular with the public of Monroe.

The second baccalaureate exercise of the day will be at 2:30 p. m. in the Carroll High School gymnasium, when Dr. Alford Campbell, of Nashville, Tenn., will address the class of 1954 in their second graduation season for this new colored high school. The public is invited to attend.

At 3 p. m., Ouachita Parish High School will assemble in the school auditorium for their baccalaureate. Rev. John M. Allin, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, will bring the message.

Slightly later in the afternoon, at 5:30 p. m., the West Monroe High School will hold its first baccalaureate. The program will be termed as a vesper service in which Rev. O. P. Bazer, pastor of Edgewood Baptist Church in West Monroe, will give a short address.

Northeast State College will hold its baccalaureate for the 1954 class in the T. O. Brown auditorium at 5 p. m. today. Dr. Frank Tripp, of New Orleans, formerly pastor of the Monroe First Baptist Church will deliver the address to the graduating class. He is a highly popular speaker and a large attendance is assured.

Neville High School will have the final exercises of the day of this nature when its baccalaureate is held in the First Baptist Church at 7:30 p. m. Sunday. The pastor, Rev. James T. Horton, will address the class.

Slain Man Is Found Buried In Arkansas

Is Identified As Neil W. Vernon, Of Shreveport

FORT SMITH, Ark., May 22 (AP) — A bullet-riddled, blood-splattered body found in the woods south of here today was identified as that of Neil W. Vernon of Shreveport, La.

Fort Smith Police Chief Jones Floyd and Sheriff Freck Maddux said positive identification was made from an engraved ring found on the dead man's finger, the name "Vernon" in the clothing and descriptions supplied by Vernon's parents.

Vernon's blood-marked automobile was found abandoned at the outskirts of Fort Smith Thursday. A truck driver reported seeing a man walk away from the car, carrying a suitcase and a brief case, about 4:30 a.m. Thursday.

The body was found about 30 feet off U. S. highway 71 on Backbone Mountain, 20 miles south of Fort Smith and two miles south of Greenwood, Ark.

Sebastian County Sheriff Freck Maddux said the body apparently had been dragged about 30 feet into the woods from the highway. He termed it a "hitch-hiker murder."

The body is being returned to Fort Smith.

Finding of the body climaxed a search which began early Thursday when a blood-stained automobile registered in Vernon's name was found inside the Fort Smith city limits. Vernon was last seen in Shreveport when he told a YMCA janitor he was "going for a ride."

Police in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas, as well as the FBI, had joined in the search for the missing man.

Vernon, 24-year-old native of Olin, Iowa, was a clerk for the Cyclone Fence Co. He was transferred to Shreveport in March from the Fort Worth, Tex., office.

His father, Virgil Vernon of Olin, told authorities he planned to leave for Fort Smith immediately to return his body to Iowa.

Jes' Ramblin'

Today ushers in the graduation week for all local high schools and our college. We are proud of our superior schools and their fine teachers and of the courses that are taught. We think that there has been a year now just ending in schools that is to rank among the most successful ever.

Today we have no less than six baccalaureate exercises. They are to start off with St. Matthew's Catholic High School at St. Matthew's Church at 9 a. m. mass. Rev. Father Dennis Curren will deliver the talk to the class.

In chronological order, the next baccalaureate will be that of Carroll High School when Dr. Alford Campbell, of Nashville, Tenn., will speak.

At 3 p. m. today at the Ouachita Parish High School, Rev. John Allin will speak to the class of 1954.

At 5:30 p. m., the first graduating exercises for West Monroe High School will be initiated when the baccalaureate will be held and when Rev. O. P. Bazer will give the address.

Neville High School's baccalaureate will be held in the First Baptist Church at 7:30 p. m. Rev. J. T. Horton will bring the address.

The other baccalaureate to be

Rhee Offers Use Of Army To UN

SEOUL, May 22 —UP—South Korean President Syngman Rhee Saturday offered his nation's tough, young army to the United Nations to defend democracy against communism anywhere in Asia.

John Millen Of West Monroe Meets Tragedy

Body Recovered From Bar Pit At End Of 2 Hours

A family picnic outing Saturday ended in tragedy for a six-year-old West Monroe boy, who drowned in a bar pit near the White's Ferry Road about nine miles north of here.

The victim was John Felix Millen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Millen, Hayes Street, West Monroe, whose body was recovered from a bar pit around 2 p.m. Saturday, some two hours after he disappeared from the spot where his family was eating lunch.

Ouachita Parish coroner, Dr. J. T. French gave a verdict of death by accidental drowning.

Details of the tragedy as recorded by Dr. French in interviews with the family and persons aiding in the search and recovery of the body revealed this pattern of events:

The father, mother, John and three other small children, were picnicing at a point about three and one-half miles north of the Bayou D'Arbonne Bridge, approximately one-half mile south of the Union Parish boundry line.

Around noon, the father noticed that John had disappeared, and undertook a search for him in woods nearby. When no trace of the youth could be found, passers-by were asked to aid in the search.

Action Against Man Accused Of Murders Halted

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 22 (AP)—The Chief U. S. prosecutor in Germany today barred any attempt to extradite James M. Leech on charges of slaying three U. S. Army officers in 1946 pending a personal "full study of the case."

This sensational turn in the eight-year-old ax-and-arson murder mystery came as Leech, a former Army captain now living in Lima, Ohio, issued a statement saying he did not kill the three officers and that he doesn't know who did.

Thomas Lancian of Boston, Mass., the chief prosecutor, stepped abruptly into the case over the head of Deputy U. S. Prosecutor William Canfield of Hampden, Mass., who filed the charges against Leech yesterday.

Canfield announced that extradition papers had been directed to the U. S. High Commission headquarters at Bonn. U. S. Judge Dewitt White of Morgantown, W. Va., signed warrants for Leech's arrest. But Lancian, who is Canfield's Boss, announced today that extradition would not be sought "until I make a full study of the case."

Canfield, who will leave his government post here next month, was not available for comment.

Canfield said yesterday he had circumstantial evidence which resulted in filing of the charges against Leech for the slaying of Maj. Everett S. Cofran of Washington, D. C., Capt. Adrian L. Wessler of New Rochelle, N. Y., and Lt. Stanley M. Rosewater of Omaha, Neb., at Passau, Germany, on Jan. 7, 1946. The three were bludgeoned to death with an ax and their rooms were set afire.

Canfield said Leech was angry because Cofran, town commander of Passau, had discharged a German girl secretary with whom Leech was friendly, and that Cofran had cancelled project funds to finance her father's business.

Judges Unopposed

Fink, Lassiter, Brown, Lester In D. A's Race

George Fink, Monroe attorney, qualified for the district attorney's race yesterday, turning the contest into a four-way affair in which the incumbent, Fred Fudickar, Jr., will not be a part.

Fink filed his candidacy before Democratic Chairman C. C. Bell, Jr., yesterday afternoon. Fudickar never did file despite muddled reports that he would.

The two fourth district judges, David I. Garrett and Jesse S. Heard, will remain in office unopposed. No candidates qualified in the judge's race except the two incumbents.

Election for the district attorney will be held July 27, along with the U. S. senatorial race.

As deadline passed the lineup of qualified candidates for the Ouachita-Morehouse district attorney's post looked this way: Assistant D. A. Gilbert T. Brown; Fink; Albin Lassiter, and George Lester.

None of the candidates has issued formal statements. Fink said yesterday he would issue one "in a few days." The others are also expected to submit their views in public statements in the near future.

Fudickar said several weeks ago he would not seek the re-election, but many of his supporters applied strong pressure against him to run again. But he stuck to his word to the last. When the 5 o'clock deadline for filing passed yesterday, Fudickar conclusively placed himself in the position of out-going district attorney.

There was still a meager possibility that more than four persons would be in the race. Democratic Committee Chairman Bell pointed out that qualifications could be legally made by mail if postmarked prior to the deadline.

However, that seemed a remote possibility.

Gen. Middleton To Present LSU Degrees To 1,000

BATON ROUGE May 22—UP—Gen. Troy Middleton will present some 1,000 degrees—625 undergraduate—to Louisiana State University graduates in commencement ceremonies on the campus here next Saturday.

The university will confer 30 doctor of philosphy degrees, 176 masters, 44 professional, 107 doctor of medicine, and 31 law degrees. Pre-commencement exercises were held for the medical school graduates today (Saturday) in New Orleans.

The Most Rev. Maurice Schexnayder of Crowley, auxiliary bishop of Lafayette and titular bishop of Tuscamia, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon, first event of commencement day, at 10 a.m. in the LSU coliseum.

At 3 p.m., a full academic procession will form and march to the coliseum for the commencement address and presentation of degrees. Dr. Harvie Branscomb, chancellor of Vanderbilt University will give the commencement address.

Report Is Current But Unverified

Two More Arms Cargoes En Route To Guatemala State Department Says

WASHINGTON, May 22 —UP—The United States has received reports that two more "arms ships are on their way" to Guatemala, State Department officials said Saturday.

The vessels presumably were loaded at Communist ports.

One shipment of almost 2,000 tons of Czech-manufactured weapons to Guatemala was disclosed this week and has caused alarm in U. S. official circles, Latin American nations, and Congress.

The Guatemalan government is Red - tinged. The State Department has said that movement of the arms is a "development of gravity" and a possible threat to security of the western hemisphere.

A Latin American ambassador and two members of Congress said Saturday that the shipment of Red arms to Guatemala may be a Russian attempt to get a foothold in the western hemisphere.

State Department officials said reports of the new shipments are "widely current in Guatemala." However, these officials indicated the United States does not have definite confirmation of them.

Disclosure of the reports followed a State Department announcement that the United States had banned shipment of arms to Guatemala because of the "obvious uncertainty" as to their possible use.

The Central American republic had charged it has been unable to obtain munitions in this country. An official Guatemalan communique said that purchases of police pistols and small calibre ammunition "for the use of a hunting and fishing club" had been barred.

The State Department said this government has been "unwilling to license commercial shipments of arms to Guatemala because of the obvious uncertainty as to the purposes for which those arms might be used." It said Guatemala is ineligible for arms assistance because she has not ratified the inter-American treaty of reciprocal assistance — the Rio De Janeiro treaty of 1947.

Meanwhile, Ambassador Roberto Huertematte of Panama said in commenting on the one shipment of arms that it was "through similar military assistance that Russia converted her neighbor countries into satellite police states."

Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La.) proposed "positive action" by the United States to fight the threat of Communist aggression in Central America.

"All of the evidence available here points to a genuine Soviet plot to seize power in the western hemisphere," he said in a statement.

At Youngstown, Ohio, House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck (Ind.) said the Red arms shipment is cause for "great concern." He said the total shipment itself is not "highly significant" but "underscores the gravity of the threat to our own security."

McCarthy Plans To Take Stand In Senate Inquiry

FORT ATKINSON, Wis., May 22 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy asserted tonight he will appear and be ready to testify when the Senate subcommittee investigating his row with the Army resumes its sessions Monday.

"I shall advise my staff to testify if they are called upon," McCarthy also declared, adding "but I will not order them to testify."

For himself McCarthy said, "of course I will be available to testify at any time."

McCarthy's comments were made during a press conference immediately prior to his delivery of a Chamber of Commerce address in this small southeastern Wisconsin city. His address has been billed as a major review of his side of his row with the Army. The senator said that although he had been opposed to starting the hearings from their beginning he would stay with them until they are finished "unless some new road blocks are thrown in the way."

McCarthy said he had decided on going ahead with the hearings after consulting with Republican senators and also a few Democrats.

"There is no unanimity, but the consensus is the best way to get this circus off the road is spend as many hours as possible every day," McCarthy said. He also had a suggestion for Democratic members of the subcommittee.

"I wouldn't try to force any senator to testify," McCarthy said. "But in view of the fact that Sen. Symington (D-Mo) has demanded that all the Army monitored telephone transcripts be made public, I think Stu should do the same as the three Republican members of the subcommittee and take the stand to tell what his conversations with Army officials were about — whether they were monitored or not."

McCarthy said he thought that President Eisenhower has been getting advice from the leftwing press so that "elements of the press that always have been trying to destroy the Republican party now are advising Ike's advisors.

"This means that that element of the press has greater influence on the executive than ever before.

"I think the President is a good honest fellow, so honest with long years of service that he just can't conceive of anyone doublecrossing him.

"I hope before Monday someone might persuade President Eisenhower that he's been getting awful bad advice."

After his address tonight McCarthy plans to return to Washington for conferences Sunday.

He came to the vast arena only a few minutes after leaving London's second largest sports stadium, the White City, where he preached to a capacity crowd of 67,000.

At both places all seats were filled and thousands of additional worshippers jammed the infields and the aisles.

Graham stood with head bowed and near to tears at Wembley as he preached his farewell sermon to London to wind up a three months crusade which has attracted around 1½ million people.

Baccalaureates Of Many Schools Set For Today

The baccalaureate season for schools and the local college initiates graduation week in Monroe today.

The first exercise of this nature will be held in St. Matthew's Catholic Church where the 9 a. m. mass will be held and the 1954 class attired in their caps and gowns, will attend in a body. The sermon will be given by a former assistant pastor of St. Matthew's, Rev. Dennis Curren. He is noted as speaker and is popular with the public of Monroe.

The second baccalaureate exercise of the day will be at 2:30 p. m. in the Carroll High School gymnasium, when Dr. Alford Campbell, of Nashville, Tenn., will address the class of 1954 in their second graduation season for this new colored high school. The public is invited to attend.

At 3 p. m., Ouachita Parish High School will assemble in the school auditorium for their baccalaureate. Rev. John M. Allin, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, will bring the message.

Slightly later in the afternoon, at 5:30 p. m., the West Monroe High School will hold its first baccalaureate. The program will be termed as a vesper service in which Rev. O. P. Bazer, pastor of Edgewood Baptist Church in West Monroe, will give a short address.

Northeast State College will hold its baccalaureate for the 1954 class in the T. O. Brown auditorium at 5 p. m. today. Dr. Frank Tripp, of New Orleans, formerly pastor of the Monroe First Baptist Church will deliver the address to the graduating class. He is a highly popular speaker and a large attendance is assured.

Neville High School will have the final exercises of the day of this nature when its baccalaureate is held in the First Baptist Church at 7:30 p. m. Sunday. The pastor, Rev. James T. Horton, will address the class.

Slain Man Is Found Buried In Arkansas

Is Identified As Neil W. Vernon, Of Shreveport

FORT SMITH, Ark., May 22 (AP) — A bullet-riddled, blood-splattered body found in the woods south of here today was identified as that of Neil W. Vernon of Shreveport, La.

Fort Smith Police Chief Jones Floyd and Sheriff Freck Maddux said positive identification was made from an engraved ring found on the dead man's finger, the name "Vernon" in the clothing and descriptions supplied by Vernon's parents.

Vernon's blood-marked automobile was found abandoned at the outskirts of Fort Smith Thursday. A truck driver reported seeing a man walk away from the car, carrying a suitcase and a brief case, about 4:30 a.m. Thursday.

The body was found about 30 feet off U. S. highway 71 on Backbone Mountain, 20 miles south of Fort Smith and two miles south of Greenwood, Ark.

Sebastian County Sheriff Freck Maddux said the body apparently had been dragged about 30 feet into the woods from the highway. He termed it a "hitch-hiker murder."

The body is being returned to Fort Smith.

Finding of the body climaxed a search which began early Thursday when a blood-stained automobile registered in Vernon's name was found inside the Fort Smith city limits. Vernon was last seen in Shreveport when he told a YMCA janitor he was "going for a ride."

Police in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas, as well as the FBI, had joined in the search for the missing man.

Vernon, 24-year-old native of Olin, Iowa, was a clerk for the Cyclone Fence Co. He was transferred to Shreveport in March from the Fort Worth, Tex., office.

His father, Virgil Vernon of Olin, told authorities he planned to leave for Fort Smith immediately to return his body to Iowa.

Jes' Ramblin'

Today ushers in the graduation week for all local high schools and our college. We are proud of our superior schools and their fine teachers and of the courses that are taught. We think that there has been a year now just ending in schools that is to rank among the most successful ever.

Today we have no less than six baccalaureate exercises. They are to start off with St. Matthew's Catholic High School at St. Matthew's Church at 9 a. m. mass. Rev. Father Dennis Curren will deliver the talk to the class.

In chronological order, the next baccalaureate will be that of Carroll High School when Dr. Alford Campbell, of Nashville, Tenn., will speak.

At 3 p. m. today at the Ouachita Parish High School, Rev. John Allin will speak to the class of 1954.

At 5:30 p. m., the first graduating exercises for West Monroe High School will be initiated when the baccalaureate will be held and when Rev. O. P. Bazer will give the address.

Neville High School's baccalaureate will be held in the First Baptist Church at 7:30 p. m. Rev. J. T. Horton will bring the address.

Rhee Offers Use Of Army To UN

SEOUL, May 22 —UP—South Korean President Syngman Rhee Saturday offered his nation's tough, young army to the United Nations to defend democracy against communism anywhere in Asia.

John Millen Of West Monroe Meets Tragedy

Body Recovered From Bar Pit At End Of 2 Hours

A family picnic outing Saturday ended in tragedy for a six-year-old West Monroe boy, who drowned in a bar pit near the White's Ferry Road about nine miles north of here.

The victim was John Felix Millen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Millen, Hayes Street, West Monroe, whose body was recovered from a bar pit around 2 p.m. Saturday, some two hours after he disappeared from the spot where his family was eating lunch.

Ouachita Parish coroner, Dr. J. T. French gave a verdict of death by accidental drowning.

Details of the tragedy as recorded by Dr. French in interviews with the family and persons aiding in the search and recovery of the body revealed this pattern of events:

The father, mother, John and three other small children, were picnicing at a point about three and one-half miles north of the Bayou D'Arbonne Bridge, approximately one-half mile south of the Union Parish boundry line.

Around noon, the father noticed that John had disappeared, and undertook a search for him in woods nearby. When no trace of the youth could be found, passers-by were asked to aid in the search.

Action Against Man Accused Of Murders Halted

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 22 (AP)—The Chief U. S. prosecutor in Germany today barred any attempt to extradite James M. Leech on charges of slaying three U. S. Army officers in 1946 pending a personal "full study of the case."

This sensational turn in the eight-year-old ax-and-arson murder mystery came as Leech, a former Army captain now living in Lima, Ohio, issued a statement saying he did not kill the three officers and that he doesn't know who did.

Thomas Lancian of Boston, Mass., the chief prosecutor, stepped abruptly into the case over the head of Deputy U. S. Prosecutor William Canfield of Hampden, Mass., who filed the charges against Leech yesterday.

Canfield announced that extradition papers had been directed to the U. S. High Commission headquarters at Bonn. U. S. Judge Dewitt White of Morgantown, W. Va., signed warrants for Leech's arrest. But Lancian, who is Canfield's Boss, announced today that extradition would not be sought "until I make a full study of the case."

Canfield, who will leave his government post here next month, was not available for comment.

Canfield said yesterday he had circumstantial evidence which resulted in filing of the charges against Leech for the slaying of Maj. Everett S. Cofran of Washington, D. C., Capt. Adrian L. Wessler of New Rochelle, N. Y., and Lt. Stanley M. Rosewater of Omaha, Neb., at Passau, Germany, on Jan. 7, 1946. The three were bludgeoned to death with an ax and their rooms were set afire.

Canfield said Leech was angry because Cofran, town commander of Passau, had discharged a German girl secretary with whom Leech was friendly, and that Cofran had cancelled project funds to finance her father's business.

Judges Unopposed

Fink, Lassiter, Brown, Lester In D. A's Race

George Fink, Monroe attorney, qualified for the district attorney's race yesterday, turning the contest into a four-way affair in which the incumbent, Fred Fudickar, Jr., will not be a part.

Fink filed his candidacy before Democratic Chairman C. C. Bell, Jr., yesterday afternoon. Fudickar never did file despite muddled reports that he would.

The two fourth district judges, David I. Garrett and Jesse S. Heard, will remain in office unopposed. No candidates qualified in the judge's race except the two incumbents.

Election for the district attorney will be held July 27, along with the U. S. senatorial race.

As deadline passed the lineup of qualified candidates for the Ouachita-Morehouse district attorney's post looked this way: Assistant D. A. Gilbert T. Brown; Fink; Albin Lassiter, and George Lester.

None of the candidates has issued formal statements. Fink said yesterday he would issue one "in a few days." The others are also expected to submit their views in public statements in the near future.

Fudickar said several weeks ago he would not seek the re-election, but many of his supporters applied strong pressure against him to run again. But he stuck to his word to the last. When the 5 o'clock deadline for filing passed yesterday, Fudickar conclusively placed himself in the position of out-going district attorney.

There was still a meager possibility that more than four persons would be in the race. Democratic Committee Chairman Bell pointed out that qualifications could be legally made by mail if postmarked prior to the deadline.

However, that seemed a remote possibility.

Gen. Middleton To Present LSU Degrees To 1,000

BATON ROUGE May 22—UP—Gen. Troy Middleton will present some 1,000 degrees—625 undergraduate—to Louisiana State University graduates in commencement ceremonies on the campus here next Saturday.

The university will confer 30 doctor of philosphy degrees, 176 masters, 44 professional, 107 doctor of medicine, and 31 law degrees. Pre-commencement exercises were held for the medical school graduates today (Saturday) in New Orleans.

The Most Rev. Maurice Schexnayder of Crowley, auxiliary bishop of Lafayette and titular bishop of Tuscamia, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon, first event of commencement day, at 10 a.m. in the LSU coliseum.

At 3 p.m., a full academic procession will form and march to the coliseum for the commencement address and presentation of degrees. Dr. Harvie Branscomb, chancellor of Vanderbilt University will give the commencement address.

Report Is Current But Unverified

Two More Arms Cargoes En Route To Guatemala State Department Says

WASHINGTON, May 22 —UP—The United States has received reports that two more "arms ships are on their way" to Guatemala, State Department officials said Saturday.

The vessels presumably were loaded at Communist ports.

One shipment of almost 2,000 tons of Czech-manufactured weapons to Guatemala was disclosed this week and has caused alarm in U. S. official circles, Latin American nations, and Congress.

The Guatemalan government is Red - tinged. The State Department has said that movement of the arms is a "development of gravity" and a possible threat to security of the western hemisphere.

A Latin American ambassador and two members of Congress said Saturday that the shipment of Red arms to Guatemala may be a Russian attempt to get a foothold in the western hemisphere.

State Department officials said reports of the new shipments are "widely current in Guatemala." However, these officials indicated the United States does not have definite confirmation of them.

Disclosure of the reports followed a State Department announcement that the United States had banned shipment of arms to Guatemala because of the "obvious uncertainty" as to their possible use.

The Central American republic had charged it has been unable to obtain munitions in this country. An official Guatemalan communique said that purchases of police pistols and small calibre ammunition "for the use of a hunting and fishing club" had been barred.

The State Department said this government has been "unwilling to license commercial shipments of arms to Guatemala because of the obvious uncertainty as to the purposes for which those arms might be used." It said Guatemala is ineligible for arms assistance because she has not ratified the inter-American treaty of reciprocal assistance — the Rio De Janeiro treaty of 1947.

Meanwhile, Ambassador Roberto Huertematte of Panama said in commenting on the one shipment of arms that it was "through similar military assistance that Russia converted her neighbor countries into satellite police states."

Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La.) proposed "positive action" by the United States to fight the threat of Communist aggression in Central America.

"All of the evidence available here points to a genuine Soviet plot to seize power in the western hemisphere," he said in a statement.

At Youngstown, Ohio, House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck (Ind.) said the Red arms shipment is cause for "great concern." He said the total shipment itself is not "highly significant" but "underscores the gravity of the threat to our own security."

McCarthy Plans To Take Stand In Senate Inquiry

FORT ATKINSON, Wis., May 22 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy asserted tonight he will appear and be ready to testify when the Senate subcommittee investigating his row with the Army resumes its sessions Monday.

"I shall advise my staff to testify if they are called upon," McCarthy also declared, adding "but I will not order them to testify."

For himself McCarthy said, "of course I will be available to testify at any time."

McCarthy's comments were made during a press conference immediately prior to his delivery of a Chamber of Commerce address in this small southeastern Wisconsin city. His address has been billed as a major review of his side of his row with the Army. The senator said that although he had been opposed to starting the hearings from their beginning he would stay with them until they are finished "unless some new road blocks are thrown in the way."

McCarthy said he had decided on going ahead with the hearings after consulting with Republican senators and also a few Democrats.

"There is no unanimity, but the consensus is the best way to get this circus off the road is spend as many hours as possible every day," McCarthy said. He also had a suggestion for Democratic members of the subcommittee.

"I wouldn't try to force any senator to testify," McCarthy said. "But in view of the fact that Sen. Symington (D-Mo) has demanded that all the Army monitored telephone transcripts be made public, I think Stu should do the same as the three Republican members of the subcommittee and take the stand to tell what his conversations with Army officials were about — whether they were monitored or not."

McCarthy said he thought that President Eisenhower has been getting advice from the leftwing press so that "elements of the press that always have been trying to destroy the Republican party now are advising Ike's advisors.

"This means that that element of the press has greater influence on the executive than ever before.

"I think the President is a good honest fellow, so honest with long years of service that he just can't conceive of anyone doublecrossing him.

"I hope before Monday someone might persuade President Eisenhower that he's been getting awful bad advice."

Market Develops Mixed Trends

NEW YORK, May 22 (AP) — The cotton futures market developed mixed trends this week. In the main, distant deliveries showed modest gains, while nearby contracts moved lower.

Net price fluctuations on the New York Cotton Exchange ranged from $1.45 a bale lower to 5 cents higher for the week. Life-of-contract highs were recorded by December and distant July and October; nearby July took the greatest loss.

Price weakness in the nearby months was attributed in part to selling against purchases on the Liverpool, England Cotton Exchange which reopened Tuesday after a lapse of 13 years. The continued high rate of withdrawal of cotton from the government loan was another bearish factor.

Distant deliveries were aided by continued wet and cold weather which delayed planting in wide areas of the cotton belt. Buying was encouraged by new indications that Congress will continue the 90 per cent of parity loan rate on the 1955 crop, and by a report that Japan may seek a 60 million dollar loan from the Export-Import Bank for purchases of U. S. cotton.

The New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau this week estimated total consumption at approximately 8,625,000 bales as compared to last year's 9,461,000. With exports likely to total 3,600,000 bales this season as against 3,048,000 a year earlier, a carryover of 9,875,000 bales appears to be in prospect. Of this, the Service Bureau said, 6,800,000 bales are expected to remain in government hands, leaving a probable free stock of around 3,000,000.

Exports for the week ended Tuesday were estimated by the bureau at 110,000 bales. Exports last week were 101,000 bales and for the same week last year the figure was 33,000. Total exports for the current season through May 18 were estimated at 3,026,000 bales, as against 2,587,000 at approximately the same time last year.

Boggs Says Reds Hold Beachhead In Guatemala

WASHINGTON—UP—Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La.) today called for "positive action" by the United States to combat the threat of Communist aggression in Central America.

"All of the evidence available here points to a genuine Soviet plot to seize power in the Western Hemisphere," he said in a prepared statement.

The recent arms shipment to Guatemala from a Polish port "proves conclusively that Guatemala is the beachhead for Communist plots in the Western Hemisphere," he said. "The United States must recognize that the threat of Communist aggression is real in Central America and our country must take positive action now," he said.

Boggs said "collective measures" should be undertaken by the organization of American states under the Caracas resolution and the Rio treaty.

"The crippling strike in Honduras is directly attributable to Guatemalan intervention in Honduras," he said. "Reports now reach Washington that Guatemalan agents are now attempting to foment strikes in Panama. The canal itself may be threatened."

Kennon To Speak At Pineville June 6

BATON ROUGE —UP— Gov. Robert F. Kennon will speak at the dedication of new dormitories at the State Colony and Training School, Pineville, June 6.

Also speaking will be Rabbi Nathaniel S. Share of New Orleans, Mrs. Forrest Campbell of Alexandria and Dr. Loyd Rowland of New Orleans.

Four of 14 planned dormitories have been completed and four other are near completion. Construction on the others will begin shortly.

A new gymnasium also is nearing completion and four staff residences are ready for occupancy. A new employes' dormitory is almost ready for use and a new cafeteria and kitchen will be under construction before the end of next month.

Mundt Points To Hiss And White In High Places

NEW YORK, May 21 (AP)—Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) said tonight that no mistake by Red-hunting congressional probers has come close to the error of the executive branch "in bringing Communists into the government."

Mundt, who is presiding over the Senate's Army-McCarthy hearings, apparently was referring to the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, not to President Eisenhower.

Specifically he cited "putting an Alger Hiss" in the State Department and "a Harry Dexter White" in the Treasury.

Communists and persons "confused" by their propaganda have made congressional investigating committees their latest target, he said in a prepared speech at an anti-Communist dinner meeting.

Previously, he said, the attack was aimed at the American Legion, the Daughters of the American Revolution and the FBI.

Said the South Dakota Republican:

"No congressional investigating committee in history has ever made a mistake so serious or so bad in trying to get Communists out of government as to compare even remotely with the mistakes by executive branches of government in bringing Communists into the government.

"No congressional investigating committee ever, for example, made a mistake like putting Alger Hiss in the Department of State, or a Harry Dexter White in the Department of the Treasury."

said the Republican leadership will move toward a "complete study" of necessary rules changes. He said this might be done by subcommittees of the two party policy groups, by the Senate's standing Committee on Rules or by a special bipartisan committee.

The California senator said that while he would like to see both houses of Congress adopt an identical code, he feels that the Senate should go ahead independent of House action.

The Republican Policy Committee already has drafted a series of suggested changes in rules which some Senate committees have adopted voluntarily. But the policy group has made no effort to get the Senate approval necessary to enforce these changes on all committees.

These rules, which Knowland said might be used as a pattern, bar one-man investigating subcommittees such as Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has operated at times in the past.

McCarthy has been accused by Secretary of the Army Stevens of "abusing" Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, a witness, at one such hearing. McCarthy denied any abuse.

The policy committee suggestions proposed that all witnesses have the right to counsel and that subpoenas be issued only with the knowledge of the full investigating group. This latter grew out of the issuance of a subpoena for former President Truman by Chairman Velde (R-Ill) of the House committee investigating Un-American activities, without the knowledge of other committee members. Truman ignored the summons.

Knowland indicated the proposed rule changes would take up the issue raised when Chairman Langer (R-ND) of the Senate Judiciary Committee allowed unsupported charges to be placed in the public record against Chief Justice Earl Warren before Warren was overwhelmingly confirmed.

The issue of televising Senate sessions also is likely to come up, he said.

Knowland said the GOP policy group had discussed the rules change proposals and was determined to go ahead with it. He said that President Eisenhower was being "kept abreast" of developments, but stressed that it is a Senate problem with which the White House is not primarily concerned.

Ellis Calls For Offset To Loss Of Camp Polk

LEESVILLE, La., May 22—UP—Frank B. Ellis, speaking here today in the second rally of his campaign for the U. S. Senate seat now held by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, said that some form of financial contribution should be made by the government to reimburse the people of Leesville for the loss suffered by the removal of troops from Camp Polk.

"You have geared your economy in Leesville and Vernon parish to a Camp Polk setup," Ellis said. "You have voted bond issues for school improvements and for recreational facilities. Your taxes have been tripled as a result and I am sure that your tax burden is becoming unbearable."

Ellis said something should be done and pledged if elected he would try to elevate the situation.

He also deplored the slump in farm prices and charged that Louisiana had lost 20,000 acres of cotton because "someone in Washington did not look after the interests of the Louisiana farmer in determining the various state allocations.

State To Have Part In Test Of Civil Defense

BATON ROUGE May 22 —UP— Louisiana will take part in a nationwide "Operation Alert" June 14 when a test alert will be sounded in all states and major cities including New Orleans which will be "bombed."

The warning will be sent from here throughout Louisiana over state police and sheriffs' radio networks.

Post "attack" communications will be handled by the Louisiana Civil Defense mobile communications center, and will include amateur radio operators in seven major cities.

Gen. Francis A. Woolfley, state Civil Defense director, said participation by cities and parishes is optional.

Otis E. Roan of the Farmerville Route, found a spot on the bank of a bar pit, some 150 yards from the road, where grass and weeds had been broken down. He removed part of his clothing, got a long pole and began to probe the depths of the water-filled pit for the body.

At this point, other passers-by joined in the search, including Milan Howard and J. M. Roan of Rocky Branch community, and H. J. Sullivan, who lived in the vicinity.

After almost two hours of diving and probing in the pit, Otis Roan located the body of the yough and after hooking it under an arm with the pole, succeeded in bringing it to the surface.

The body was pulled into shore by Ouachita Parish deputy sheriff, Bill Causey.

The pit where the tragedy occurred, was dug several years ago, the coroner said, to provide dirt for building up the White's Ferry Road. It tapered sharply from a depth at the edge of some two feet to about 10 feet in the center.

Although there were no eye witnesses to the drowning, Dr. French theorized that the youth sat down on the bank to play in the water with his feet, leaned too far, and slipped in.

The body was taken to Hixson Brothers Funeral Home here.

Services for the youth who was a student in the first grade at Lenwil School, will be conducted 10 a.m. Monday at the Central Assembly of God Church in West Monroe with Rev. G. E. Chambers officiating, assisted by Rev. Troy S. Tisdale.

The British Broadcasting Corp. beamed his address throughout the British Isles; television and movie cameras whirred under the blazing arc lights.

Tonight the 35-year-old Graham answered the question many Britons had asked—why has his crusade here received so great a response.

"I have been asked what is the secret," he said.

"Is it showmanship, organization —or what?

"There is a very simple explanation. The spirit of God is moving across Great Britain as perhaps at no time in the last century.

"There is probably the greatest spiritual hunger in the heart of the average Britisher than ever before in history.

"The average man, perplexed and frustrated by the inability of leaders to find an answer to the world's dilemma, is turning to God and finding peace and joy."

school segregation "unwarranted and unprecedented" and predicts "racial turmoil, strife and confusion" will result.

The administration's 50 million dollar highway bond issue passed the House Thursday 64-31, after an attempt to convert it into a constitutional amendment failed by two votes, 49-47.

The companion bond issue for institutions and colleges was snarled in a lengthy House Ways and Means Committee hearing, upped from $39,950,000 to $40,750,000 and then held up for further hearings next Tuesday.

The two bond issues were introduced as legislative acts, requiring only majority votes in both houses. As constitutional amendments they would need a two-thirds vote in both houses plus approval by the voters.

The highway bond issue authorizes the Highway Department to issue the bonds and dedicates one cent of the gasoline tax to paying them off.

The institutions bond issue would be issued by the state Building Authority and financed by the 1.47 mill property tax dedicated to institutions.

The administration leaders claim they are following a 30-year precedent in authorizing state agencies to issue bonds.

"This bond issue is based on an existing tax," said Rep. Cagle, the administration's House floor leader in the debate on the highway bond issue. "It does not require any additional taxes.

"I would be in favor of submitting the bond issue to the people," Cagle added, "if it involved more taxes."

Rep. Edward Dubuisson of St. Landry Parish, reminded the House that a 140 million dollar bond issue had swept through both houses by wide margins in 1950,

"I'm sure most of the Legislature thought the people would agree with it," he continued, "but when the bill went to the people—they kicked hell out of it."

Dubuisson said he was "wondering whether the sponsors of this bill are worried about the same thing."

Rep. George Tessier of New Orleans asked if present revenues were committed to paying off bond issues, what would happen if a pressing need arose for the money —"more taxes?"

The right to work bill—aimed at banning forced union membership —was introduced in the Senate Wednesday. In pre-session speculation it was tabbed as the touchiest issue of the session.

The bill was sponsored by seven senators and introduced both in the form of a legislative act and a constitutional amendment.

It was referred to the industrial relations committee which set hearings on the bill for Wednesday.

The proposal is similar to right to work laws in effect in 16 other states, mostly in the South.

It forbids the refusal of employment on the basis of membership or non-membership in a labor union, and outlaws both closed and union shop.

Market Develops Mixed Trends

NEW YORK, May 22 (AP) — The cotton futures market developed mixed trends this week. In the main, distant deliveries showed modest gains, while nearby contracts moved lower.

Net price fluctuations on the New York Cotton Exchange ranged from $1.45 a bale lower to 5 cents higher for the week. Life-of-contract highs were recorded by December and distant July and October; nearby July took the greatest loss.

Price weakness in the nearby months was attributed in part to selling against purchases on the Liverpool, England Cotton Exchange which reopened Tuesday after a lapse of 13 years. The continued high rate of withdrawal of cotton from the government loan was another bearish factor.

Distant deliveries were aided by continued wet and cold weather which delayed planting in wide areas of the cotton belt. Buying was encouraged by new indications that Congress will continue the 90 per cent of parity loan rate on the 1955 crop, and by a report that Japan may seek a 60 million dollar loan from the Export-Import Bank for purchases of U. S. cotton.

The New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau this week estimated total consumption at approximately 8,625,000 bales as compared to last year's 9,461,000. With exports likely to total 3,600,000 bales this season as against 3,048,000 a year earlier, a carryover of 9,875,000 bales appears to be in prospect. Of this, the Service Bureau said, 6,800,000 bales are expected to remain in government hands, leaving a probable free stock of around 3,000,000.

Exports for the week ended Tuesday were estimated by the bureau at 110,000 bales. Exports last week were 101,000 bales and for the same week last year the figure was 33,000. Total exports for the current season through May 18 were estimated at 3,026,000 bales, as against 2,587,000 at approximately the same time last year.

Display Aged Skull

TOKYO, May 22 —UP —Peiping radio reported Saturday that the skull of a teen age girl believed to have lived 30,000 years ago is being displayed at a Peiping relics exhibition.

Boggs Says Reds Hold Beachhead In Guatemala

WASHINGTON—UP—Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La.) today called for "positive action" by the United States to combat the threat of Communist aggression in Central America.

"All of the evidence available here points to a genuine Soviet plot to seize power in the Western Hemisphere," he said in a prepared statement.

The recent arms shipment to Guatemala from a Polish port "proves conclusively that Guatemala is the beachhead for Communist plots in the Western Hemisphere," he said. "The United States must recognize that the threat of Communist aggression is real in Central America and our country must take positive action now," he said.

Boggs said "collective measures" should be undertaken by the organization of American states under the Caracas resolution and the Rio treaty.

"The crippling strike in Honduras is directly attributable to Guatemalan intervention in Honduras," he said. "Reports now reach Washington that Guatemalan agents are now attempting to foment strikes in Panama. The canal itself may be threatened."

Kennon To Speak At Pineville June 6

BATON ROUGE —UP— Gov. Robert F. Kennon will speak at the dedication of new dormitories at the State Colony and Training School, Pineville, June 6.

Also speaking will be Rabbi Nathaniel S. Share of New Orleans, Mrs. Forrest Campbell of Alexandria and Dr. Loyd Rowland of New Orleans.

Four of 14 planned dormitories have been completed and four other are near completion. Construction on the others will begin shortly.

A new gymnasium also is nearing completion and four staff residences are ready for occupancy. A new employes' dormitory is almost ready for use and a new cafeteria and kitchen will be under construction before the end of next month.

Mundt Points To Hiss And White In High Places

NEW YORK, May 21 (AP)—Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) said tonight that no mistake by Red-hunting congressional probers has come close to the error of the executive branch "in bringing Communists into the government."

Mundt, who is presiding over the Senate's Army-McCarthy hearings, apparently was referring to the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, not to President Eisenhower.

Specifically he cited "putting an Alger Hiss" in the State Department and "a Harry Dexter White" in the Treasury.

Communists and persons "confused" by their propaganda have made congressional investigating committees their latest target, he said in a prepared speech at an anti-Communist dinner meeting.

Previously, he said, the attack was aimed at the American Legion, the Daughters of the American Revolution and the FBI.

Said the South Dakota Republican:

"No congressional investigating committee in history has ever made a mistake so serious or so bad in trying to get Communists out of government as to compare even remotely with the mistakes by executive branches of government in bringing Communists into the government.

"No congressional investigating committee ever, for example, made a mistake like putting Alger Hiss in the Department of State, or a Harry Dexter White in the Department of the Treasury."

said the Republican leadership will move toward a "complete study" of necessary rules changes. He said this might be done by subcommittees of the two party policy groups, by the Senate's standing Committee on Rules or by a special bipartisan committee.

The California senator said that while he would like to see both houses of Congress adopt an identical code, he feels that the Senate should go ahead independent of House action.

The Republican Policy Committee already has drafted a series of suggested changes in rules which some Senate committees have adopted voluntarily. But the policy group has made no effort to get the Senate approval necessary to enforce these changes on all committees.

These rules, which Knowland said might be used as a pattern, bar one-man investigating subcommittees such as Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has operated at times in the past.

The policy committee suggestions proposed that all witnesses have the right to counsel and that subpoenas be issued only with the knowledge of the full investigating group. This latter grew out of the issuance of a subpoena for former President Truman by Chairman Velde (R-Ill) of the House committee investigating Un-American activities, without the knowledge of other committee members. Truman ignored the summons.

Knowland indicated the proposed rule changes would take up the issue raised when Chairman Langer (R-ND) of the Senate Judiciary Committee allowed unsupported charges to be placed in the public record against Chief Justice Earl Warren before Warren was overwhelmingly confirmed.

The issue of televising Senate sessions also is likely to come up, he said.

Knowland said the GOP policy group had discussed the rules change proposals and was determined to go ahead with it. He said that President Eisenhower was being "kept abreast" of developments, but stressed that it is a Senate problem with which the White House is not primarily concerned.

Ellis Calls For Offset To Loss Of Camp Polk

LEESVILLE, La., May 22—UP—Frank B. Ellis, speaking here today in the second rally of his campaign for the U. S. Senate seat now held by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, said that some form of financial contribution should be made by the government to reimburse the people of Leesville for the loss suffered by the removal of troops from Camp Polk.

"You have geared your economy in Leesville and Vernon parish to a Camp Polk setup," Ellis said. "You have voted bond issues for school improvements and for recreational facilities. Your taxes have been tripled as a result and I am sure that your tax burden is becoming unbearable."

Ellis said something should be done and pledged if elected he would try to eleviate the situation.

He also deplored the slump in farm prices and charged that Louisiana had lost 20,000 acres of cotton because "someone in Washington did not look after the interests of the Louisiana farmer in determining the various state allocations.

State To Have Part In Test Of Civil Defense

BATON ROUGE May 22 —UP— Louisiana will take part in a nationwide "Operation Alert" June 14 when a test alert will be sounded in all states and major cities including New Orleans which will be "bombed."

The warning will be sent from here throughout Louisiana over state police and sheriffs' radio networks.

Post "attack" communications will be handled by the Louisiana Civil Defense mobile communications center, and will include amateur radio operators in seven major cities.

Gen. Francis A. Woolfley, state Civil Defense director, said participation by cities and parishes is optional.

Services tonight were incomplete, but will be announced later by Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Survivors include her husband, Raymond Killian; one daughter, Jan; four brothers T. K. Magee, Rayville; L. L. Magee, C. M. Magee, W. M. Magee, all of Winnsboro; three sisters, Mrs. W. F. Watson, Wisner, Mrs. C. C. Hopkins, Winnsboro; Mrs. Sam Oliver, Wisner.

Catholics To Repeat Prayer By Pope Pius

VATICAN CITY, May 21 —UP— A special prayer for peace, written by Pope Pius, will be recited in Catholic churches all over the world May 30, the Vatican announced Friday.

The prayer will appeal to Christ to make all men love one another so that there may be "true peace in the world and we children may live without the fear of the horrors of a new war."

Otis E. Roan of the Farmerville Route, found a spot on the bank of a bar pit, some 150 yards from the road, where grass and weeds had been broken down. He removed part of his clothing, got a long pole and began to probe the depths of the water-filled pit for the body.

At this point, other passers-by joined in the search, including Milan Howard and J. M. Roan of Rocky Branch community, and H. J. Sullivan, who lived in the vicinity.

After almost two hours of diving and probing in the pit, Otis Roan located the body of the yough and after hooking it under an arm with the pole, succeeded in bringing it to the surface.

The body was pulled into shore by Ouachita Parish deputy sheriff, Bill Causey.

The pit where the tragedy occurred, was dug several years ago, the coroner said, to provide dirt for building up the White's Ferry Road. It tapered sharply from a depth at the edge of some two feet to about 10 feet in the center.

Although there were no eye witnesses to the drowning, Dr. French theorized that the youth sat down on the bank to play in the water with his feet, leaned too far, and slipped in.

The body was taken to Hixson Brothers Funeral Home here.

Services for the youth who was a student in the first grade at Lenwil School, will be conducted 10 a.m. Monday at the Central Assembly of God Church in West Monroe with Rev. G. E. Chambers officiating, assisted by Rev. Troy S. Tisdale.

Anything that has bearing on the life of James Monroe, whose name was given in naming our city, is of interest here. Few people realize the scope of a historical project which is going quietly forward in picturesque old Fredericksburg, Va. With headquarters in the James Monroe law office and museum, where the fifth president of the country began to practice law in the 1780's, the James Monroe Memorial Foundation is conducting a campaign which is to establish a complete reference library on James Monroe and the Monroe Doctrine.

A museum since 1927, the law office is filled with mementoes of one of the most active public careers in the history of the United States.

G. David Schine, often called "best known private in the army" is actually a colonel.

All this happened back in 'Ole Kaintuck" when Acting Gov. Emerson Beauchamp, April 16, 1953, conferred this rank on the man who is now so much in the limelight.

Geoffrey Fisher, archbishop of Canterbury and primate of the Church of England.

The British Broadcasting Corp. beamed his address throughout the British Isles; television and movie cameras whirred under the blazing arc lights.

Tonight the 35-year-old Graham answered the question many Britons had asked—why has his crusade here received so great a response.

"I have been asked what is the secret," he said.

"Is it showmanship, organization —or what?

"There is a very simple explanation. The spirit of God is moving across Great Britain as perhaps at no time in the last century.

"There is probably the greatest spiritual hunger in the heart of the average Britisher than ever before in history.

"The average man, perplexed and frustrated by the inabilty of leaders to find an answer to the world's dilemma, is turning to God and finding peace and joy."

Lawmakers Face

school segregation "unwarranted and unprecedented" and predicts "racial turmoil, strife and confusion" will result.

The administration's 50 million dollar highway bond issue passed the House Thursday 64-31, after an attempt to convert it into a constitutional amendment failed by two votes, 49-47.

The companion bond issue for institutions and colleges was snarled in a lengthy House Ways and Means Committee hearing, upped from $39,950,000 to $40,750,000 and then held up for further hearings next Tuesday.

The two bond issues were introduced as legislative acts, requiring only majority votes in both houses. As constitutional amendments they would need a two-thirds vote in both houses plus approval by the voters.

The highway bond issue authorizes the Highway Department to issue the bonds and dedicates one cent of the gasoline tax to paying them off.

The institutions bond issue would be issued by the state Building Authority and financed by the 1.47 mill property tax dedicated to institutions.

The administration leaders claim they are following a 30-year precedent in authorizing state agencies to issue bonds.

"This bond issue is based on an existing tax," said Rep. Cagle, the administration's House floor leader in the debate on the highway bond issue. "It does not require any additional taxes.

"I would be in favor of submitting the bond issue to the people," Cagle added, "if it involved more taxes."

Rep. Edward Dubuisson of St. Landry Parish, reminded the House that a 140 million dollar bond issue had swept through both houses by wide margins in 1950.

"I'm sure most of the Legislature thought the people would agree with it," he continued, "but when the bill went to the people—they kicked hell out of it."

Dubuisson said he was "wondering whether the sponsors of this bill are worried about the same thing."

Rep. George Tessier of New Orleans asked if present revenues were committed to paying off bond issues, what would happen if a pressing need arose for the money —"more taxes?"

The right to work bill—aimed at banning forced union membership —was introduced in the Senate Wednesday. In pre-session speculation it was tabbed as the touchiest issue of the session.

The bill was sponsored by seven senators and introduced both in the form of a legislative act and a constitutional amendment.

It was referred to the industrial relations committee which set hearings on the bill for Wednesday.

The proposal is similar to right to work laws in effect in 16 other states, mostly in the South.

It forbids the refusal of employment on the basis of membership or non-membership in a labor union, and outlaws both closed and union shop.

Student Teaching Offered At N. E.

Student teaching will be available in the laboratory school of Northeast State during the summer term which opens with registration on June 4 and 5.

The student teaching program will be available to in-service teachers and others who were unable to schedule this work during the regular semesters, Dean William M. Smith announced.

Teachers for the first grade will train under the supervision of Miss Betty Oxford, regularly employed in this field by Northeast State. Miss Oxford did her undergraduate study at Northwestern State College and her graduate work at George Peabody College for Teachers. She was a member of the Northeast summer school faculty last year.

Fourth grade training will be supervised by Miss Una Lea Wallace, who does this type of work regularly for the college. Miss Wallace received the bachelor's degree from Northwestern State College and the master's degree from Columbia University.

T. L. Hammett, a teacher in West Carroll Parish, will supervise the junior high school area of teaching, work which he did last summer at the Campus Laboratory School. Hammett received both the B. A. and M. A. degrees from Louisiana State University.

Injunction Asked By Chiropractor

SHREVEPORT, La., May 22 (AP) —A Shreveport chiropractor filed a cross-action suit today asking the Louisiana Board of Medical Examiners to show cause why they should not be enjoined for molesting him professionally.

Dr. C. E. Guice faces trial Tuesday to decide whether a preliminary injunction should be granted the board restraining him from "practicing medicine without a license."

Guice also asked for a bill of particulars showing how he had violated the state's medical statutes. The answer states that Guice would show that he is not a physician, surgeon, osteopath or midwife. Guice contends the statute does not apply to him or the profession of chiropractic.

Asks Stationing Of Weather Ships To Spot Storms

WASHINGTON, May 22 —(UP)— Rep. T. A. Thompson (D-La.) asked Congress Saturday to require that two government weather ships be stationed in the Gulf of Mexico to flash storm warnings to southern states.

He sponsored a bill which would provide that the vessels be kept in the Gulf "at all times."

"Weather protection in the Gulf," he said, "is the worst in the United States."

In states bordering on the Gulf, he said, "thousands of lives are endangered and millions of dollars are lost each hear, either by storms or industry shutdowns for lack of adequate weather predictions."

Student Teaching Offered At N. E.

Student teaching will be available in the laboratory school of Northeast State during the summer term which opens with registration on June 4 and 5.

The student teaching program will be available to in-service teachers and others who were unable to schedule this work during the regular semesters, Dean William M. Smith announced.

Teachers for the first grade will train under the supervision of Miss Betty Oxford, regularly employed in this field by Northeast State. Miss Oxford did her undergraduate study at Northwestern State College and her graduate work at George Peabody College for Teachers. She was a member of the Northeast summer school faculty last year.

Fourth grade training will be supervised by Miss Una Lea Wallace, who does this type of work regularly for the college. Miss Wallace received the bachelor's degree from Northwestern State College and the master's degree from Columbia University.

T. L. Hammett, a teacher in West Carroll Parish, will supervise the junior high school area of teaching, work which he did last summer at the Campus Laboratory School. Hammett received both the B. A. and M. A. degrees from Louisiana State University.

Injunction Asked By Chiropractor

SHREVEPORT, La., May 22 (AP) —A Shreveport chiropractor filed a cross-action suit today asking the Louisiana Board of Medical Examiners to show cause why they should not be enjoined for molesting him professionally.

Dr. C. E. Guice faces trial Tuesday to decide whether a preliminary injunction should be granted the board restraining him from "practicing medicine without a license."

Guice also asked for a bill of particulars showing how he had violated the state's medical statutes. The answer states that Guice would show that he is not a physician, surgeon, osteopath or midwife. Guice contends the statute does not apply to him or the profession of chiropractic.

Asks Stationing Of Weather Ships To Spot Storms

WASHINGTON, May 22 —(UP)— Rep. T. A. Thompson (D-La.) asked Congress Saturday to require that two government weather ships be stationed in the Gulf of Mexico to flash storm warnings to southern states.

He sponsored a bill which would provide that the vessels be kept in the Gulf "at all times."

"Weather protection in the Gulf," he said, "is the worst in the United States."

In states bordering on the Gulf, he said, "thousands of lives are endangered and millions of dollars are lost each hear, either by storms or industry shutdowns for lack of adequate weather predictions."

WANTED—ONE MAN!!!

THIS NEWSPAPER WOULD APPRECIATE THE NAME OF ONE—JUST ONE INNOCENT, PATRIOTIC, LIBERTY LOVING AMERICAN CITIZEN WHO HAS BEEN SMEARED AND RUINED BY SENATOR JOSEPH R. M'CARTHY. FROM ALL THE FRIGHTFUL REPORTS RECEIVED FROM WASHINGTON AND LONDON, AND PARIS, AND NEW DELHI, ABOUT THIS "TERRIBLE CHARACTER", THERE MUST BE ONE—JUST ONE—WHO HAS LOST EVERYTHING BEFORE SENATOR M'CARTHY.

ALL THAT IS DESIRED IS THE NAME OF ONE INNOCENT AMERICAN, WITHOUT ANY HISTORY OF COMMUNIST CONNECTIONS, WHO HAS NOT FALLEN OVER THE FIFTH AMENDMENT, WHO WAS NOT A MEMBER OF FRONT ASSOCIATIONS AND WHO WAS MINDING HIS OWN BUSINESS UNTIL POUNCED UPON, SMEARED AND DESTROYED BY SENATOR M'CARTHY.

The End Of The Republic

Many Americans who are giving the present governmental situation careful thought are seriously worried at the present turn of events concerning both the edicts passed by the Supreme Court and the Administration's attitude in the McCarthy-Pentagon affair. These two aspects, important as they are, are not so important as the basic policy and pattern of the American governmental change over a period of 40 years from that of a Republic to a centralized Federal Democracy.

In the beginning, the founders of the United States conceived what they imagined was a near perfect Republic. The Constitution of the fledgling nation was designed to insure the utmost freedom for each individual. The Federal Government was designed as a mere meeting house of the many states. Powers allotted the government were few.

The history of the evolution of government will clearly demonstrate the significant changes recorded in the United States, changes which have resulted in the emergence of a government entirely unlike that which was conceived by the early Americans. The first great usurping of individual rights of Americans came during the War for States' Rights (sometimes erroneously termed the "Civil War") The United States was put under strict military discipline by President Lincoln. In no manner of the word however, was the discipline ever so strict under Lincoln at any time during that conflict as is seen today in "peace" time.

Delving further into the history of the situation, the Marxian thinkers, gaining ground in Europe transmitted their thoughts to the United States in two swift maneuvers. In 1914, the "Income Tax amendment" was passed and two years later, Justice Brandeis was appointed to the Supreme Court. With Brandeis came the first major philosophy change to the American scheme of things. With the income tax amendment, came the greatest threat to the free, individualistic type of economy. The Amendment was passed with few of the Legislators realizing that such an amendment was one of the ten cardinal principles laid down by Karl Marx and Fredrech Engels as a method or a plan to collectivize a nation.

The first war swept away from Europe the previously existing order of government under the monarchies and inserted in their former positions, Marxian Socialist governments. Still, the United States was able to maintain its form of a Republican government. It was not until the emergence of Franklin Roosevelt and the New Deal that the entire apparatus was changed. The American people have been literally "brainwashed" as the new and vulgar term has it, for more than three decades. They have been propagandized into accepting their fate in a calm, doltish manner when fifty years ago, it is possible that legislators, attempting to pass laws which are taken as common events today, would have been recalled by their constituents and immediate action would have been taken against such an administration.

With Roosevelt came an influx of what has been erroneously termed "intellectuals." These people, imbued with a Messiah-like desire to radically change the government, captured the reins of government and immediately began the changes which today have destroyed the United States as a Republic. No longer does one even hear the word "Republic" mentioned. Today, it is termed a "Democracy." The United States cannot even be considered a "Democracy" as the meaning is described in a political science textbook. Instead, it is exactly what the Marxian planners have designed for the American people, a centralized, authoritarian, executive controlled nation. Norman Thomas, the Socialist, asserted that there was no necessity for he and his Socialists to run for election as the government had already swallowed all of the cardinal principles laid down by the Socialists as a necessity.

Today, the power of the Federal government is an awesome thing to behold. There is no single American who in some manner or other, is not affected by the Federal Government. The States themselves, put on the Federal dole, are powerless before the edicts of the central government. As they are severely taxed, they lose more and more of their power. Instead of the usual majority rule as helped make this nation great, minority groups with enormous financial power are able to change the entire way of life for millions upon millions of American people.

The American individual, swept into the center of the tide, is almost without power before the edicts of the government. In some cases, because an individual works hard, uses his resources day and night for a year and attempts to amass a sizable state of pecuniary stability for his family, his reward is the confiscation of 90 or more percent of his annual earnings. Americans, striving by all manner of means to keep their heads above the financial depths, are hauled before the Federal Courts as "Income Tax evaders" because many of them could not afford attorneys to figure out the maze of paper work required by the Federal government.

Other Americans, called by the politicians, "little men," and the "Common herd," see their weekly earnings slashed by taxes, the cash which is then sent to absolutely worthless and despicable "allies" who then use American money to supply the Communist dreadnaught. Before all of this, the individual American is powerless.

The amazing thing about it all is the idea that millions of Americans actually like it!

The mass migrations of millions upon millions of immigrants, holding different concepts of Government have indeed added to this change of philosophy.

Candidates for public office, many of them weak-kneed, craven individuals, strive to see how much they can promise the people while on the other hand, asserting that they will "cut taxes." Few if any politicians are bold enough to state in a platform that they would like to see the Republic restored, the budget balanced and a lessening of powers accorded the central government. If they run on such a platform, they immediately change their mannerisms upon reaching public office. Few Americans realize the state of affairs in which this government finds itself. Operated by a vacillating, weak and easily controlled administration at home, the foreign policy abroad is more than despicable.

As the last great fortress of freedom before the Marxian storm of the mob, the United States' last outposts are being surrendered and there are borings from within on a scale so large as to cause severe "cave ins".

On this Sunday morning late in May, the Morning World urges each reader to carefully consider his position as an American citizen. It is believed such an examination will reveal the loss of his Republic, the loss of his individualism and the emergence of the beginnings of the Marxian mobocracy.

Catahoula Parish

A haven for both fisherman and hunter is Catahoula Parish.

Termed as "the best inland fishing area in the United States", sportsmen from all over the nation journey to the northeast Louisiana parish to pursue their favorite pastimes and through this medium Catahoula has developed new means of bringing money into the parish. At the present time there are several projects being considered to improve fishing areas at Black River Lake and on Catahoula Lake.

The paramount need in Catahoula at the present time, both for the protection of her citizenry and development of the area, is adequate levee protection. About every three years disastrous floods strike Catahoula Parish and nearly each year there is a threatening ravage of water. Accurate figures show that in 1953, 225,000 of the parish's 468,480 acres of land were flooded at a total loss of $1,314,890. In 1945 the flood that swept the parish caused estimated damage of $1,540,000 with 350,000 acres flooded and 1,694 families affected by the swift waters. These figures do not include the number of cattle, including cows, horses and other animals, which were lost.

A combined force of the parish's citizenry is working and expresses solid backing of a levee to surround the entire parish. Through establishment of the ring levee they contend that thousands of additional acres could be put into cultivation and property values would greatly increase so as to attract industry.

Economy in the parish is based primarily on agriculture. Many rich farms can be found in Catahoula as well as productive dairy and beef cattle.

What To Watch Out For

From time to time, the Communist party line in the nation writhes and twists to meet the new edicts from headquarters in the Soviet Union. At present, there are ten major points desired by the Communists by which they hope to attain a successful end of the "cold war" against the United States. One must remember that the "cold war" did not start in 1946 or 1947, it has been going on ever since the 1917 bolshevik revolution. Perhaps, it has been going on ever since the publication of Marx' Communist Manifesto.

However, if the Communists, both underground and above ground can accomplish the following ten points, they will have reached a new pinnacle of success:

1—Promotion of "peace" with the U.S.S.R. at all costs.

2—A five power pact including the Red Chinese Regime.

3—Withdrawal of all U. S. troops from West Germany and other points and the end of any defensive alliance directed against the Soviet Union.

4—Admission of Communist China to the "U.N. Security Council."

5—Outlawing of the H-Bomb.

8—Elimination of the FBI.

10—Repeal of the Internal Security Act of 1950 (The McCarran-Walters act) and the Smith Act.

At this juncture, these are the ten major objectives which the Communists hope to attain.

'Oh Where: Oh Where Has He Been'

Late last week, the President announced that he was "worried" about the situation in Guatemala. How unfortunate for the Western Hemisphere that the President has so recently started to worry about this dagger in America's back.

This and other newspapers have repeatedly warned that the little "Banana Republic" was nothing short of a Communist state. Missionaries, businessmen, foreign diplomats and even State Department officials have warned that unless something is done, only trouble can be the result. The State Department has finally announced that the Communists are actually shipping guns and ammunition to Guatemala.

On September 8th of last year, the Morning World printed the following statement in an editorial:

"It has been known for some months, that the Communists have been in virtual control of the little nation, but during the last month, several important facts have come to light. The first one is this; the Communists have received large stores of ammunition, guns, heavy weapons, tanks and it is believed that there could be a few airplanes involved. The second fact is the news that in the industrial districts, the natives are in many cases fanatic Communists. The fruit companies are having more trouble than this government will allow them to tell."

Why, as far back as last year, did the Federal administration, in possession of these facts, not tell the American people of the existing situation? Why does it not now describe the growing airfields, the curious constructions along the coasts of both the Atlantic and the Pacific and why does it not invoke the Monroe Doctrine to protect both the interests of this nation and the other nations of the Hemisphere from Russian imperialism.

Think it over citizens of the Twin Cities. This little nation is but few flying hours as fly the modern jet bombers from your own doorsteps.

A complete reprint of the September 8th editorial will be published in the Monroe Morning World tomorrow morning. The situation has not radically changed in this expanse of time except that the Communists have cemented their foothold in the little nation.

Where has the President been?

It is said that he is worried.

If that is the case, there is always the Monroe Doctrine.

Supreme Court Decision

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

If we accept the warnings of ancient history as a criterion of things to come then the U. S. Supreme Court has made an improvident, degrading decision. It's a precursor of miscegenation, something the South has been trying to avoid all through these past years. This dispute was dragged before the Supreme Court by a triumvirate of agitators, Communists, and crooked politicians. The agitators are trying to hold their highly-paid jobs, the Communists, as always, are out for race riots, revolution and the politicians are after votes. The South had only one chance to plead its case.

As it now stands, the Supreme Court has placed the South at the mercy of these agitators, Communists and politicians. These three rebelrousers will see that the races are mingled, scrambled like an egg. As this is written, they are trying to enroll white people in colored schools all over the South. Our colored people don't want them.

More than two years ago the Daily Worker, Moscow's mouth organ, began shouting that segregation must end in the South. Why didn't the Justices of the Supreme Court awaken to the fact right then that Moscow was behind it all? Russia wants a revolution; that's her religion and if we start fighting here among ourselves, that's when Russia starts marching through Europe.

The South doesn't have to swallow this if all the Southern states will stand together. This same Court ruled against the tidelands but the South won after all. The eighteenth Amendment was a complete flasco. It was an injustice. This decision of the Supreme Court is an injustice, a national injustice, and a national injustice is the surest road to a national downfall.

More On A Decision

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The Supreme Court should recollect that it has had bad luck with its political decisions. The people of this country thus far have preferred to govern the country themselves and let the court attend to its law business. Has the law become nothing more than an ambiguous text, to be explained by their personal malice? There is not a word in the Constitution that gives the power of final interpretation to the judges rather than to the executive or legislative branches.

Sound Logic

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I wish to compliment and thank you. Your editorial in this morning's issue of the Morning World is the best, soundest, most logical and understandable treatise on the subject of states rights and segregation that I have read in many years. If all of our leaders were capable of using the same good sound logic that you express in your columns; we would have but little to fear as to the future of our well being. Again, may I say thank you.

Uninvited Insults

Bastrop, La.

Editor Morning World:

May I, through your paper, express my protest over Mayor John E. Coon of Monroe using his office as Mayor — even the official seal of the city — to designate a date as "Fight Night" in order to build up a large audience for "Blue Ribbon Bouts" over KNOE-TV.

This was then reproduced as a paid advertisement in a local paper. These uninvited insults are becoming more obnoxious and distasteful to good citizens.

I would include a protest of Mayor Webb's welcoming of a convention of Louisiana Municipal Association to Baton Rouge with a cocktail party, while President and Mrs. Eisenhower, Governor and Mrs. Kennon and others in high office set a commendable abstinance from beverage alcohol.

Postal Employees Seek Wage Increase

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I am writing to you because I know that the efficiency of the postal service and the welfare of postal employees play a vital role in your business.

During the last 15 years, Post Office employees have fallen farther and farther behind in the cost of living income race. Further, postal workers have not had an increase in pay in the last three years. The result has been that the Post Office employees have had their spendable income cut $781 a year below its 1939 level. That means that Post Office employees in Monroe have $781 less today to spend or some of your business friends, probably employ a post office employee as a part-time worker. Perhaps you are one of the businessmen to whom some postal workers are indebted.

The efficiency of the Postal Service is being imparied by their economic conditions. Experienced men with years of service are quitting in record numbers to seek work in other occupations because they cannot make ends meet at their Post Office jobs. That means new men must be hired and trained. This training costs money and takes effort away from the main job of the post office - handling mail as quickly and as efficiently as possible.

Because of their extreme need, post office employees are currently seeking legislation for a salary increase. That action is based upon the $781 a year loss in purchasing power and upon the increased productivity postal employees have on purchases in Monroe business-es.

Many of the employees have been trying to make up this lag in their income by taking on extra jobs and by having their wives work. And yet, the overwhelming majority of these employees have gone further and further into debt. You, brought about.

We should greatly appreciate your support in our battle for a living wage. If it is possible, please drop a note to Congressman Passman and Senators Long and Ellender telling them how you feel about the post office employees' wage increase.

NEWTON M. HORNE,
Legislative Chairman.

Right-To-Work Law

Girard, La.

Editor, Morning World:

It has been with mixed feelings that I have read over the past few weeks the letters in Public Forum, and the various paid advertisements concerning "Right to Work" Legislation.

In answer to a question that Mr. Jiles N. Davis raised in his letter that was printed on May 16, i.e. who are members of Farm Bureau? The membership of Farm Bureau is mostly made up of average farmers. Most of them do own their own small farm. Very few own over 100 acres, and practically all of the leadership, which on the local level is all voluntary and unpaid, are active farmers themselves.

We in Farm Bureau have long favored so called "right to work" legislation. Resolutions adopted in 1953 at both our state and national conventions were outspoken in favor of the right of every individual to work. If there is one fundamental of the American way of life that is more important than any of the others, it is the right of the individual to make a living.

The union shop denies the American worker this right. The Congress of the United States has recognized that the closed shop is slavery, and has outlawed it. We, as free people, and our senators and representatives in Congress and the legislature need to emphatically realize that the difference between the closed shop and the union shop is one of form only; they are the same in substance.

The "Right to Work" Laws as proposed will not outlaw labor unions in Louisiana. We in Farm Bureau would be most unworthy of Americanism if we proposed such a thing. Farm Bureau, itself, is nothing but a farmers' organized effort. However, our organization should be the same. Our strength of organization is maintained from year to year on a voluntary basis, and has grown steadily since its inception in 1919. It has done so, though, on a record of accomplishment.

Sixteen southern states now have right to work statutes on the books. Louisiana is the only southern state that hasn't passed such legislation.

JAMES F. PARRISH,
Richland Farm Bureau, Inc.

Again The Stock Law

Monroe, La.

Editor Morning World:

If you will notice, the advocates of the stock law give their reason for doing so as being that nearly all the wrecks on the highways of the country are caused by stock feeding on the shoulders of the highways and walking or crossing over the highways when cars are approaching. It seems the backers of this legislation would have you believe there would never be any accidents if it were not that stock were feeding along side of the highways. This is their argument which is not true. There are quite a lot of people in this state that live in the cities and they want this legislation, from a selfish standpoint; it being they do not have any stock of any kind and when they get out on the highways in their high speed cars they want to travel fast and do not want anything to bother them.

There could be other laws enacted into the law of the state that would do more good, if enforced, than this stock law. Do you have any idea how many people lose their lives in airplanes throughout the country daily? There is no live stock up in the air where the plane wrecks occur. There is no law that will keep planes from having wrecks. Most of those wrecks could be prevented. Most automobile wrecks are caused by drunken drivers.

The advocators of this law would have the farmer who has no grazing land sell his cattle and deprive his family of their benefits.

There are more wrecks in the city than the country and you know there are no cows, horses and hogs in a 10 mile radius of such wrecks. So you can't say that more wrecks are cuased by stock feeding on the side of the road.

Speeding is another cause of accidents. If our law enforcement officers will see to it and cut down this speeding we will cut down the wrecks and save many lives.

In 1914, the "Income Tax amendment" was passed and two years later, Justice Brandeis was appointed to the Supreme Court. With Brandeis came the first major philosophy change to the American scheme of things. With the income tax amendment, came the greatest threat to the free, individualistic type of economy. The Amendment was passed with few of the Legislators realizing that such an amendment was one of the ten cardinal principles laid down by Karl Marx and Fredrech Engels as a method or a plan to collectivize a nation.

The first war swept away from Europe the previously existing order of government under the monarchies and inserted in their former positions, Marxian Socialist governments. Still, the United States was able to maintain its form of a Republican government. It was not until the emergence of Franklin Roosevelt and the New Deal that the entire apparatus was changed. The American people have been literally "brainwashed" as the new and vulgar term has it, for more than three decades. They have been propagandized into accepting their fate in a calm, doltish manner when fifty years ago, it is possible that legislators, attempting to pass laws which are taken as common events today, would have been recalled by their constituents and immediate action would have been taken against such an administration.

With Roosevelt came an influx of what has been erroneously termed "intellectuals." These people, imbued with a Messiah-like desire to radically change the government, captured the reins of government and immediately began the changes which today have destroyed the United States as a Republic. No longer does one even hear the word "Republic" mentioned. Today, it is termed a "Democracy." The United States cannot even be considered a "Democracy" as the meaning is described in a political science textbook. Instead, it is exactly what the Marxian planners have designed for the American people, a centralized, authoritarian, executive controlled nation. Norman Thomas, the Socialist, asserted that there was no necessity for he and his Socialists to run for election as the government had already swallowed all of the cardinal principles laid down by the Socialists as a necessity.

Today, the power of the Federal government is an awesome thing to behold. There is no single American who in some manner or other, is not affected by the Federal Government. The States themselves, put on the Federal dole, are powerless before the edicts of the central government. As they are severely taxed, they lose more and more of their power. Instead of the usual majority rule as helped make this nation great, minority groups with enormous financial power are able to change the entire way of life for millions upon millions of American people.

The American individual, swept into the center of the tide, is almost without power before the edicts of the government. In some cases, because an individual works hard, uses his resources day and night for a year and attempts to amass a sizable state of pecuniary stability for his family, his reward is the confiscation of 90 or more percent of his annual earnings. Americans, striving by all manner of means to keep their heads above the financial depths, are hauled before the Federal Courts as "Income Tax evaders" because many of them could not afford attorneys to figure out the maze of paper work required by the Federal government.

Other Americans, called by the politicians, "little men," and the "Common herd," see their weekly earnings slashed by taxes, the cash which is then sent to absolutely worthless and despicable "allies" who then use American money to supply the Communist dreadnaught. Before all of this, the individual American is powerless.

The amazing thing about it all is the idea that millions of Americans actually like it!

The mass migrations of millions upon millions of immigrants, holding different concepts of Government have indeed added to this change of philosophy.

Candidates for public office, many of them weak-kneed, craven individuals, strive to see how much they can promise the people while on the other hand, asserting that they will "cut taxes." Few if any politicians are bold enough to state in a platform that they would like to see the Republic restored, the budget balanced and a lessening of powers accorded the central government. If they run on such a platform, they immediately change their mannerisms upon reaching public office. Few Americans realize the state of affairs in which this government finds itself. Operated by a vacillating, weak and easily controlled administration at home, the foreign policy abroad is more than despicable.

As the last great fortress of freedom before the Marxian storm of the mob, the United States' last outposts are being surrendered and there are borings from within on a scale so large as to cause severe "cave ins".

On this Sunday morning late in May, the Morning World urges each reader to carefully consider his position as an American citizen. It is believed such an examination will reveal the loss of his Republic, the loss of his individualism and the emergence of the beginnings of the Marxian mobocracy.

Catahoula Parish

A haven for both fisherman and hunter is Catahoula Parish.

Termed as "the best inland fishing area in the United States", sportsmen from all over the nation journey to the northeast Louisiana parish to pursue their favorite pastimes and through this medium Catahoula has developed new means of bringing money into the parish. At the present time there are several projects being considered to improve fishing areas at Black River Lake and on Catahoula Lake.

The paramount need in Catahoula at the present time, both for the protection of her citizenry and development of the area, is adequate levee protection. About every three years disastrous floods strike Catahoula Parish and nearly each year there is a threatening ravage of water. Accurate figures show that in 1953, 225,000 of the parish's 468,480 acres of land were flooded at a total loss of $1,314,890. In 1945 the flood that swept the parish caused estimated damage of $1,540,000 with 350,000 acres flooded and 1,694 families affected by the swift waters. These figures do not include the number of cattle, including cows, horses and other animals, which were lost.

A combined force of the parish's citizenry is working and expresses solid backing of a levee to surround the entire parish. Through establishment of the ring levee they contend that thousands of additional acres could be put into cultivation and property values would greatly increase so as to attract industry.

Economy in the parish is based primarily on agriculture. Many rich farms can be found in Catahoula as well as productive dairy and beef cattle.

What To Watch Out For

From time to time, the Communist party line in the nation writhes and twists to meet the new edicts from headquarters in the Soviet Union. At present, there are ten major points desired by the Communists by which they hope to attain a successful end of the "cold war" against the United States. One must remember that the "cold war" did not start in 1946 or 1947, it has been going on ever since the 1917 bolshevik revolution. Perhaps, it has been going on ever since the publication of Marx' Communist Manifesto.

However, if the Communists, both underground and above ground can accomplish the following ten points, they will have reached a new pinnacle of success:

1—Promotion of "peace" with the U.S.S.R. at all costs.

2—A five power pact including the Red Chinese Regime.

3—Withdrawal of all U. S. troops from West Germany and other points and the end of any defensive alliance directed against the Soviet Union.

4—Admission of Communist China to the "U.N. Security Council."

5—Outlawing of the H-Bomb.

8—Elimination of the FBI.

10—Repeal of the Internal Security Act of 1950 (The McCarran-Walters act) and the Smith Act.

At this juncture, these are the ten major objectives which the Communists hope to attain.

'Oh Where: Oh Where Has He Been'

Late last week, the President announced that he was "worried" about the situation in Guatemala. How unfortunate for the Western Hemisphere that the President has so recently started to worry about this dagger in America's back.

This and other newspapers have repeatedly warned that the little "Banana Republic" was nothing short of a Communist state. Missionaries, businessmen, foreign diplomats and even State Department officials have warned that unless something is done, only trouble can be the result. The State Department has finally announced that the Communists are actually shipping guns and ammunition to Guatemala.

On September 8th of last year, the Morning World printed the following statement in an editorial:

"It has been known for some months, that the Communists have been in virtual control of the little nation, but during the last month, several important facts have come to light. The first one is this; the Communists have received large stores of ammunition, guns, heavy weapons, tanks and it is believed that there could be a few airplanes involved. The second fact is the news that in the industrial districts, the natives are in many cases fanatic Communists. The fruit companies are having more trouble than this government will allow them to tell."

Why, as far back as last year, did the Federal administration, in possession of these facts, not tell the American people of the existing situation? Why does it not now describe the growing airfields, the curious constructions along the coasts of both the Atlantic and the Pacific and why does it not invoke the Monroe Doctrine to protect both the interests of this nation and the other nations of the Hemisphere from Russian imperialism.

Think it over citizens of the Twin Cities. This little nation is but few flying hours as fly the modern jet bombers from your own doorsteps.

A complete reprint of the September 8th editorial will be published in the Monroe Morning World tomorrow morning. The situation has not radically changed in this expanse of time except that the Communists have cemented their foothold in the little nation.

Where has the President been?

It is said that he is worried.

If that is the case, there is always the Monroe Doctrine.

Supreme Court Decision

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

If we accept the warnings of ancient history as a criterion of things to come then the U. S. Supreme Court has made an improvident, degrading decision. It's a precursor of miscegenation, something the South has been trying to avoid all through these past years. This dispute was dragged before the Supreme Court by a triumvirate of agitators, Communists, and crooked politicians. The agitators are trying to hold their highly-paid jobs, the Communists, as always, are out for race riots, revolution and the politicians are after votes. The South had only one chance to plead its case.

As it now stands, the Supreme Court has placed the South at the mercy of these agitators, Communists and politicians. These three rebelrousers will see that the races are mingled, scrambled like an egg. As this is written, they are trying to enroll white people in colored schools all over the South. Our colored people don't want them.

More than two years ago the Daily Worker, Moscow's mouth organ, began shouting that segregation must end in the South. Why didn't the Justices of the Supreme Court awaken to the fact right then that Moscow was behind it all? Russia wants a revolution; that's her religion and if we start fighting here among ourselves, that's when Russia starts marching through Europe.

The South doesn't have to swallow this if all the Southern states will stand together. This same Court ruled against the tidelands but the South won after all. The eighteenth Amendment was a complete fiasco. It was an injustice. This decision of the Supreme Court is an injustice, a national injustice, and a national injustice is the surest road to a national downfall.

More On A Decision

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The Supreme Court should recollect that it has had bad luck with its political decisions. The people of this country thus far have preferred to govern the country themselves and let the court attend to its law business. Has the law become nothing more than an ambiguous text, to be explained by their personal malice? There is not a word in the Constitution that gives the power of final interpretation to the judges rather than to the executive or legislative branches.

A Democrat's Lament

Downsville, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I have just read your editorial in the May 8th paper. I read all of your editorials, but I think this one is about the best. I hope all open minded people will read it and give it some serious thought. I am registered as a Democrat, but I can't digest all that stuff that has happened under the so-called past Democratic administrations.

Sound Logic

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I wish to compliment and thank you. Your editorial in this morning's issue of the Morning World is the best, soundest, most logical and understandable treatise on the subject of states rights and segregation that I have read in many years. If all of our leaders were capable of using the same good sound logic that you express in your columns; we would have but little to fear as to the future of our well being. Again, may I say thank you.

Uninvited Insults

Bastrop, La.

Editor Morning World:

May I, through your paper, express my protest over Mayor John E. Coon of Monroe using his office as Mayor — even the official seal of the city — to designate a date as "Fight Night" in order to build up a large audience for "Blue Ribbon Bouts" over KNOE-TV.

This was then reproduced as a paid advertisement in a local paper. These uninvited insults are becoming more obnoxious and distasteful to good citizens.

I would include a protest of Mayor Webb's welcoming of a convention of Louisiana Municipal Association to Baton Rouge with a cocktail party, while President and Mrs. Eisenhower, Governor and Mrs. Kennon and others in high office set a commendable abstinance from beverage alcohol.

Postal Employees Seek Wage Increase

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I am writing to you because I know that the efficiency of the postal service and the welfare of postal employees play a vital role in your business.

During the last 15 years, Post Office employees have fallen farther and farther behind in the cost of living income race. Further, postal workers have not had an increase in pay in the last three years. The result has been that the Post Office employees have had their spendable income cut $781 a year below its 1939 level. That means that Post Office employees in Monroe have $781 less today to spend or some of your business friends, probably employ a post office employee as a part-time worker. Perhaps you are one of the businessmen to whom some postal workers are indebted.

The efficiency of the Postal Service is being imparied by their economic conditions. Experienced men with years of service are quitting in record numbers to seek work in other occupations because they cannot make ends meet at their Post Office jobs. That means new men must be hired and trained. This training costs money and takes effort away from the main job of the post office - handling mail as quickly and as efficiently as possible.

Because of their extreme need, post office employees are currently seeking legislation for a salary increase. That action is based upon the $781 a year loss in purchasing power and upon the increased productivity postal employees have on purchases in Monroe business-

Many of the employees have been trying to make up this lag in their income by taking on extra jobs and by having their wives work. And yet, the overwhelming majority of these employees have gone further and further into debt. You, brought about.

We should greatly appreciate your support in our battle for a living wage. If it is possible, please drop a note to Congressman Passman and Senators Long and Ellender telling them how you feel about the post office employees' wage increase.

NEWTON M. HORNE,
Legislative Chairman.

Girard, La.

Editor, Morning World:

It has been with mixed feelings that I have read over the past few weeks the letters in Public Forum, and the various paid advertisements concerning "Right to Work" Legislation.

In answer to a question that Mr. Jiles N. Davis raised in his letter that was printed on May 16, i.e. who are members of Farm Bureau? The membership of Farm Bureau is mostly made up of average farmers. Most of them do own their own small farm. Very few own over 100 acres, and practically all of the leadership, which on the local level is all voluntary and unpaid, are active farmers themselves.

We in Farm Bureau have long favored so called "right to work" legislation. Resolutions adopted in 1953 at both our state and national conventions were outspoken in favor of the right of every individual to work. If there is one fundamental of the American way of life that is more important than any of the others, it is the right of the individual to make a living.

The union shop denies the American worker this right. The Congress of the United States has recognized that the closed shop is slavery, and has outlawed it. We, as free people, and our senators and representatives in Congress and the legislature need to emphatically realize that the difference between the closed shop and the union shop is one of form only; they are the same in substance.

The "Right to Work" Laws as proposed will not outlaw labor unions in Louisiana. We in Farm Bureau would be most unworthy of Americanism if we proposed such a thing. Farm Bureau, itself, is nothing but a farmers' organized effort. However, our organization should be the same. Our strength of organization is maintained from year to year on a voluntary basis, and has grown steadily since its inception in 1919. It has done so, though, on a record of accomplishment.

Sixteen southern states now have right to work statutes on the books. Louisiana is the only southern state that hasn't passed such legislation.

JAMES F. PARRISH,

Again The Stock Law

Monroe, La.

Editor Morning World:

If you will notice, the advocates of the stock law give their reason for doing so as being that nearly all the wrecks on the highways of the country are caused by stock feeding on the shoulders of the highways and walking or crossing over the highways when cars are approaching. It seems the backers of this legislation would have you believe there would never be any accidents if it were not that stock were feeding along side of the highways. This is their argument which is not true. There are quite a lot of people in this state that live in the cities and they want this legislation, from a selfish standpoint; it being they do not have any stock of any kind and when they get out on the highways in their high speed cars they want to travel fast and do not want anything to bother them.

There could be other laws enacted into the law of the state that would do more good, if enforced, than this stock law. Do you have any idea how many people lose their lives in airplanes throughout the country daily? There is no live stock up in the air where the plane wrecks occur. There is no law that will keep planes from having wrecks. Most of those wrecks could be prevented. Most automobile wrecks are caused by drunken drivers.

The advocators of this law would have the farmer who has no grazing land sell his cattle and deprive his family of their benefits.

There are more wrecks in the city than the country and you know there are no cows, horses and hogs in a 10 mile radius of such wrecks. So you can't say that more wrecks are cuased by stock feeding on the side of the road.

Speeding is another cause of accidents. If our law enforcement officers will see to it and cut down this speeding we will cut down the wrecks and save many lives.

I Live For God

MY LOVE belongs to God because . . . My life belongs to Him . . . However dark may be the sky . . . Or any star grow dim . . . It matters not what I may do . . . Or anywhere I go . . . As long as I am equal to . . . The sudden winds that blow . . . As long as I am faithful to . . . The promises I made . . . And in the conduct of my life . . . My soul is not afraid . . . I love my God with all my heart . . . And all I ever ask . . . Is just the courage and the strength . . . To carry out my task . . . To honor Him in every way . . . And raise my children right . . . And do the best I can to be . . . More worthy in His sight.

Jackson YMCA Secretary To Visit Monroe

Three laymen and the general secretary from Jackson, Miss., will attend the Y. M. C. A. membership roundup report meeting Monday at 6:15 p. m. at the Barn, 305 Coleman Ave., West Monroe. A large crowd is expected to attend the meeting which will be the second report for the membership roundup. All indications point to an excellent report from all riders Monday night.

The visitors include Earle M. Jones, president of the board of directors of the Jackson Central YMCA, Zach Taylor, Jr., member of the board of directors and chairman of the membership committee, Shelby Rogers, secretary of the board of the Jackson YMCA, and vice - president of the southern area council of YMCA's, and Neil Barfield, general secretary of the Jackson YMCA. Each of the prominent guests will speak three minutes concerning different phases of YMCA work. Zach Taylor's presentation will concern YMCA membership, Shelby Roger's topic will be national trends in YMCA work, Earle Jones' topic will be Board Work and Financing, and Neal Barfield will speak concerning General Program activities.

Every person interested in the YMCA here in the Twin Cities is urged to attend this report meeting. The meal is complimentary and the Ouachita Ramblers and Wranglers Shell and Armstrong will furnish the entertainment. Lots of fun and fellowship will be available for all. Everyone in attendance is urged to dress informally to lend to the spirit of the occasion.

Dr. Roy "Houn' Dawg" Robertson is Ranch Boss for the Roundup and is assisted by John "Tex" Mullens and Dr. William "Fireball" Bendel, who are serving as ranch straw bosses. In addition to these top men there are 25 workers participating in the Roundup. Dr. Robertson urges every citizen of the Twin Cities who has not yet joined the YMCA to affiliate themselves this final week of the roundup.

An important meeting of the Twin Cities YMCA board of directors will be held at the conclusion of the report meeting. All board members are urged to make a special effort to attend.

Gerald Anderson To Head Group

HARRISONBURG, May 22 (Special) — Gerald Anderson was elected new president of the Harrisonburg High school F. F. A. chapter in a meeting here recently.

Other officers named for next year were Henry Havard, vice-president; Leland Wiley, treasurer; J. D. Alexander, secretary, and Sidney Lanier, reporter.

Delegates elected to attend the national convention in Kansas City were Gerald Anderson and Billy Ray Johnson. Henry Havard and Clendon Hutchins were picked as alternates.

Buster Womack and Billy Ray Johnson were previously named as delegates to the state convention which will be held at Louisiana Tech in Ruston May 31 through May 4.

Perez To Blast Court's Ruling On Segregation

BATON ROUGE, La. May 22 (Special)—Leander Perez, Plaquemine parish district attorney and powerful political force in Louisiana, said he would tell the nation that the U. S. Supreme Court is "not going to shove non-segregation down our throats."

Perez, scheduled to appear on a national (Mutual) radio discussion of the supreme court ruling to eliminate segregation, said that "come hell and high water we will maintain separate free public schools for both races (Negro and white)."

Lambasting the court ruling in a telephone interview, Perez accused the Supreme Court of lending itself to "damnable N.A.A.C.P. policy." He said that "most of the Negroes are satisfied, but some are incited through agitation inspired by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People."

"Since 1883," Perez said, "The Supreme Court has consistently held, in several cases, that the states have the constitutional right to adopt a policy of segregation of races in public schools, conditioned only upon equal rights and facilities. . . ."

"Now comes this supreme court (in the recent ruling) in violation of the rights of the states and attempts by an arbritary, political ruling to violate constitutional rights of the states," Perez declared.

"Ours must be preserved as a government of law as against political judges if we are to remain a free people," the 25th district attorney said.

Perez said he would participate in a nationally broadcast discussion on segregation at Sea Island, Ga. He said Georgia Lt. Gov. Marvin Griffin would also be on the program to support Gov. Herman Talmadge's plan for abolishing the public school system of Georgia if non-segregation is made mandatory.

Perez, who is a fiery advocate of states' rights, said he would not prepare notes in advance of his appearance on the broadcast. "It's part of me and I don't need to prepare a speech — I'll speak straight from the shoulder," he declared.

"You can call me the fighting district attorney — defender of the people," Perez told a reporter.

The broadcast will be transcribed in Sea Island Sunday night for delayed presentation Wednesday night at 9:30 (KLIC in Monroe) on a program called "Sounding Board," conducted by Christopher King.

Graduation Is Set For St. Matthews

The baccalaureate services for St. Matthew's High School will be held Sunday at the 9 o'clock Mass. The Rev. Joseph Susi, acting pastor in the absence of Monsignor J. C. Marsh, will officiate at the Holy Mass which will inaugurate the commencement exercises.

Rev. Dennis Curren, of the Maryhill Seminary faculty, former assistant pastor of St. Matthew's, will give the sermon to the graduates. He will take "The Traveller" as the theme of his address, which was written by Oliver Goldsmith.

On Friday night at 8 o'clock the graduating exercises will be held. Rev. Marvin Bordelon will address the class. The public is cordially invited.

45 Patients In Home Evacuated

ALEXANDRIA, La., May 21 (AP) Forty-five aged patients of a nursing home were evacuated today when fire destroyed the adjoining house of the owner, Mrs. Ben Baker.

Mrs. Baker and members of her staff of the nursing home at nearby Wardville removed the patients, carrying the ones unable to walk.

Firemen from neighboring towns fought the flames for more than three hours and were able to keep them from spreading to the rambling ward buildings.

Reports On Powerful Atomic Striking Force

WASHINGTON, May 21 —(UP)— Gen. Curtis E. LeMay said Friday the Air Force has assembled an "instant" atomic striking force that neither bad weather nor Communist air defenses can stop.

LeMay's report on the potency of his Strategic Air Command was given at an armed forces chemical association symposium which also heard the latest developments in land and sea defense.

Talks by LeMay and other defense leaders produced these highlights:

1. Russia now has more than 400 submarines, more than double the undersea strength of the U. S. Navy.

2. Air Force atomic bombers can take off in any kind of weather, fly direct to any spot on the globe and "destroy any targets we may have to go after."

3. Automatic alarm systems to warn of the presence of deadly nerve gas can be produced "when and if required," but at large expense.

4. A relatively cheap mask has been developed for "primary protection" against CBR (Chemical-biological-radiological) attacks, 8,000 of which have been ordered for the Civil Defense Administration.

5. Atomic power plants, now in the research stage, will revolutionize air war and air transport to a far greater degree than the jet engine.

Warning that "chaos" would result from sneak submarine attacks on U. S. harbors, Schindler said "we know that the Russians have over 400 submarines which will be utilized to the maximum extent possible." The U. S. Navy has about 47 submarines.

Clark School Will Graduate Class Of 120

J. S. Clark elementary school will hold its commencement exercises on Tuesday, May 25, at 8:00 p.m. in the school auditorium. This years' class has 124 young people who will be entering the junior high school next year.

Principal B. D. Robinson and faculty extend an invitation to the public to be present. Mrs. Velma Adams, supervisor of Morehouse Parish Schools, will be the commencement speaker.

The principal also wishes to announce that the testimonial program for Miss Gettie A. Willis who is retiring this year will be held on Friday night, May 28, at 8:00 p.m. in the school auditorium. Everyone is invited.

Jackson YMCA Secretary To Visit Monroe

Three laymen and the general secretary from Jackson, Miss., will attend the Y. M. C. A. membership roundup report meeting Monday at 6:15 p. m. at the Barn, 305 Coleman Ave., West Monroe. A large crowd is expected to attend the meeting which will be the second report for the membership roundup. All indications point to an excellent report from all riders Monday night.

The visitors include Earle M. Jones, president of the board of directors of the Jackson Central YMCA, Zach Taylor, Jr., member of the board of directors and chairman of the membership committee, Shelby Rogers, secretary of the board of the Jackson YMCA, and vice - president of the southern area council of YMCA's, and Neil Barfield, general secretary of the Jackson YMCA. Each of the prominent guests will speak three minutes concerning different phases of YMCA work. Zach Taylor's presentation will concern YMCA membership, Shelby Roger's topic will be national trends in YMCA work, Earle Jones' topic will be Board Work and Financing, and Neal Barfield will speak concerning General Program activities.

Every person interested in the YMCA here in the Twin Cities is urged to attend this report meeting. The meal is complimentary and the Ouachita Ramblers and Wrangiers Shell and Armstrong will furnish the entertainment. Lots of fun and fellowship will be available for all. Everyone in attendance is urged to dress informally to lend to the spirit of the occasion.

Dr. Roy "Houn' Dawg" Robertson is Ranch Boss for the Roundup and is assisted by John "Tex" Mullens and Dr. William "Fireball" Bendel, who are serving as ranch straw bosses. In addition to these top men there are 25 workers participating in the Roundup. Dr. Robertson urges every citizen of the Twin Cities who has not yet joined the YMCA to affiliate themselves this final week of the roundup.

An important meeting of the Twin Cities YMCA board of directors will be held at the conclusion of the report meeting. All board members are urged to make a special effort to attend.

Gerald Anderson To Head Group

Other officers named for next year were Henry Havard, vice-president; Leland Wiley, treasurer; J. D. Alexander, secretary, and Sidney Lanier, reporter.

Delegates elected to attend the national convention in Kansas City were Gerald Anderson and Billy Ray Johnson. Henry Havard and Clendon Hutchins were picked as alternates.

Buster Womack and Billy Ray Johnson were previously named as delegates to the state convention which will be held at Louisiana Tech in Ruston May 31 through May 4.

Perez To Blast Court's Ruling On Segregation

BATON ROUGE, La. May 22 (Special)—Leander Perez, Plaquemine parish district attorney and powerful political force in Louisiana, said he would tell the nation that the U. S. Supreme Court is "not going to shove non-segregation down our throats."

Perez, scheduled to appear on a national (Mutual) radio discussion of the supreme court ruling to eliminate segregation, said that "come hell and high water we will maintain separate free public schools for both races (Negro and white)."

Lambasting the court ruling in a telephone interview, Perez accused the Supreme Court of lending itself to "damnable N.A.A.C.P. policy." He said that "most of the Negroes are satisfied, but some are incited through agitation inspired by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People."

"Since 1883," Perez said, "The Supreme Court has consistently held, in several cases, that the states have the constitutional right to adopt a policy of segregation of races in public schools, conditioned only upon equal rights and facilities. . . ."

"Now comes this supreme court (in the recent ruling) in violation of the rights of the states and attempts by an arbritary, political ruling to violate constitutional rights of the states," Perez declared.

"Ours must be preserved as a government of law as against political judges if we are to remain a free people," the 25th district attorney said.

Perez said he would participate in a nationally broadcast discussion on segregation at Sea Island, Ga. He said Georgia Lt. Gov. Marvin Griffin would also be on the program to support Gov. Herman Talmadge's plan for abolishing the public school system of Georgia if non-segregation is made mandatory.

Perez, who is a fiery advocate of states' rights, said he would not prepare notes in advance of his appearance on the broadcast. "It's part of me and I don't need to prepare a speech — I'll speak straight from the shoulder," he declared.

"You can call me the fighting district attorney — defender of the people," Perez told a reporter.

The broadcast will be transcribed in Sea Island Sunday night for delayed presentation Wednesday night at 9:30 (KLIC in Monroe) on a program called "Sounding Board," conducted by Christopher King.

Graduation Is Set For St. Matthews

The baccalaureate services for St. Matthew's High School will be held Sunday at the 9 o'clock Mass. The Rev. Joseph Susi, acting pastor in the absence of Monsignor J. C. Marsh, will officiate at the Holy Mass which will inaugurate the commencement exercises.

Rev. Dennis Curren, of the Maryhill Seminary faculty, former assistant pastor of St. Matthew's, will give the sermon to the graduates. He will take "The Traveller" as the theme of his address, which was written by Oliver Goldsmith.

On Friday night at 8 o'clock the graduating exercises will be held. Rev. Marvin Bordelon will address the class. The public is cordially invited.

45 Patients In Home Evacuated

ALEXANDRIA, La., May 21 (AP) — Forty-five aged patients of a nursing home were evacuated today when fire destroyed the adjoining house of the owner, Mrs. Ben Baker.

Mrs. Baker and members of her staff of the nursing home at nearby Wardville removed the patients, carrying the ones unable to walk.

Firemen from neighboring towns fought the flames for more than three hours and were able to keep them from spreading to the rambling ward buildings.

Reports On Powerful Atomic Striking Force

WASHINGTON, May 21 —UP— Gen. Curtis E. LeMay said Friday the Air Force has assembled an "instant" atomic striking force that neither bad weather nor Communist air defenses can stop.

LeMay's report on the potency of his Strategic Air Command was given at an armed forces chemical association symposium which also heard the latest developments in land and sea defense.

Talks by LeMay and other defense leaders produced these highlights:

1. Russia now has more than 400 submarines, more than double the undersea strength of the U.S. Navy.

2. Air Force atomic bombers can take off in any kind of weather, fly direct to any spot on the globe and "destroy any targets we may have to go after."

3. Automatic alarm systems to warn of the presence of deadly never gas can be produced "when and if required," but at large expense.

4. A relatively cheap mask has been developed for "primary protection" against CBR (Chemical-biological-radiological) attacks, 8,000 of which have been ordered for the Civil Defense Administration.

5. Atomic power plants, now in the research stage, will revolutionize air war and air transport to a far greater degree than the jet engine.

Warning that "chaos" would result from sneak submarine attacks in U. S. harbors, Schindler said "we know that the Russians have over 400 submarines which will be utilized to the maximum extent possible." The U. S. Navy has about 17 submarines.

Clark School Will Graduate Class Of 120

J. S. Clark elementary school will hold its commencement exercises on Tuesday, May 25, at 8:00 p.m. in the school auditorium. This years' class has 124 young people who will be entering the junior high school next year.

Principal B. D. Robinson and faculty extend an invitation to the public to be present. Mrs. Velma Adams, supervisor of Morehouse Parish Schools, will be the commencement speaker.

The principal also wishes to announce that the testimonial program for Miss Gettie A. Willis who is retiring this year will be held on Friday night, May 28, at 8:00 p.m. in the school auditorium. Everyone is invited.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

The "Hit of the Year," the riotous comedy of this or any other season, "The Bees and The Flowers," has brought us to the end of an excellent season in Little Theatre.

Today "Curtain Call" bids farewell to all the Little Theatre goers and readers who have followed in these columns the trials, tirbulations and triumphs of the Little Theatre for the past year. A worthwhile year has gone by and our hard - working director, Thom Feuerstein, will return to us for the new season of 1954-55, which is anticipated with enthusiasm by the hundred odd people who worked closely with him on the five productions for the past season. Even greater expectations for the coming year ease the reluctance to shut up shop for vacation time.

To set the records straight and clear the Little Theatre note book for this year . . . We'd like to pass out some well deserved "Orchids" to Nita Brinson, who did the stage make-up for the last three productions. It was a big job which Nita Brinson did expertly . . . Little Theatre leading lady Roberta Guion sails for Europe about the middle of June. She has accepted a position as librarian with the army air force and will be stationed in the French zone of occupied Germany for the next two years. Roberta is a favorite in Little Theatre for her outstanding performances in "The Hasty Heart," "The Play's The Thing," "The Man," and "Craig's Wife," as well as many others.

We are also losing pretty Merlyn Watkins, Neville High student, who appeared in "Out of the Frying Pan," and "Craig's Wife." She and her family will move to Orlando, Fla., in June. Merlyn is not so sure she is going to be happy about leaving Monroe and we think the Monroe Little Theatre has a lot to do with her sadness at departing.

A card from Jerry Holzman in San Antonio. He didn't get to work on the San Antonio Little Theatre production of "Paint Your Wagon," as he anticipated. His new job wouldn't permit. He appeared on our stage this year in the opening comedy "Heaven Can Wait" and also worked as assistant to the director on one play.

Remember Johnile Curry Johnson's first novel, "Sunspur," which we reviewed for the News-Star—World in April? Famous southern author Harnett Kane, who said of it "warm, fresh - spirited, done with skill and sincerity — " has asked to do a review on the book and it will appear in New Orleans, La., Beaumont, Texas and Carolina newspapers. That is a heart-warming compliment to an author and her first book. Author Harnett Kane will leave for another European tour in early summer and his next book "Spies for the Blue and Gray" will be published by Double Day next October 4 . . .

LITTLE THEATRE SKETCH

DARRELL SMITH . . . who made his first appearance with Little Theatre in the role of Tom for "The Bees and the Flowers," is the Selman Field Playhouse's fourth commuter in the past four years. He came every night from Fairbanks for rehearsals and for the six nights of production.

Darrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd T. Smith and was born in Monroe. He completes the 11th grade at Ouachita Parish High School this spring, where he is a member of the drama club and the library club. He appeared in the high school play, "Why I Am A Bachelor." His outside interests turn to photography, stamp collecting, hunting and fishing. He plans to attend college when he graduates with the class of 1955.

National Affairs Conference To Be Held Wednesday

A national affairs area conference will be held in Monroe on Wednesday, June 9, under the sponsorship of the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce and the United States Chamber of Commerce. Guest speakers will be brought in from throughout the district.

The conference, which will feature two leaders in the field, will be held at the Virginia Hotel, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Slated to discuss "Government and Business in a Changing Economy" will be Dr. George Cline Smith, assistant vice-president and economist for the F. W. Dodge Corporation, New York City. Lester G. Flesner, manager of the Houston district of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, will talk on the "Analysis of Major Legislative Issues."

A forum discussion, lead by James G. Roberts, manager of the southwest district of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, will have for its topic "How Can Business Leadership Assist in Solving the Problems Facing Congress."

Recognition Made To Monroe Boy

Bruce Elton Facundus, of Monroe, was one of five students recognized as having an outstanding recording during his course of study. The award was made by the C. V. Mosby Publishing Co.

Hubert Clayton Owen, of Newellton, received the Alpha Kappa Kappa award as the graduating senior who by unselfish activity and positive accomplishment had done the most to elevate the professional standards of his class.

City Court

• Monroe

The following cases were disposed of yesterday in Monroe City Court by Judge W. M. Harper:

Glenn Whitton, Sterlington, fined $5 or five days in jail on a speeding charge.

Bessie Burton Tatum, Negro, 611 Moore (Lamyville), forfeited $25 bond on a charge of distrubing the peace.

Paul Witt, Earle Hotel, fined $15 or seven days on a public drunkenness charge.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

The "Hit of the Year," the riotous comedy of this or any other season, "The Bees and The Flowers," has brought us to the end of an excellent season in Little Theatre.

Today "Curtain Call" bids farewell to all the Little Theatre goers and readers who have followed in these columns the trials, tirbulations and triumphs of the Little Theatre for the past year. A worthwhile year has gone by and our hard - working director, Thom Feuerstein, will return to us for the new season of 1954-55, which is anticipated with enthusiasm by the hundred odd people who worked closely with him on the five productions for the past season. Even greater expectations for the coming year ease the reluctance to shut up shop for vacation time.

To set the records straight and clear the Little Theatre note book for this year . . . We'd like to pass out some well deserved "Orchids" to Nita Brinson, who did the stage make-up for the last three productions. It was a big job which Nita Brinson did expertly . . . Little Theatre leading lady Roberta Guion sails for Europe about the middle of June. She has accepted a position as librarian with the army air force and will be stationed in the French zone of occupied Germany for the next two years. Roberta is a favorite in Little Theatre for her outstanding performances in "The Hasty Heart," "The Play's The Thing," "The Man," and "Craig's Wife," as well as many others.

We are also losing pretty Merlyn Watkins, Neville High student, who appeared in "Out of the Frying Pan," and "Craig's Wife." She and her family will move to Orlando, Fla., in June. Merlyn is not so sure she is going to be happy about leaving Monroe and we think the Monroe Little Theatre has a lot to do with her sadness at departing.

A card from Jerry Holzman in San Antonio. He didn't get to work on the San Antonio Little Theatre production of "Paint Your Wagon," as he anticipated. His new job wouldn't permit. He appeared on our stage this year in the opening comedy "Heaven Can Wait" and also worked as assistant to the director on one play.

Remember Johnile Curry Johnson's first novel, "Sunspur," which we reviewed for the News-Star—World in April? Famous southern author Harnett Kane, who said of it "warm, fresh - spirited, done with skill and sincerity — " has asked to do a review on the book and it will appear in New Orleans, La., Beaumont, Texas and Carolina newspapers. That is a heart-warming compliment to an author and her first book. Author Harnett Kane will leave for another European tour in early summer and his next book "Spies for the Blue and Gray" will be published by Double Day next October 4 . . .

LITTLE THEATRE SKETCH

DARRELL SMITH . . . who made his first appearance with Little Theatre in the role of Tom for "The Bees and the Flowers," is the Selman Field Playhouse's fourth commuter in the past four years. He came every night from Fairbanks for rehearsals and for the six nights of production.

Darrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd T. Smith and was born in Monroe. He completes the 11th grade at Ouachita Parish High School this spring, where he is a member of the drama club and the library club. He appeared in the high school play, "Why I Am A Bachelor." His outside interests turn to photography, stamp collecting, hunting and fishing. He plans to attend college when he graduates with the class of 1955.

National Affairs Conference To Be Held Wednesday

A national affairs area conference will be held in Monroe on Wednesday, June 9, under the sponsorship of the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce and the United States Chamber of Commerce. Guest speakers will be brought in from throughout the district.

The conference, which will feature two leaders in the field, will be held at the Virginia Hotel, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Slated to discuss "Government and Business in a Changing Economy" will be Dr. George Cline Smith, assistant vice-president and economist for the F. W. Dodge Corporation, New York City. Lester G. Fiesner, manager of the Houston district of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, will talk on the "Analysis of Major Legislative Issues."

A forum discussion, lead by James G. Roberts, manager of the southwest district of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, will have for its topic "How Can Business Leadership Assist in Solving the Problems Facing Congress."

Recognition Made To Monroe Boy

Bruce Elton Facundus, of Monroe, was one of five students recognized as having an outstanding recording during his course of study. The award was made by the C. N. Mosby Publishing Co.

Hubert Clayton Owen, of Newellton, received the Alpha Kappa Kappa award as the graduating senior who by unselfish activity and positive accomplishment had done the most to elevate the professional standards of his class.

Meeting Of Small Hotel Assoc. May 29

The annual smaller hotels meeting of the Louisiana Hotel Association will be held at Hotel Bentley in Alexandria Saturday, according to an announcement by Ray Cantrell, of New Orleans, president of the association.

Scheduled to address the group are the following executives: Coleman J. Hudson, whose subject will be "Your Place in the Community;" W. A. Pellerin, of New Orleans, "Modern Laundry Machinery Cuts Costs;" Eugene Patout, of New Iberia, "Do's and Don'ts in Food Operation;" Tom Shumate, of Houston, "Why the AHA Credit Card;" Seymour Weiss, of New Orleans, "The Family Rate Plan;" Mrs. Margie Moore, of Alexandria, "Organized Housekeeping."

Immediately following the discussions there will be a film presentation entitled "Inside the American Hotel Association" which will give the members an insight on just what services are available to them through their membership in the American Hotel Association.

Members of the committee who have planned the meeting are: Mrs. Yvonne Southwell, chairman of the smaller hotels committee; W. W. Hutchison, Jr., of Franklin, vice - echairman; Marie Wolters, of Hammond; M. E. Wasson, Shreveport; Fred Kalil, Jr., Monroe; Rene Dutruch, New Orleans; and Murray Bean, of Alexandria.

It is anticipated that there will be approximately 50 operators from within the state in attendance. Lawrence Hulin, of Monroe, has announced that he will attend the session.

Russia Has 400 Subs, U. S. Navy Estimates

WASHINGTON, May 21 —UP— The Navy said Friday Russia now has more than 400 submarines — at least 50 more than the Navy estimated a week ago. The U. S. Navy has about 170 subs.

NURSES' RECRUITMENT WEEK — Shown here are five persons who are taking an active part in the drive to recruit practical nurses for training which is being sponsored by the Ouachita Valley Vocation School during the week of May 23 to May 29. Seated, left to right, are S. W. Jackson, director of the Ouachita Valley Vocational School, and Mother Gertrude, administrator of St. Francis Sanitarium. Standing, left to right, are Mrs. Jimmie Blasengame, clinical instructor for the practical nurse program at the vocational school; Mrs. Esther Bowman, theoretical instructor for the practical nurse program; and Mrs. Ormi Mancillas, also a theoretical instructor.

Practical Nurse Recruiting Week Is Proclaimed

A proclamation setting May 23 through May 29 as Student Practical Nurse Recruitment Week in the Twin Cities has been issued by Mayors John E. Coon of Monroe and J. Allan Norris of West Monroe.

The recruitment week is being sponsored by the Ouachita Valley Vocational School in order to fill the demand for trained nurses which continues to be on the increase.

According to the vocation school, practical nurses are needed to take over the routine jobs which skilled professional nurses no longer have the time nor the manpower to do.

Today there are 103 programs conducted under vocational education auspices in the United States and the majority of the remainder of the total 179 organized training programs is conducted in hospitals, the school here said.

Some 15,000 to 50,000 practical nurses are estimated to be needed in the immediate future, and at present there is an urgent need for more acceptable programs for the training of the practical nurse.

5-Power Military Talks Arranged On Southeast Asia

WASHINGTON, May 22 —UP— Representatives of the United States and four other nations, including Britain, are expected to meet here next week for military talks on stopping Communism in southeast Asia, reliable sources said Friday.

Simultaneously, New Zealand's minister of external affairs, T. Clifton Webb, said his country wants a southeast Asian anti-Communist alliance set up as soon as possible. He said he believes firmly Britain will join despite its present reluctance.

Webb said he did not get the "impression," in recent talks with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, that Britain and the United States have any "basic disagreement" on "the course of action that should be followed" in southeast Asia.

Australia called several days ago for military talks with the United States, France, Britain and New Zealand on the military framework for this country's proposed anti-Communist Asian alliance.

The number one task of the conference, however, was said to be a survey of available allied military power and the prospects for halting the Communist advance—either in Indo-China or elsewhere in southeast Asia.

Reliable sources said the British —who have not yet decided whether to join the proposed alliance— are willing to participate in the military conference because any decisions will not be binding.

The sources said Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, is believed to have a plan ready for consideration for immediate direct intervention in Indo-China.

Informed quarters said the five nations have not yet decided what "level" of their representatives should attend the meeting. It could be chiefs of staff, experts of the five nations from the far East, or their military representatives here.

The composition of the conference would have a bearing on the authority of its recommendations.

Webb, who has conferred here with President Eisenhower, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and other U. S. officials, said in a statement before departing Friday that his country is "vitally concerned" with threatened Red aggression in southeast Asia.

Rider Injured As Cycle Hits Truck

According to police, Bell suffered a head laceration and an injury to his leg. He was taken to the Wright-Bendel clinic by Mulhearn funeral home ambulance for treatment.

Police said Bell was injured when his motorcycle collided with an automobile driven by L. F. Krogmire, 73, Earle Hotel, at about 6:05 a.m. Saturday.

Seven Members Of One Family Alumni Of Tech

RUSTON, May 22. (Special)—When Patrick W. Baker, of Crowville, receives his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering at Louisiana Tech on May 28, his family will have established a record of having the largest number of students to graduate in engineering at the college.

He will be the seventh of seven brothers and sisters to earn Tech diplomas.

Other families have had more than seven graduates here, but the Bakers are the first to have five engineering graduates.

The oldest brother, William R., entered Tech in 1936 and since that time there has been only one year in which a member of the family has not been enrolled here. That was in the 1944-45 session.

To keep the family even more a Tech family, four of the sons and one daughter of Mrs. W. R. Baker, Sr., and the late Mr. Baker married graduates of the college here.

William R., bachelor of science in civil engineering, 1939; John B., bachelor of science in mechanical engineering and bachelor of science in electrical engineering, 1941; Glenn C., bachelor of science in mechanical engineering, 1944; Wallace S., bachelor of science in mechanical engineering, 1948; E. D., bachelor of science in liberal arts, 1949; Ella Margaret, bachelor of arts in education, 1950; and Patrick W., a candidate for bachelor of science in mechanical engineering, 1954.

To Register In Summer School Monday, May 31

Registration for the summer session of Ouachita Parish School, both high and elementary, will begin at 9:00 a. m. Monday, May 31, in the high school auditorium.

Classes will be held from 7:30 a. m. until 12:50 p. m. daily, Monday through Friday. The closing date has been set for July 30.

High school students may take a maximum of three one-half units of new work or four one-half units of repeated subjects. Courses offered include first and second year algebra, plane geometry, advanced arithmetic, English I-IV, civics, world history and American history. All elementary courses will be taught.

Mrs. Sara Hollingsworth has charge of the high school division, Mrs. Sarah Yates of the upper elementary, and Mrs. Gertrude Mitchell of the lower elementary.

Teacher To Retire After 34 Years

WINNSBORO, May 22 (Special) —Mrs. Pearl Butler, second-grade teacher of Winnsboro High School, will retire next Friday with the closing of the 1953-1954 school year, after a teaching career of 34 years.

Mrs. Butler will be entertained by the Winnsboro High school faculty with a tea in her honor on Tuesday afternoon, May 25, from 3:30 until 5:00 o'clock in the Home Economics cottage. Former students and friends of Mrs. Butler are extended a cordial invitation to the farewell tea.

"I've enjoyed teaching from the very beginning," Mrs. Butler said, in reviewing her career. "It's been very satisfactory work."

One of a class of ten, Mrs. Butler graduated from Winnsboro High school in 1904 at a time when ten grades were the greatest number offered. She then attended Louisiana State Normal school in Natchitoches for the then maximum two years. The diploma she received from Louisiana State Normal is genuine sheepskin.

Mrs. Butler's teaching career began in the three-room frame-building Gilbert School, where she taught the first, second and third grade pupils. She was on Gilbert's faculty of three for three years.

Married to the late Hansford R. Butler in 1914, Mrs. Butler resigned her teaching position in 1916. Four children were born of this marriage: Elmer, now of Shreveport with the Tennessee Gas Transmission Company; Ray, with the Standard Oil Company in Baton Rouge; Barbara, who is now teaching in Lake Charles, and Addie, who is now Mrs. Dwight Mac Curdy of Atascadero, Calif. Both boys graduated from Louisiana Tech and the girls from Louisiana State Normal College (now Northwestern State College).

Following the death of her husband in 1930, Mrs. Butler resumed teaching, this time at the Oak Grove Elementary School in Franklin parish. After three years at this school, Mrs. Butler came to Winnsboro High School where she has taught the second grade ever since.

When asked what she planned to do with her time after so many years of purposeful work, Mrs. Butler said, "I've always wanted to travel in a season of the year other than summer. If this ambition can't be fulfilled, I'll be content to sit at home and rock. Time will take care of itself."

Registration For Summer To Start At School

Summer school for the grades through as far as sixth will be conducted in Central Grammar School.

Registration will be started in the principal's office at Central Grammar Friday June 4 from 8 to noon. Classes start Monday June 7 at 8:30 a.m.

Williams To Get Honorary Degree

James S. Williams, executive secretary of the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce will be awarded on honorary state farmer degree at the annual convention of the Louisiana Association of Future Farmers of America, slated to be held at Louisiana Tech on June 2. The notification that he has been selected was sent to Williams in letters from W. J. Parent, state supervisor of vocational agricultural education, and A. Delmer Walker, executive-secretary of the Louisiana Association of Future Farmers of America.

The degree is the highest honor the FFA can bestow upon anyone and is given each year to some persons, whom the group feels made the most worthwhile contribution to FFA work.

Practical Nurse Recruiting Week Is Proclaimed

A proclamation setting May 23 through May 29 as Student Practical Nurse Recruitment Week in the Twin Cities has been issued by Mayors John E. Coon of Monroe and J. Allan Norris of West Monroe.

The recruitment week is being sponsored by the Ouachita Valley Vocational School in order to fill the demand for trained nurses which continues to be on the increase.

According to the vocation school, practical nurses are needed to take over the routine jobs which skilled professional nurses no longer have the time nor the manpower to do.

Today there are 103 programs conducted under vocational education auspices in the United States and the majority of the remainder of the total 179 organized training programs is conducted in hospitals, the school here said.

Some 15,000 to 50,000 practical nurses are estimated to be needed in the immediate future, and at present there is an urgent need for more acceptable programs for the training of the practical nurse.

5-Power Military Talks Arranged On Southeast Asia

WASHINGTON, May 22 —UP— Representatives of the United States and four other nations, including Britain, are expected to meet here next week for military talks on stopping Communism in southeast Asia, reliable sources said Friday.

Simultaneously, New Zealand's minister of external affairs, T. Clifton Webb, said his country wants a southeast Asian anti-Communist alliance set up as soon as possible. He said he believes firmly Britain will join despite its present reluctance.

Webb said he did not get the "impression," in recent talks with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, that Britain and the United States have any "basic disagreement" on "the course of action that should be followed" in southeast Asia.

Australia called several days ago for military talks with the United States, France, Britain and New Zealand on the military framework for this country's proposed anti-Communist Asian alliance.

The number one task of the conference, however, was said to be a survey of available allied military power and the prospects for halting the Communist advance—either in Indo-China or elsewhere in southeast Asia.

Reliable sources said the British —who have not yet decided whether to join the proposed alliance— are willing to participate in the military conference because any decisions will not be binding.

The sources said Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, is believed to have a plan ready for consideration for immediate direct intervention in Indo-China.

Informed quarters said the five nations have not yet decided what "level" of their representatives should attend the meeting. It could be chiefs of staff, experts of the five nations from the far East, or their military representatives here.

The composition of the conference would have a bearing on the authority of its recommendations.

Webb, who has conferred here with President Eisenhower, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and other U. S. officials, said in a statement before departing Friday that his country is "vitally concerned" with threatened Red aggression in southeast Asia.

Rider Injured As Cycle Hits Truck

According to police, Bell suffered a head laceration and an injury to his leg. He was taken to the Wright-Bendel clinic by Mulhearn funeral home ambulance for treatment.

Police said Bell was injured when his motorcycle collided with an automobile driven by L. F. Krogmire, 73, Earle Hotel, at about 8:05 a.m. Saturday.

Seven Members Of One Family Alumni Of Tech

RUSTON, May 22. (Special)—When Patrick W. Baker, of Crowville, receives his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering at Louisiana Tech on May 28, his family will have established a record of having the largest number of students to graduate in engineering at the college.

He will be the seventh of seven brothers and sisters to earn Tech diplomas.

Other families have had more than seven graduates here, but the Bakers are the first to have five engineering graduates.

The oldest brother, William R., entered Tech in 1936 and since that time there has been only one year in which a member of the family has not been enrolled here. That was in the 1944-45 session.

To keep the family even more a Tech family, four of the sons and one daughter of Mrs. W. R. Baker, Sr., and the late Mr. Baker married graduates of the college here.

William R., bachelor of science in civil engineering, 1939; John B., bachelor of science in mechanical engineering and bachelor of science in electrical engineering, 1941; Glenn C., bachelor of science in mechanical engineering, 1944; Wallace S., bachelor of science in mechanical engineering, 1948; E. D., bachelor of science in liberal arts, 1949; Ella Margaret, bachelor of arts in education, 1950; and Patrick W., a candidate for bachelor of science in mechanical engineering, 1954.

To Register In Summer School Monday, May 31

Registration for the summer session of Ouachita Parish School, both high and elementary, will begin at 9:00 a. m. Monday, May 31, in the high school auditorium.

Classes will be held from 7:30 a. m. until 12:50 p. m. daily, Monday through Friday. The closing date has been set for July 30.

High school students may take a maximum of three one-half units of new work or four one-half units of repeated subjects. Courses offered include first and second year algebra, plane geometry, advanced arithmetic, English I-IV, civics, world history and American history. All elementary courses will be taught.

Mrs. Sara Hollingsworth has charge of the high school division, Mrs. Sarah Yates of the upper elementary, and Mrs. Gertrude Mitchell of the lower elementary.

Teacher To Retire After 34 Years

WINNSBORO, May 22 (Special) —Mrs. Pearl Butler, second-grade teacher of Winnsboro High School, will retire next Friday with the closing of the 1953-1954 school year, after a teaching career of 34 years.

Mrs. Butler will be entertained by the Winnsboro High school faculty with a tea in her honor on Tuesday afternoon, May 25, from 3:30 until 5:00 o'clock in the Home Economics cottage. Former students and friends of Mrs. Butler are extended a cordial invitation to the farewell tea.

"I've enjoyed teaching from the very beginning," Mrs. Butler said, in reviewing her career. "It's been very satisfactory work."

One of a class of ten, Mrs. Butler graduated from Winnsboro High school in 1904 at a time when ten grades were the greatest number offered. She then attended Louisiana State Normal school in Natchitoches for the then maximum two years. The diploma she received from Louisiana State Normal is genuine sheepskin.

Mrs. Butler's teaching career began in the three-room frame-building Gilbert School, where she taught the first, second and third grade pupils. She was on Gilbert's faculty of three for three years.

Married to the late Hansford R. Butler in 1914, Mrs. Butler resigned her teaching position in 1916. Four children were born of this marriage: Elmer, now of Shreveport with the Tennessee Gas Transmission Company; Ray, with the Standard Oil Company in Baton Rouge; Barbara, who is now teaching in Lake Charles, and Addie, who is now Mrs. Dwight Mac Curdy of Atascadero, Calif. Both boys graduated from Louisiana Tech and the girls from Louisiana State Normal College (now Northwestern State College).

Following the death of her husband in 1930, Mrs. Butler resumed teaching, this time at the Oak Grove Elementary School in Franklin parish. After three years at this school, Mrs. Butler came to Winnsboro High School where she has taught the second grade ever since.

When asked what she planned to do with her time after so many years of purposeful work, Mrs. Butler said, "I've always wanted to travel in a season of the year other than summer. If this ambition can't be fulfilled, I'll be content to sit at home and rock. Time will take care of itself."

Registration For Summer To Start At School

Summer school for the grades through as far as sixth will be conducted in Central Grammar School.

Registration will be started in the principal's office at Central Grammar Friday June 4 from 8 to noon. Classes start Monday June 7 at 8:30 a.m.

Williams To Get Honorary Degree

James S. Williams, executive secretary of the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce will be awarded on honorary state farmer degree at the annual convention of the Louisiana Association of Future Farmers of America, slated to be held at Louisiana Tech on June 2. The notification that he has been selected was sent to Williams in letters from W. J. Parent, state supervisor of vocational agricultural education, and A. Delmer Walker, executive-secretary of the Louisiana Association of Future Farmers of America.

The degree is the highest honor the FFA can bestow upon anyone and is given each year to some persons, whom the group feels made the most worthwhile contribution to FFA work.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The Twin Cities Sports return to Legion Memorial Stadium Tuesday night to open a three-game series with the Greenville Bucs, the hottest club in the Cotton States League in the early campaigning. But the current edition of Buckshot Indians isn't the same outfit that worked at Greenville last year, but is, in the main, the same club that operated at Jackson, Miss., last year.

Willis Hudlin moved the Senators to Greenville when the 1953 Bucks' owner gave up, and the Hudlin-operated Bucks are bringing new life to baseball in the delta country city. The hey-day of Monroe baseball during the late 1930s and early '40s was enjoyed when Greenville was also a top contender. Remember those great Monroe-Greenville series around the time such stars as Murrell Jones, Hank Taylor, Johnny Conway, "Red" Pruitt, Tom Perry, Dave Philley, Ray Hoffman, Pete Medak, Kelton Maxfield, Bobby Schang, Ernie Potocar, Frank Hackney and others were battling it out with the Bucks?

The Sports, coming home after six days on the road, will be here for only three days before departing again, but they could do much to restore hopes of their own fandom by giving the Bucks a red hot series. Win or lose, the Sports are still on the build, and, before this season is much older, the Twin Cities are going to see a stronger team unless the management has been getting bum steers of new talent. Like the fans who have been attending the games here we can see some flaws in the club, but Skipper Ed Head is working to correct these, and there's actually nothing too seriously wrong that can't be amended.

Just keep right on supporting the Sports. The better the support, the better able the club will be to make improvements where needed.

Bob Carpenter blamed a private detective for breaking into public print the story about how he was having his Phillie ball players shadowed by declaring he had "hired the wrong man." Actually, the private eye, gave him the best out in the world by telling police he was trailing the wrong man because he had mistaken Granny Hamner's car for that of an "air force man" he had been hired to trail. But Mr. Carpenter, according to all the stories, had to open his big mouth and admit the detective was covering up. Then the next day we hear Mr. Carpenter is apologizing for having his players shadowed, and in the next breath says he'll continue to do so. What was he apologizing for if he's going to continue the practice?

Little Leaguers are worth a few good stories each season. The best chuckle we've had over one this season concerned little Wade Monroe of Longview, Tex., who, reporting from a game, told his mother: "I hit a home run and a double."

"That's good!" exclaimed his mother. Wade wasn't so sure. The double hit an umpire and nearly broke his leg. The homer knocked the windshield out of an automobile.

Jim Malone Resigns As Northeast Coach

Ending 20-Year Career To Join Insurance Firm

The 20-year reign of James L. Malone as head football coach at Northeast Louisiana State College came to a close yesterday with the announcement that "The Big Indian" has resigned to accept a position as home office agency supervisor for an old line Louisiana insurance company, the Guaranty Income Life Insurance Company of Baton Rouge.

"I am doing now what should have been done years ago," Malone said in announcing his resignation. "I want the public to know that there has been no crossfire resulting in my leaving Northeast. I have always fought for the school and hope to be able to be a greater supporter of Northeast.

"Twenty years has brought about many ties that cannot easily be broken. It is not without a measure of reluctance that I make this step, but it is one I have contemplated for several years."

Lewis C. Slater, president of Northeast, in accepting Malone's resignation, said:

"It is with regrets that we accept the resignation of coach Malone. We appreciate what he has done for the school, and his great loyalty in remaining with us during the last three years to help us adjust to a four-year college."

Malone revealed he had twice turned in resignations, in 1951 and again in 1952, but had been prevailed upon by college officials to remain on the job until the transformation from a junior college to a senior institution was completed.

President Slater last night said the college has taken no steps as yet to replace coach Malone.

Malone, a native of Reform, Ala., played center on Louisiana State University football teams until his graduation in 1933. In the fall of '33 he was freshman coach at L.S.U. and had as his pupils such Tiger freshmen as Gaynell Tinsley, now head coach at L.S.U., and "Pop" Strange of the L.S.U. staff.

Coming to Northeast in 1934, when the school was known as Northeast Center of L.S.U., Malone succeeded J. Paul Kemerer, the only other head football coach the school has had since it opened in 1931 as Ouachita Junior College.

Malone's greatest success at Northeast was in the early half of his career when he never turned out a team that lost more games than it won. Twice, in 1935 and 1937 he fashioned undefeated elevens, the 1935 team sweeping an eight-game schedule and the '37 club winning seven and tying one. His teams have had some rough years since World War II, but he still had a 1945 club that won six and lost only two, a '47 outfit that won seven and lost two, and a '51 combination that won six, tied one, and lost two.

"I really intended to resign after my last good year in '51," Malone said. His team last year won only one.

Malone had a hand in developing many football players and coaches. In addition to Tinsley and Strange, he had Bobby Kellogg, recently transferring from Texas Tech to the Mississippi State coaching staff. In the local coaching fraternity he had Jim Coats and Gus Petterson of Neville High, Herbert H. Holliman of Ouachita, and Jay Broussard of St. Matthew's. One of his best known gridders still active in Hugh "Bones" Taylor of the pro Washington Redskins.

Announcemnt of coach Malone's appointment to the insurance firm was made by Robert E. Wilder, vice president of the organization. Malone will be in charge of a four-state area, including Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, and Arizona with state offices at Baton Rouge, Jackson, Little Rock, and Tucson.

Brooks Win Over Bucs On Snider's Three-Run Homer

BROOKLYN, May 22 (AP)—Duke Snider's three-run homer in the third inning was too much for Pittsburgh today as Brooklyn knocked off the Pirates 3-1. Pittsburgh's sputtering attack left 15 men on base despite 10 hits and seven walks off Russ Meyer, Erv Palica and Jim Hughes.

Braves Grab Two From Bruins With Uprisings In 9th

CHICAGO, May 22 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves pulled two great ninth inning rallies today to sweep a double header from the Chicago Cubs 5-1 and 11-9.

Eddie Mathews' two-run double keyed a four-run last inning in the opener and Jim Pendleton's pinch homer with two aboard climaxed a five-manouthurst in the nightcap finale.

Farmerville Gets Ready To Launch Big Eight Season

FARMERVILLE, La., May 22 (Special)—The Big Eight League baseball season will open Saturday, May 29, with Farmerville playing at Bastrop and the first home game for the local nine will be June 1 with Ruston. All home games this season will get under way at 7:45 p.m.

Teams in the league are Farmerville, Bernice, Bastrop, Minden, Homer and Ruston. Three games a week will be played—Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Several new faces will be in the Farmerville lineup this season, Ham said, as every effort is being made to strengthen the team. The roster, with possibly others to be added later, is as follows:

Glen Post, Jr., manager; Henry Albritton, Jess Moore, Jerry Jones and E. J. Albritton, outfielders; Douglas Litton, Mississippi State, shortstop; Wayne Causey, Monroe, third base; Wayne Sutton, second base; Freddie Frickie, Monroe, first base; Ira Simpson, Bernice; "Hoodoo" Phillips, Marion; and Curtis Allen, catchers; Curtis Monroe, Charlie Williams, Monroe; Mitchell, Jr., all of Mississippi State; Buddy Wittichen, Ole Miss; and Stein Baughman, Jr., pitchers; and Hudson Lee Miller and Tom Patterson, utility.

June 1, Ruston 5, Minden: 10 Bastrop 15, Bernice, 19 Homer, 25 Ruston, 29 Minden.

July 3 Bastrop, 8, Bernice: 13, Homer 17, Ruston 22, Minden, 27, Bastrop 31, Bernice.

August 5 Tomer, 10, Ruston; 14, Minden.

Games away: June 3, Bernice; 8, Homer; 13, Ruston, 17, Minden; 22, Bastrop 26, Bernice.

July 1 Homer 6, Ruston, 10, Minden 15, Bastrop 20, Bernice; 24, Homer, 29 Ruston.

18 More Drivers Qualify For '500' On Memorial Day

INDIANAPOLIS, May 22 (AP)—Fifteen veteran race drivers and three newcomers filled the 33-car field for the 500-mile Memorial Day race today in a high speed day that produced six of the 10 fastest qualifying trials ever run.

They crowded out the slowest of last weekend's 16 qualifiers Duke Nalon and the Novi Special, whose 1-mile average of 136.395 miles an hour wasn't good enough.

The driver who crowded Nalon out was Andy Linden of Los Angeles, making his third and last try in the Brown Motor Co special of Richmond, Ind. He averaged 137.820.

The 18 who qualified in 7½ hours of almost unbroken running, took their places behind last week's 15 survivors in the provisional line-up for the May 31 race. The field is subject to revision in the final trials tomorrow when the slower drivers can be eliminated by faster qualifiers.

The 18 who qualified today failed to break Jack McGrath's week-old record of 141.033 miles an hour for the 10 miles, but Cal Niday, Pacoima, Calif., turned in the second fastest qualifying speed, 139.828 in the Jim Robbins Special.

The crowd, well below last Saturday's estimated 125,000, was a little disappointed because Bill Vukovich, the 1953 winner, did not go after a new record but qualified at 138.478.

Double Main Wrestling Program Tuesday Night

A double-main event wrestling program is scheduled for Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, when the colorful Apache Indian Chief, after a two-week absence, returns to take on the handsome villain, Herb Schiff; and Bostoner Paddy Mack goes against newcomer Jackie Fargo.

Both matches are one hour and 15 minute time limit bouts, and require two of three falls to win.

Schiff, in his inaugural here last Tuesday, looked plenty good, both from a physical and wrestling standpoint. He and the Alaska Wolf Man fought Bill Barney and Danny Dusek in a main event tag team tussle, and won the first and third falls to emerge victorious for the night.

The latest newcomer, Fargo, appears to be another young Adnois, but has had much experience in mat wars, beginning with a three-year army hitch in which he took on all comers. His greatest feat was in unmasking the Golden Terror in New England, ending an unbaten streak of 70 matches for the disguised one.

Fargo, who is six feet tall, weighs 208 pounds, and has met such "name" boys as Gene Stanlee and Gorgeous George, says he is ready and willing to take on anybody. He will have a good test here against Mack, the ringwise veteran, who has alternated in wrestling legally and illegally on the local mat.

Chief, whom most fans will welcome back, has long been a crowd-pleaser here, with his colorful attire and grim mien. The Apache, who is only beaten through illegal tactics, is a boring-in type of wrestler, who never lets up. He is most famous for his lightning-like chops to a villain's neck, and his fall-ending prostrate hammerlock, with rapid headstands on the flat of his opponent's back to apply pressure.

CAROLINA KING is wrestling newcomer, Jackie Fargo, (above) who makes his initial appearance on the local mat Tuesday night at Kallio's Arena against Paddy Mack. On the same card, in the other half of the best-of-three falls double main event, Indian Chief Apache wrestles "Handsome Herb" Schiff.

Karel Sys Quits In Fourth Round Of Valdes Match

BRUSSELS, May 22 (AP)—Karel Sys, 40-year-old Belgian heavyweight, quit in the fourth round of his scheduled 10 round bout with Nino Valdes of Cuba tonight and told newsmen later, "I am not crazy. I didn't want to get killed."

Valdes, the world's second ranked heavyweight contender, clouted Sys whenever he could catch him in the abbreviated fight, which ended with six seconds remaining in the fourth round. After [illegible] Cuban's best punches of the night in that round, Sys [illegible] quit and walked to his corner.

Valdes weighed 211¼, Sys 204¼.

Sys, stopped only once before in a 22-year fighting career encompassing 107 fights, told reporters in his dressing room, "I gave up because Valdes was the better."

"It isn't worth it," he added. "He is tough and I hadn't realized he could be so strong."

Tribe Nips Orioles, 4-3, For 9th Victory In Row

CLEVELAND, May 22 (AP)—Al Smith's tenth inning single, which drove in Rudy Regalado from second, gave the Cleveland Indians their ninth straight victory today, a 4-3 win over the Baltimore Orioles. The Indians' first place margin remained at two games. Al Rosen slammed his tenth homer of the season, his seventh in the last seven games.

Mike Garcia pitched his fourth victory, yielding 10 hits to the Orioles, who lost their second straight in a four-game series with the Indians.

Hasty Road Scores Nec. Win In Preakness Dash

By OLIVER MORRISON

BALTIMORE, May 22 (AP)—Hasty Road, who finished second in the Kentucky Derby, came in for his own share of racing glory Saturday when he survived a strong stretch run by favored Correlation to win the 78th Preakness Stake at Pimlico.

The dark brown son of Roman owned by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rogers of Toledo, Ohio, gained the lead soon after the field of 11 shot out of the gate and never relinquished it to win by a neck.

Correlation was a heavy favorite in the Derby but most racing fans figured he would come up for that setback at old Pimlico Saturday. However, he never quite had enough to overtake Hasty Road in that heart-pounding run through the stretch.

Hasty Road had finished second to Correlation in the mile and one sixteenth Preakness Prep here last Monday. The extra distance in Saturday's mile and three-sixteenths gallop did not prove too much of a task for Hasty Road, as many believed it might.

Hasty Road's time of 1:57 2-5 was far off the Preakness record of 1:56 set by Capot in 1949.

For Johnny Adams, a 40 year-old veteran of 22 years in the saddle, this was the first Preakness triumph. Adams now has a young son who is riding on the Chicago circuit.

Saturday's Preakness carried the biggest gross purse in its history — $140,150. But the net to the winner fell short of the record $98,005 won by Tuscalee in 1937. However, the 1st prize put up Hasty Road's Belmont earnings to $594,282.

Hasty Road paid $12, $3.20 and $2.80. Correlation returned $2.60 and $2.40. Hasseyampa, $4.40. A total of $404,638 was bet on the race.

Jim Malone Resigns As Northeast Coach

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The Twin Cities Sports return to Legion Memorial Stadium Tuesday night to open a three-game series with the Greenville Bucs, the hottest club in the Cotton States League in the early campaigning. But the current edition of Buckshot Indians isn't the same outfit that worked at Greenville last year, but is, in the main, the same club that operated at Jackson, Miss., last year.

Willis Hudlin moved the Senators to Greenville when the 1953 Bucks' owner gave up, and the Hudlin-operated Bucks are bringing new life to baseball in the delta country city. The hey-day of Monroe baseball during the late 1930s and early '40s was enjoyed when Greenville was also a top contender. Remember those great Monroe-Greenville series around the time such stars as Murrell Jones, Hank Taylor, Johnny Conway, "Red" Pruitt, Tom Perry, Dave Philley, Ray Hoffman, Pete Medak, Kelton Maxfield, Bobby Schang, Ernie Potocar, Frank Hackney and others were battling it out with the Bucks?

The Sports, coming home after six days on the road, will be here for only three days before departing again, but they could do much to restore hopes of their own fandom by giving the Bucks a red hot series. Win or lose, the Sports are still on the build, and, before this season is much older, the Twin Cities are going to see a stronger team unless the management has been getting bum steers of new talent. Like the fans who have been attending the games here we can see some flaws in the club, but Skipper Ed Head is working to correct these, and there's actually nothing too seriously wrong that can't be amended.

Just keep right on supporting the Sports. The better the support, the better able the club will be to make improvements where needed.

Bob Carpenter blamed a private detective for breaking into public print the story about how he was having his Phillie ball players shadowed by declaring he had "hired the wrong man." Actually, the private eye, gave him the best out in the world by telling police he was trailing the wrong man because he had mistaken Granny Hamner's car for that of an "air force man" he had been hired to trail. But Mr. Carpenter, according to all the stories, had to open his big mouth and admit the detective was covering up. Then the next day we hear Mr. Carpenter is apologizing for having his players shadowed, and in the next breath says he'll continue to do so. What was he apologizing for if he's going to continue the practice?

Little Leaguers are worth a few good stories each season. The best chuckle we've had over one this season concerned little Wade Monroe of Longview, Tex., who, reporting from a game, told his mother: "I hit a home run and a double."

"That's good!" exclaimed his mother. Wade wasn't so sure. The double hit an umpire and nearly broke his leg. The homer knocked the windshield out of an automobile.

Brooks Win Over Bucs On Snider's Three-Run Homer

BROOKLYN, May 22 (AP)—Duke Snider's three-run homer in the third inning was too much for Pittsburgh today as Brooklyn knocked off the Pirates 3-1. Pittsburgh's sputtering attack left 15 men on base despite 10 hits and seven walks off Russ Meyer, Erv Palica and Jim Hughes.

Braves Grab Two From Bruins With Uprisings In 9th

CHICAGO, May 22 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves pulled two great ninth inning rallies today to sweep a double header from the Chicago Cubs 5-1 and 11-9.

Eddie Mathews' two-run double keyed a four-run last inning in the opener and Jim Pendleton's pinch homer with two aboard climaxed a five-manoutburst in the nightcap finale.

Farmerville Gets Ready To Launch Big Eight Season

FARMERVILLE, La., May 22 (Special)—The Big Eight League baseball season will open Saturday, May 29, with Farmerville playing at Bastrop, and the first home game for the local nine will be June 1 with Ruston. All home games this season will get under way at 7:45 p.m.

Teams in the league are Farmerville, Bernice, Bastrop, Minden, Homer and Ruston. Three games a week will be played—Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Several new faces will be in the Farmerville lineup this season, Ham said, as every effort is being made to strengthen the team. The roster, with possibly others to be added later, is as follows:

Glen Post, Jr., manager; Henry Albritton, Jess Moore, Jerry Jones and E. J. Albritton, outfielders; Douglas Litton, Mississippi State, shortstop; Wayne Causey, Monroe, third base; Wayne Sutton, second base; Freddie Frickle, Monroe, first base; Ira Simpson, Bernice; "Hotdog" Phillips, Marion; and Curtis Allen, catchers; Curtis Monroe,; Charlie Williams; Monroe Mitchell, Jr., all of Mississippi State. Buddy Wittichen, Ole Miss; and Stein Baughman, Jr., pitchers; and Hudson Lee Miller and Tom Patterson, utility.

June 1, Ruston; 5, Minden; 10, Bastrop. 15, Bernice; 19 Homer; 24, Ruston; 29, Minden.

July 3, Bastrop; 8, Bernice; 13, Homer 17, Ruston; 22, Minden; 27, Bastrop 31, Bernice.

August 5, Tomer; 10, Ruston; 14, Minden.

Brown Joins Maroon Grid Coaching Staff

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., May 22 (AP)—Appointment of Ralph (Rabbit) Brown as assistant football coach at Mississippi State College was announced today.

Brown, a graduate of Mississippi State, is coach at Bailey Junior High school at Jackson. He previously coached at Helena, Ark., and Newton. He will report here July 1.

Ending 20-Year Career To Join Insurance Firm

The 20-year reign of James L. Malone as head football coach at Northeast Louisiana State College came to a close yesterday with the announcement that "The Big Indian" has resigned to accept a position as home office agency supervisor for an old line Louisiana insurance company, the Guaranty Income Life Insurance Company of Baton Rouge.

"I am doing now what should have been done years ago," Malone said in announcing his resignation. "I want the public to know that there has been no crossfire resulting in my leaving Northeast. I have always fought for the school and hope to be able to be a greater supporter of Northeast.

"Twenty years has brought about many ties that cannot easily be broken. It is not without a measure of reluctance that I make this step, but it is one I have contemplated for several years."

Lewis C. Slater, president of Northeast, in accepting Malone's resignation, said:

"It is with regrets that we accept the resignation of coach Malone. We appreciate what he has done for the school, and his great loyalty in remaining with us during the last three years to help us adjust to a four-year college."

Malone revealed he had twice turned in resignations, in 1951 and again in 1952, but had been prevailed upon by college officials to remain on the job until the transformation from a junior college to a senior institution was completed.

President Slater last night said the college has taken no steps as yet to replace coach Malone.

Malone, a native of Reform, Ala., played center on Louisiana State University football teams until his graduation in 1933. In the fall of '33 he was freshman coach at L.S.U. and had as his pupils such Tiger freshmen as Gaynell Tinsley, now head coach at L.S.U., and "Pop" Strange of the L.S.U. staff.

Coming to Northeast in 1934, when the school was known as Northeast Center of L.S.U., Malone succeeded J. Paul Kemerer, the only other head football coach the school has had since it opened in 1931 as Ouachita Junior College.

Malone's greatest success at Northeast was in the early half of his career when he never turned out a team that lost more games than it won. Twice, in 1935 and 1937 he fashioned undefeated elevens, the 1935 team sweeping an eight-game schedule and the '37 club winning seven and tying one. His teams have had some rough years since World War II, but he still had a 1945 club that won six and lost only two, a '47 outfit that won seven and lost two, and a '51 combination that won six, tied one, and lost two.

"I really intended to resign after my last good year in '51," Malone said. His team last year won only one.

Malone had a hand in developing many football players and coaches. In addition to Tinsley and Strange, he had Bobby Kellogg, recently transferring from Texas Tech to the Mississippi State coaching staff. In the local coaching fraternity he had Jim Coats and Gus Petterson of Neville High, Herbert H. Holliman of Ouachita, and Jay Broussard of St. Matthew's. One of his best known gridders still active in Hugh "Bones" Taylor of the pro Washington Redskins.

Announcemnt of coach Malone's appointment to the insurance firm was made by Robert E. Wilder, vice president of the organization. Malone will be in charge of a four-state area, including Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, and Arizona with state offices at Baton Rouge, Jackson, Little Rock, and Tucson.

18 More Drivers Qualify For '500' On Memorial Day

INDIANAPOLIS, May 22 (AP)—Fifteen veteran race drivers and three newcomers filled the 33-car field for the 500-mile Memorial Day race today in a high speed day that produced six of the 10 fastest qualifying trials ever run.

They crowded out the slowest of last weekend's 16 qualifiers—Duke Nalon and the Novi Special, whose 1-mile average of 136.395 miles an hour wasn't good enough.

The driver who crowded Nalon out was Andy Linden of Los Angeles, making his third and last try in the Brown Motor Co. special of Richmond, Ind. He averaged 137.820.

The 18, who qualified in 7½ hours of almost unbroken running, took their places behind last week's 15 survivors in the provisional line-up for the May 31 race. The field is subject to revision in the final trials tomorrow, when the slower drivers can be eliminated by faster qualifiers.

The 18 who qualified today failed to break Jack McGrath's week-old record of 141.033 miles an hour for the 10 miles, but Cal Niday, Pacoima, Calif., turned in the second fastest qualifying speed, 139.828 in the Jim Robbins Special.

The crowd, well below last Saturday's estimated 125,000, was a little disappointed because Bill Vukovich, the 1953 winner, did not go after a new record but qualified at 138.478.

Double Main Wrestling Program Tuesday Night

A double-main event wrestling program is scheduled for Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, when the colorful Apache Indian Chief, after a two-week absence, returns to take on the handsome villain, Herb Schiff; and Bostoner Paddy Mack goes against newcomer Jackie Fargo.

Both matches are one hour and 15 minute time limit bouts, and require two of three falls to win.

Schiff, in his inaugural here last Tuesday, looked plenty good, both from a physical and wrestling standpoint. He and the Alaska Wolf Man fought Bill Barney and Danny Dusek in a main event tag team tussle, and won the first and third falls to emerge victorious for the night.

The latest newcomer, Fargo, appears to be another young Adnois, but has had much experience in mat wars, beginning with a three-year army hitch in which he took on all comers. His greatest feat was in unmasking the Golden Terror in New England, ending an unbaten streak of 70 matches for the disguised one.

Fargo, who is six feet tall, weighs 208 pounds, and has met such "name" boys as Gene Stanlee and Gorgeous George, says he is ready and willing to take on anybody. He will have a good test here against Mack, the ringwise veteran, who has alternated in wrestling legally and illegally on the local mat.

Chief, whom most fans will welcome back, has long been a crowd-pleaser here, with his colorful attire and grim mien. The Apache, who is only beaten through illegal tactics, is a boring-in type of wrestler, who never lets up. He is most famous for his lightning-like chops to a villain's neck, and his fall-ending prostrate hammerlock, with rapid headstands on the flat of his opponent's back to apply pressure.

CAROLINA KING is wrestling newcomer, Jackie Fargo, (above) who makes his initial appearance on the local mat Tuesday night at Kallio's Arena against Paddy Mack. On the same card, in the other half of the best-of-three falls double main event, Indian Chief Apache wrestles "Handsome Herb" Schiff.

BRUSSELS, May 22 (AP)—Karel Sys, 40-year-old Belgian heavyweight, quit in the fourth round of his scheduled 10 round bout with Nino Valdes of Cuba tonight and told newsmen later, "I am not crazy, I didn't want to get killed."

Valdes, the world's second ranked heavyweight contender, clouted Sys whenever he could catch him in the abbreviated fight, which ended with six seconds remaining in the fourth round. After [illegible] the Cuban's best punches of the night in that round, Sys [illegible] quit and walked to his corner.

Valdes weighed 211¼, Sys 204½.

Sys, stopped only once before in a 22-year fighting career encompassing 107 fights, told reporters in his dressing room, "I gave up because Valdes was the better."

"It isn't worth it," he added. "He is tough and I hadn't realized he could be so strong."

Tribe Nips Orioles, 4-3, For 9th Victory In Row

CLEVELAND, May 22 (AP)—Al Smith's tenth inning single, which drove in Rudy Regalado from second, gave the Cleveland Indians their ninth straight victory today, a 4-3 win over the Baltimore Orioles. The Indians' first place margin remained at two games. Al Rosen slammed his tenth homer of the season, his seventh in the last seven games.

Mike Garcia pitched his fourth victory, yielding 10 hits to the Orioles, who lost their second straight in a four-game series with the Indians.

Al Ronay Downs Twin Cities With 7-Hit Mound Job

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 22 (AP)—Pitcher Al Ronay helped win his own game with a two-run homer in the second inning, but it still took a freak triple in the seventh to give the Hot Springs Bathers a 6-5 decision over Monroe in a Cotton States League game here tonight.

With Ronay's roundtripper the big blow, the Bathers built up a 4-0 in the first two frames and held it until the top of the seventh.

Then, the visiting Sports erupted for five runs — three of them on Frank Marakovich's homer.

Howard Bolton led off Hot Springs' half of the inning with a walk. The next two batters went out and Leon Akers hit what appeared to be a routine fly. But Marakovich lost it in the lights and the poke went for a triple, scoring Bolton. Akers scored the winning tally on Frank Cooper's single.

It was Hot Springs' ninth victory in its last 12 games.

'Chief' Bender Dies At Age Of 71 Years

PHILADELPHIA, May 22 (AP)—Charley Albert (Chief) Bender, one of baseball's great all-time pitchers and a member of the Hall of Fame, died today at the age of 71.

Bender, who had been ill for some time, died in Graduate Hospital where he was confined. He had been under treatment for cancer and had recently suffered a heart attack.

Bender, who in 15 years as one of the best pitchers in baseball, never made more than $2,400 a season as an active player. The full-blooded Chippewa Indian had been serving as a coach for the Philadelphia Athletics at more than double the pay he got as a pitcher.

DeMarco Defeats Cesario In Ten Round TV'd Bout

DeMarco weighed 145½, Cesario 147½.

DeMarco's more potent punches had Cesario hanging on at the end of the contest which had been an even struggle in the early stages. A left hook by DeMarco to Cesario's head was the blow that stunned his 28-year-old adversary in the final round.

Earlier, three straight left hooks by DeMarco in the ninth had driven Cesario across the ring and he slipped into the ropes.

There were no knockdowns in the TV fight which was blackened out in New England though Cesario several times and DeMarco once slipped.

Judge Joe Hierty scored the fight 100-93 for DeMarco. Judge Dinny Glynn had it 100-92. Referee scored it 98-97 for the winner. The Associated Press card tallied 98-89 for DeMarco.

Big 8 Meeting Called Tuesday

RUSTON, La., May 22 (Special) L. J. Fox, president of the Big Eight Baseball League, has called a league meeting for Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Ruston city hall to make final plans for the opening of the league schedule next Saturday.

Little League Pilots Meeting Here Today

Schedules for the Southside and Northside Leagues will be drawn up at the meeting.

West Monroe's Legion Juniors Top Bastrop, 10-7

Loy Scarborough's West Monroe American Legion Juniors made their first start yesterday afternoon at the Playgrounds, and turned back the strong Bastrop Juniors in a non-league game, 10-7.

The West Monroe Juniors, resplendent in their new white home uniforms, overcame a 3-1 Bastrop lead in the third frame with a five-run rally on two errors, and hits by Robert Harris, Richard Watson and Chub Johnston, the latters' a base-cleaning triple to center. Just prior to the West Monroe rally, Scarborough had informed his team of Bob McNeely's death, and asked his boys to win it for the Fifth District Legion baseball chairman.

Anti-Gambling Law On Racing Up This Week

NEW ORLEANS, May 22 (AP)—The Southern Association Nashville Vols today acquired southpaw pitcher Fred Sherkel on option from Minneapolis of the American Association.

Sherkel, 23, started seven games for the Vols in 1952 and pitched a total of 51 innings, compiling a 3-5 record. He has been used mainly in relief with the Millers and has been charged with two losses this season.

Cyclists Will Attend Events At Livingston

Twin City motorcycle enthusiasts will attend a field meet and fish fry at the Livingston Parish fair grounds at Livingston next Friday and Saturday, it was announced here yesterday.

Since the local motorcycle club desires to know how many members will attend, the cyclists are being requested to contact Paul Parker, phone 2-1298; Conway Mullins, 3-1091; Mary Tharp or Francis Brownlee 3-6516, not later than Tuesday.

Vols Obtain Hurler From Minneapolis 9

BATON ROUGE, La., May 22—(AP) The Louisiana Senate is expected to act next week on a bill that would make horse racing illegal in the state.

The bill, introduced by Sen. Torace Wilkinson, would make any form of gambling, including the playing of parimutuels at race or harness tracks, illegal even if it is licensed or permitted by the state or any "political subdivision" in the state.

If approved, the law would affect the historic old Fair Grounds at New Orleans, which is allowed to operate under special act by the state legislature and the proposed harness racing track near New Orleans.

House Investigation Of Coddling Reverses

By FRANK ELEAZER

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP) A House subcommittee's investigation of alleged Army coddling of athletes took a reverse kick Saturday when Chairman William E. Hess (R-Ohio) ordered an inquiry into possible discrimination against big league ball player Billy Martin.

"We don't want to see sports figures get favored treatment from the Army," Hess said, "but we don't want them deprived of normal privileges, either. If there has been any discrimination against Billy Martin we want an explanation."

Hess acted after Billy — the New York Yankees' star second baseman known to the Army as Pvt. Martin, Alfred M. — wrote the subcommittee his treatment as a GI not only hadn't been preferential but sometimes had seemed "more severe" than that of other draftees.

Martin said he was not "bellyaching" but that he thought the subcommittee should know he never was coddled by the Army "in any way or form."

Billy, who recently was transferred to Camp Carson, Colo., for assignment, said that during his training at Fort Ord, Calif., he was not permitted to try out for the camp ball team although other trainees were accorded this privilege.

During the same period he said the other men in his company got more off-post passes than he did, a fact which he said was explained to him as being due to his connection with big league baseball.

He didn't say anything about his more recent luck at Camp Carson. According to press dispatches his treatment there has been strictly GI in at least one respect. His first chore was KP.

Hess said the subcommittee would request a full report from Martin's commanding officer at Fort Ord. He pointed out that the subcommittee, during public hearings early this month, already had cautioned the Army not to react against athletes as a result of the inquiry.

Martin was among a number of big-name sports figures whose service careers were explored by the Hess group at a three-day hearing on reports that some drafted athletes had gotten soft jobs, short hours, and relief from GI chores and overseas shipments.

District Legion Juniors Open Season Wednesday

The sudden death yesterday afternoon of Bob McNeely, West Monroe, Fifth District chairman of American Legion Junior baseball, blighted the start of the season for the juniors who open their campaign next Wednesday, according to the schedule announced by McNeely shortly before his death.

Three Redleg Home Runs Enough To Check Cards

Twin-A Baseball Crown Captured By St. Aloysius

NEW ORLEANS, May 22 (AP)—St. Aloysius of New Orleans won the state AA baseball title tonight by defeating Bolton of Alexandria, 16-2.

Bolton won the opener of the best two-of-three series at Alexandria on Thursday. St. Aloysius tied the series by winning this afternoon, 8-1.

Bobby Marks pitched St. Aloysius to victory in the nightcap with a seven-hit performance. Marks pitched shutout ball after he was touched for two early runs.

St. Aloysius pounded Vic Michiels and Dickey Fowler for 11 hits. Butch McCollum, who pitched the final three innings for Bolton, retired all nine men in order.

St. Aloysius got three homers and four doubles, scoring eight runs in the opening inning and four runs each in the second and third inning.

In the afternoon game, St. Aloysius scored five runs in the second inning off Butch McCollum, who held the New Orleans school to two hits while pitching Bolton to a 2-1 victory in Thursday's game. The winners added two more in the fourth and one in the fifth.

Folse pitched the first five innings, holding Bolton scoreless and allowing only two hits. He also hit a home run in the fifth and laid down a squeeze bunt with two strikes on him in the second that started the St. Aloysius uprising.

Bolton	000 001 0—1 4 2

ST. LOUIS, May 22 (AP)—Wally Post belted two home runs and Jim Greengrass and Ed Bailey one each to drive in all Cincinnati's runs tonight as the Redlegs defeated the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals, 4-2, in a game in which Redleg Manager Birdie Tebbetts devised an unorthodox defensive shift for slugger Stan Musial in the eighth inning.

With the visitors leading by two runs, one St. Louis man on base and two out, Tebbetts lifted his shortstop, Roy McMillan, and replaced him with a fourth outfielder, Nino Escalera, to discourage Musial's extra base potential. The strategy was not needed, however, for Musial struck out.

Al Ronay Downs Twin Cities With 7-Hit Mound Job

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 22 (AP)—Pitcher Al Ronay helped win his own game with a two-run homer in the second inning, but it still took a freak triple in the seventh to give the Hot Springs Bathers a 6-5 decision over Monroe in a Cotton States League game here tonight.

With Ronay's roundtripper the big blow, the Bathers built up a 4-0 in the first two frames and held it until the top of the seventh.

Then, the visiting Sports erupted for five runs — three of them on Frank Marakovich's homer.

Howard Bolton led off Hot Springs' half of the inning with a walk. The next two batters went out and Leon Akers hit what appeared to be a routine fly. But Marakovich lost it in the lights and the poke went for a triple, scoring Bolton. Akers scored the winning tally on Frank Cooper's single.

It was Hot Springs' ninth victory in its last 12 games.

'Chief' Bender Dies At Age Of 71 Years

PHILADELPHIA, May 22 (AP)—Charley Albert (Chief) Bender, one of baseball's great all-time pitchers and a member of the Hall of Fame, died today at the age of 71.

Bender, who had been ill for some time, died in Graduate Hospital where he was confined. He had been under treatment for cancer and had recently suffered a heart attack.

Bender, who in 15 years as one of the best pitchers in baseball, never made more than $2,400 a season as an active player. The full-blooded Chippewa Indian had been serving as a coach for the Philadelphia Athletics at more than double the pay he got as a pitcher.

DeMarco Defeats Cesario In Ten Round TV'd Bout

DeMarco weighed 145¼, Cesario 147½.

DeMarco's more potent punches had Cesario hanging on at the end of the contest which had been an even struggle in the early stages. A left hook by DeMarco to Cesario's head was the blow that stunned his 28-year-old adversary in the final round.

Earlier, three straight left hooks by DeMarco in the ninth had driven Cesario across the ring and he slipped into the ropes.

There were no knockdowns in the TV fight which was blackened out in New England though Cesario several times and DeMarco once slipped.

Judge Joe Hierty scored the fight 100-93 for DeMarco. Judge Dinny Glynn had it 100-92. Referee scored it 98-97 for the winner. The Associated Press card tallied 98-89 for DeMarco.

Big 8 Meeting Called Tuesday

RUSTON, La., May 22 (Special) L. J. Fox, president of the Big Eight Baseball League, has called a league meeting for Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Ruston city hall to make final plans for the opening of the league schedule next Saturday.

Little League Pilots Meeting Here Today

Little League managers of Monroe clubs will meet here this afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Monroe Recreation Center to complete plans for the opening of their 1954 campaign.

Schedules for the Southside and Northside Leagues will be drawn up at the meeting.

West Monroe's Legion Juniors Top Bastrop, 10-7

Loy Scarborough's West Monroe American Legion Juniors made their first start yesterday afternoon at the Playgrounds, and turned back the strong Bastrop Juniors in a non-league game, 10-7.

The West Monroe Juniors, resplendent in their new white home uniforms, overcame a 3-1 Bastrop lead in the third frame with a five-run rally on two errors, and hits by Robert Harris, Richard Watson and Chub Johnston, the latters' a base-cleaning triple to center. Just prior to the West Monroe rally, Scarborough had informed his team of Bob McNeely's death, and asked his boys to win it for the Fifth District Legion baseball chairman.

Vols Obtain Hurler From Minneapolis 9

BATON ROUGE, La., May 22—UP—The Louisiana Senate is expected to act next week on a bill that would make horse hacing illegal in the state.

The bill, introduced by Sen. Torace Wilkinson, would make any form of gambling, including the playing of pari-mutuels at race or harness tracks, illegal even if it is licensed or permitted by the state or any "political subdivision" in the state.

If approved, the law would affect the historic old Fair Grounds at New Orleans, which is allowed to operate under special act by the state legislature and the proposed harness racing track near New Orleans.

House Investigation Of Coddling Reverses

By FRANK ELEAZER

WASHINGTON, May 22—UP—A House subcommittee's investigation of alleged Army coddling of athletes took a reverse tack Saturday when Chairman William E. Hess (R-Ohio) ordered an inquiry into possible discrimination against big league ball player Billy Martin.

"We don't want to see sports figures get favored treatment from the Army," Hess said, "but we don't want them deprived of normal privileges, either. If there has been any discrimination against Billy Martin we want an explanation."

Hess acted after Billy — the New York Yankees' star second baseman known to the Army as Pvt. Martin, Alfred M. — wrote the subcommittee his treatment as a GI not only hadn't been preferential but sometimes had seemed "more severe" than that of other draftees.

Martin said he was not "belly-aching" but that he thought the subcommittee should know he never was coddled by the Army "in any way or form."

Billy, who recently was transferred to Camp Carson, Colo., for assignment, said that during his training at Fort Ord, Calif., he was not permitted to try out for the camp ball team, although other trainees were accorded this privilege.

During the same period he said the other men in his company got more off - post passes than he did, a fact which he said was explained to him as being due to his connection with big league baseball.

He didn't say anything about his more recent luck at Camp Carson. According to press dispatches his treatment there has been strictly GI in at least one respect: His first chore was KP.

Hess said the subcommittee would request a full report from Martin's commanding officer at Fort Ord. He pointed out that the subcommittee, during public hearings early this month, already had cautioned the Army not to react against athletes as a result of the inquiry.

Martin was among a number of big - name sports figures whose service careers were explored by the Hess group at a three - day hearing on reports that some drafted athletes had gotten soft jobs, short hours, and relief from GI chores and overseas shipments.

Three Redleg Home Runs Enough To Check Cards

ST. LOUIS, May 22 (AP)—Wally Post belted two home runs and Jim Greengrass and Ed Bailey one each to drive in all Cincinnati's runs tonight as the Redlegs defeated the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals, 4-2, in a game in which Redleg Manager Birdie Tebbetts devised an unorthodox defensive shift for slugger Stan Musial in the eighth inning.

With the visitors leading by two runs, one St. Louis man on base and two out, Tebbetts lifted his shortstop, Roy McMillan, and replaced him with a fourth outfielder, Nino Escalera, to discourage Musial's extra-base potential. The strategy was not needed, however, for Musial struck out.

Civil Defense Conference Set In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 23—UP—Civil defense authorities from seven southern states will convene here May 28 for a three-day conference on survival in the H-Bomb era, it was announced today.

Col. U. N. James, director of the Birmingham-Jefferson County Civil Defense Corps, said more than 300 representatives are expected to attend the meeting, the first of its kind in the southeast, including some from Louisiana.

James said the conference objective is to furnish basic training on how to develop a warden service for local civil defense organizations and to stimulate public interest in the civil defense program.

'Shocked And Surprised' By Court's Segregation Ruling, Says Ellender

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La) said tonight many Southern Negroes desire to attend their own schools and have their own teachers. This, he said, may solve problems arising from the anti-segregation ruling of the Supreme Court.

"It may well be that this desire to each race to remain to itself will offer a means of maintaining separate and equal facilities, yet keep within the court's ruling," Ellender said in an address prepared for delivery over station WWL, New Orleans.

Although "shocked and surprised" at the court decision, Ellender said:

"We are law abiding citizens, and the Supreme Court's opinion is the law of our land."

Ellender expressed hope that problems raised by the decision can be solved "without haste, without rancor, without violence."

"It may well be that we shall require a latter-day Moses to lead us out of this legal wilderness," he added.

Ending Of May Contracts Hits Cereals, Fats

CHICAGO, May 22 (AP)—Ending of the May contracts disturbed both cereals and fats on the Board of Trade this week.

Old crop soybeans and lard contracts were particularly distressed. After the May was out of the way, July soybeans gave ground quickly with a net loss for the week of 25 cents a bushel.

Small grains made good progress but corn dawdled along with little movement in either direction.

As the week ended wheat was ⅞-1¼ cents higher, corn unchanged to ½ lower, oats ¾-1⅜ higher, and rye ¾ to 1 cent better. New crop soybeans were 2½ to 5 cents higher, while lard skidded $1.25-48 a hundred pounds lower.

1 Well Brought In During Week

A single producer, located in the Esperance Point field of Concordia Parish was the only well brought in during the past week, according to a weekly field report of oil and gas wells drilled and completed in the Monroe district for the period ending May 20. The report, which listed four wells plugged and abandoned and two new locations, was issued by the local office of the department of conservation, minerals division.

The producer was the Magnolia Pet. Co.-J. P. Morgan No. 13, completed on May 15 at a total depth of 7,001 feet and gauged at 50 bbls. daily. The gravity was set at 44.8. It is located in Section 8, Township 5, Range 5E of Concordia Parish.

Wells plugged and abandoned were:

Concordia Parish (wild cat field) Edwin L. Wilkens, J. H. Keeth No. 1, plugged on May 16 in Section 9-7-7E.

Benefit Telethon Gets Under Way On City Station

The Twin Cities' biggest telethon to date got underway at 10 p.m. yesterday on Monroe's television station and is scheduled to continue until 3 p.m. today. Acting as master of ceremonies on the 17-hour show, is Johnny Desmond, popular star of stage, radio, television, and records.

Both local and nationally known personalities are being featured on the telethon, which is being conducted in behalf of the United Cerebral Palsy fund raising campaign. Among the nationally known celebrities being featured on the show are Mary Mayo, recording star; "Buzz" Corry, star of a daily network television show; Forrest Tucker, star of stage and screen, and Sam Cowling, member of the Breakfast Club, which is broadcast each day from Chicago.

Crews of local communication workers are manning a bank of telephones accepting donation pledges called in by viewers, local restaurants are furnishing food for the stars and workers, numerous other volunteers are serving in various capacities to make this the greatest show of its kind in the history of the Twin Cities.

Yesterday officials of the fund raising drive said the final tabulation of contributions and pledges would not be available until late today.

Services Set For Retired Educator

Funeral services for retired Professor M. J. Foster, 77, of Monroe, who died Friday afternoon in St. Francis Sanitarium following a long illness, will be held 2 p.m. Monday at the Zion Travelers Baptist Church.

Burial will be in the Colored City Cemetery under the direction of Miller Funeral Home of Monroe.

Professor Foster was born in New Iberia, La., in 1877, and came to Monroe in 1905 to serve as principal of the North Louisiana Industrial High School. He was later principal of Monroe Colored High School. He had been retired for some time.

He was a member of the Zion Travelers Baptist Church.

Negro Convicted Of Murder Plans To Appeal Case

LAKE CHARLES, La., May 22—UP— Robert Lee Sauls' second conviction for the murder of Hecker Deputy Sheriff Albert Bel Goos will be appealed to the state supreme court, his court-appointed attorney announced today.

Attorney James R. St. Dizier said the appeal would be for a new trial and would be based on one bill of alleged irregularities in jury selection, and the second on a defense objection to court comments on evidence on the grounds that the remarks were prejudicial.

The jury returned a guilty as charged verdict against the 29-year old Negro. It was his second trial. The State Supreme Court had ordered a new trial after the first guilty verdict was returned last fall.

ADDED TO 'MOST WANTED' LIST — Otto Austin Loel has been added to the Ten Most Wanted Fugitives list by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He is wanted for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for murder.

Loel Is On List Of Most-Wanted

Otto Austin Loel has been added to the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives."

A trained woodsman, skilled in the use of knives and expert with all types of guns, Otto Austin Loel is being sought by the FBI for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for the brutal stabbing-murder of a woman in an Oklahoma City, Okla., motel on January 10, 1954.

Loel is of medium build, weighing 160 pounds and is 5' 10" tall. He has brown hair and brown eyes. Although he has false teeth, he seldom wears them, giving his face a sunken appearance. Frequently he wears western - type clothes or sports clothes.

The fugitive bears a ½-inch scar on his right thigh, a 1-inch scar on his right knee, two scars on his left forearm and has tattoos on both forearms.

Described as an excellent marksman with any type of gun, Loel reportedly always carries a gun on his person and should be considered extremely dangerous.

Any person having information concerning the whereabouts of this individual is requested to notify immediately the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice, Washington, D .C., or the special agent in charge of the division of the FBI nearest his city.

Emperor Haile Selassie To Visit New Orleans On Forthcoming U. S. Tour

WASHINGTON, May 22—UP—Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia arrives in the United States next week to begin a state visit packed with activities ranging from an address to Congress to watching a big league baseball game.

The visit will take him across the United States and also to Canada and Mexico. He is tentatively scheduled to visit at least 19 cities in the three nations.

The 61-year-old ruler was invited originally by former President Roosevelt in 1944 and was invited again by President Eisenhower earlier this year. The Ethiopian embassy said he has long admired the United States and his trip "gives him an opportunity to realize an old desire."

The emperor, known as "the conquering lion of the tribe of Judah," shot to world fame in 1935 when Benito Mussolini's Italian fascist forces invaded his African homeland. Haile Selassie appealed to the old League of Nations but failed to get the help he needed. He then went into exile until Ethiopia was reoccupied five years later.

The emperor is a descendant of the oldest and longest line of royalty in recorded history founded nearly 3,000 years ago by the union of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. He is the 22nd ruler in the line.

Accompanying the visiting monarch will be his youngest son, Prince Sehle Selassie Haile Selassie, a jazz enthusiast who drives an American automobile and pilots his own plane, and a granddaughter, Princess Sebla Desta.

His majesty will arrive in New York Tuesday aboard the liner United States. The following day he will fly to Washington aboard Mr. Eisenhower's personal plane, the "Columbine," for a three-day visit.

Between June 19 and 27 he will visit Mexico City, New Orleans and Fort Benning.

Gunshot Wound Victim Improves At Hospital

Mrs. Joe Dilley, 46, of near Winnsboro, was reported improving last night at the Conway Memorial hospital in Monroe where she is being treated for self-inflicted gunshot wounds.

O. J. Dilley, a son, said that he and his wife spent last week end with Mrs. Dilley, and that she had been in an extremely nervous state and bad health for some time.

According to Dilley, his mother shot herself in the side with a shotgun Wednesday morning. At the time, a sister hanging out clothes in the yard heard the shot, and ran to Mrs. Dilley's aid. She summoned the injured woman's husband, who is a Franklin parish farmer, and the two rushed Mrs. Dilley to the Rogers clinic, in Winnsboro.

Dilley said his mother worried considerably about another son, George, stationed with the U. S. Army in Germany. Pvt. Dilley was in an automobile accident recently, and suffered a broken arm and other injuries.

He said that the American Red Cross was aiding in getting Pvt. Dilley home on emergency leave. He is expected to arrive during the week end, Dilley said.

"SO MUCH for so little!". Inspect this home at 408 Moore and we think you'll agree that the price of $8,500 is right! It's a four room (2) bedroom home with a separate garage and a nice side porch, floor furnace, 42" attic fan, washer plumbing, false fireplace, double sink in kitchen, serving bar in kitchen and oak floors. If you're interested, dial us now. Pay only the closing costs and it's yours with low monthly payments to boot!!

SHOW PLACE

YOU HAVE driven by this home many times. You know this home is located in one of the finest neighborhoods. The present owner has recently redecorated and carpeted the entire first floor (it's a two story home). It offers a very attractive living room, dining room, four bedrooms, den, three bathrooms (with three showers), two car garage and two porches. In the spacious kitchen there's a GE dishwasher and large pantry. To inspect this fine home, dial 7156 and we'll be glad to show it (we like to show it.)

100% G. I.

HOW'D YOU LIKE to pay only the closing costs and only $81.00 (approx.) a month on a house with features such as these: both bedrooms have good closet space, washing machine on screened back porch goes with the house, side screened porch, separate garage with store room, 48" attic fan with time control, hardwood floors, new roof, natural woodwork, floor furnace, private back yard, formica cabinet top and extra nice linoleum in kitchen. Located at 3612 Polk Street . . . This is a clean home for only $7,975. See for yourself — call us now and we'll unlock the door for you!

GOING! GOING! GONE!

YOU'LL BE SORRY when you call us and ask to see this home and we tell you it's been sold, so why not call today to see it! The address is 2213 Jasmine (if you're familiar with Monroe, you'll know that this is a choice neighborhood). Everyone likes a lot with trees and you'll like this lot. About the house now, it's a two bedroom home with living room, dining room, kitchen (good size) and a side screened porch with a serving bar from the kitchen (perfect for summer eating). The separate garage has a large storage room with washer plumbing, dryer connection and a tub basin. There's a disappearing stair to the attic in the kitchen and there's room galore for storage. So why not call the nourd . . . and the brick fireplace with logs and big mirror, 36" attic fan and ceiling fan on the side porch are added features. Don't be sorry . . . call us now and we'll take you out.

FIRST GLANCE...

AND IT'S LOVE at first sight with this home located on Sandal Drive (in the new Broadmoor addition). This solid masonry home has two bedrooms and a den. You'll be impressed with the tremendous fireplace in the living room (by the way, the living room is carpeted), the pine paneled kitchen, the blue ceramic tile bathroom, the lifetime crushed marble roof! Here's a truly solid buy in a solid brick home, and for a G. I. it's only five per cent down! For further information on this "charmer," phone us now.

HERE'S ANOTHER

NORTH SIDE location that any family would be proud to own. Drive by 1511 North Seventh Street and you'll know exactly what we mean. It's ideally located, for it's only six blocks to a grammer school, 3 to Neville, 4 blocks from the park, swimming pool, tennis courts and golf course. Now, about the house. It has a side screen porch, a separate garage with storage space, washer plumbing in kitchen, nice closets with lights, attic fan, oak floors . . . the entire house is in very god condition. For inspection, call us now.

MUCH LESS...

THAN THE FHA appraised value . . . and that's something!! The selling price at 103 Grayling Lane (attractive southside neighborhood) is $6,900 and after your down payments, monthly payments will be just $45.00. This house features a real fireplace with logs, 42" attic fan, floor furnace, wonderful private fenced in back yard, outlet for an electric stove, washer plumbing on back porch. The living room and dining room are good sizes, and both bedrooms are 12x13. If you're looking for a "low monthly payment" home . . . call now to see this one!

IT'S NO SENSE...

IN READING this ad further, unless you're interested in assuming the loan on the house located at 1500 Alabama. Pay $726.00 down and assume monthly payments of $47.00 and move right in! Seems like a steal, but make your own decision with these facts: natural woodwork throughout, oak floors, bath has shower, floor furnace and an attic fan; very good taste in wallpaper throughout. Why not call now for a look!

CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU...

TRUER WORDS we never spoken! And the owner at 322 Stewart couldn't take it with him when he moved from Monroe. But definitely this home is ideal for a family looking for three bedrooms. There's also a bath and a half. The hall is lined with floor to ceiling closets, a wonderful breezeway, storeroom in the carport, floor furnace, attic fan, oak and pine floors. Here's an interesting fact. It's selling for $1,500 less than the FHA appraised value. It's ever so ready for a family to move in, for it's vacant. Give us a ring for a showing.

BENDING YOUR EAR?

WELL . . . IT SOUNDS like it I'll admit, but we've two of the nicest and newest 3 bedroom homes directly across the street from Millsaps grammar in W. Monroe that you've seen in ages AND they're vacant! Needless to say the owner is "chompin' at the bits" waiting for a sale for they're splendid buys! They both are on 75 ft. lots . . . have large living room & separate dining area . . . panel-ray heat . . . attic fan . . . and "to boot" they both have new Venetian blinds throughout! They're both selling for "way less" than the FHA appraised value. Call today for a "gander!"

NOPE...

IT'S NOT HIGH priced ($8500) nor is the down payment "hefty"... ($750) but man whata' place! Among the 1134 sq. feet of this one are these features: two 14x14 bedrooms; hardwood floors; copper plumbing; has a relaxing side screened porch; 42" attic fan; washer plumbing in kitchen and it also has a garage. Don't daily, dial today for a look.

NO JOKE?

"YOU MEAN for only $650 down I can buy this spacious place?" Yes'um . . . it's on the Restful Home Road (just off White's Ferry Road) on a 150x250 lot with numerous shade trees. The home has 1473 sq. feet of living area with 2 spacious bedrooms; a 9x24 den; large living room and dining area; central heating; enclosed garage; large kitchen with washer plumbing and separate breakfast area. $650 down is all it takes to make the move for a qualified G. I.

BEING HOUNDED?

NEED A 3 bedroom home in a good location in W. Monroe but you're "being hounded" by the thought of not having the necessary cash for a large down payment? Well, if that's it and you're a G. I. . . . "We've the goods" located at 2710 S 8th on a corner lot. It has separate living and dining room . . . enclosed garage . . . 80'x150' lot . . . attic fan and floor furnace and other features. No down payment on a G. I. loan with monthly notes of approx. $61.

ELUSIVE!

THEY'RE rather hard to get your hands on but we've "snared" a new 3 bedroom home on a large 80'x150' lot, that's already financed with a reasonable down payment . . . that's "out in the country"! It's located only 2 blocks from Claiborne grammar in Butler's Subdivision and combines these features among it's roomy square footage: nice cabinet spaces . . . wall heaters, attic fan . . . copper plumbing . . . bath has shower . . . washer plumbing and carport and monthly notes of only $58.89. It's a "showplace" and we'll show at your convenience!

100% G. I.

HERE'S A "scotchman's delight" for sure! It's selling for only $7000 with only $250 closing costs required for a qualified G. I. and with monthly notes of only $44. It's located at 307 Georgia St. with washer plumbing in the kitchen; oak floors; living room has false fireplace; copper plumbing; and other features. It's a good buy in an established neighborhood!

ABC Retail Trade Zone Population Now Exceeds

THESE FIRMS HELPED MAKE THAT GROWTH

Monroe is the first marketing trade center in Northeast Louisiana, proclaims Sales Management's authoritative 1953 Survey of Buying Power. Metropolitan Area retail sales last year reached an all-time high, $96,103,000, while buying power soared to over $107 million!

Monroe is one of the major U. S. cities where, according to Sales Management, "Intensified promotional campaigns will bring the greatest results."

Polio Foundation Officer Cites Gains Over Diseases

It looks as though we have just about whipped the dreaded polio disease after sixteen years of the March of Dimes program, Ed Foreman told Rotarians at their weekly meeting.

The speaker, who has been state representative for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis since June 1951, discussed the progress which has been made by the organization since its establishment in 1938.

Foreman, who was introduced by Dr. C. E. Wilds, Jr., is liason officer between local chapters and the National Foundation headquarters. He works closely with parish medical authorities, hospital officials, crippled children's services and other organizations concerned with polio care.

"We hope that we are on the threshold of prevention of paralysis," the speaker said. He was optimistic about the vaccine prepared by Dr. Jonas Salk. "It has the hope of the world," Foreman declared.

Questions raised regarding the possibilities of the vaccine revolve about its validity and effectiveness. Children throughout the nation are receiving the vaccine, but "We must go through a polio season to determine its worth," the speaker continued. Even if the vaccine proves valuable it is not known how much of it will be available by 1955, following the present polio season.

During the fight against the disease the Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has revealed polio ravages each year, furnished money for rehabilitation, saved lives and cared for the stricken.

The organization has spent 175 million dollars in the last sixteen years for patient care and 25 million for research. It has emphasized education regarding polio through short courses for physicians and nurses and fellowships for therapists and others working in this field.

A large amount of equipment to assist polio cases has also been provided by the Foundation, the speaker told the group. Respirators were needed last year for 7000 cases. When patients are taken to polio centers iron lungs are available.

Martin Sanders To Head Lions

TULLOS, May 22 (Special)—Martin Sanders, Olla attorney, has been elected president of the Lions club at Tullos, with installation of the newly elected slate of officers scheduled for June 1.

The installation of the new officers and directors will be held at a dinner meeting at Stella's cafe in Tullos, June 1, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

In addition to the president, other officers who will be seated at the installation will be Kenneth Norsworthy, first vice president; Herbert Hawthorne, second vice president; James Kiper, third vice president; Eric Brown, Lion tamer; W. E. Gammill, Jr., tail twister, and John Wallace, secretary-treasurer.

Directors of the club for the ensuing year will be George Travis, L. D. Wright, Herbert Russell and Herbert Hawthorne.

Gasoline Storage Tanks Destroyed

COTTON VALLEY, La., May 21 —UP—Three gasoline storage tanks exploded Friday at a Coast Oil Refinery Co. tank farm on U. S. 80 near Cotton Valley, but there were no injuries.

City Marshall H. J. Wilson said eight more tanks in the area were watered down to prevent additional explosions and to keep the fire from spreading.

Cause of the explosion was not immediately determined. A heavy traffic jam resulted on the busily-traveled highway as a result of the fire.

7th District Judge To Seek Re-Election

HARRISONBURG, May 22 (Special) — Jessie C. McGee, judge of the Seventh Judicial district comprising Catahoula and Concordia parishes, announced Wednesday that he would seek re-election in the state Democratic primary July 27.

He is the lone candidate for district judge at the present time. D. W. Gibson, incumbent district attorney, has filed for re-election and is opposed by Lloyd Love, Ferriday attorney.

The Milams Fete Couple With Al Fresco Supper

An outstanding affair last week was the al fresco supper at Which Dr. and Mrs. DeWitt T. Milam entertained in compliment to his brother, Arthur Edward Mathes of Honolulu Hawaii and his bride - elect Elizabeth Vaughan Williams of Atlanta Ga. and Leesburg Fla. Approximately sixty guests gathered in the garden of the Milam home on Island Drive where a delectable supper was served.

Among the out - of - town guests for the occasion were Lieut. Robert Williams and Mrs. Williams of Greenville Miss. Commander Miller Ward and Mrs. Ward of Memphis Tenn. Dr. Hugh Beaucham of New Orleans Miss Inez Landry of New Orleans Mr. and Mrs. Ben Burnside Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burnside and Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Colt all of Newellton La.

Dr. Wayne Gray pastor of the Covenant Presbyterian Church of Monroe officiated at the Mathes-Williams nuptials which were solemnized at the Milam's home the morning of Saturday May 15th in the presence of members of the immediate families.

Following a wedding trip to Atlanta Ga. and Daytona Beach Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Mathes will where Mr. Mathes is affiliated with embark for Honolulu, Hawaii, the Kamehameha School for Girls.

Tri-Delta Alliance Has Election

Mrs. W. T. Allen was elected president of the Delta Delta Delta Alliance at a meeting Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Richard Guelzow on Emerson Street.

Other officers elected to serve during the coming year are Mrs. Phelp Lyons, vice-president, Mrs. H. P. Foster, secretary and Mrs. Benton Wakefield, treasurer.

During the business meeting plans were discussed for the Delta Delta Delta state meet which is to be held in Monroe in May of 1955.

Mrs. Ralph Smith, president, presided at the meeting and pointed out that the local alliance will be hostess to the state meeting next year.

Purely Personal

Miss Olive Martin will leave this week for San Francisco, where she sails Sunday on the U. S. President Wilson for a Far East cruise of several months. The cruise includes visits to Honolulu, Hong Kong, and while in Manila she will stop for a three weeks visit with her niece Mrs. Fred Peck and Col. Peck and daughter Dianne, later visiting various ports of call in Japan. Her plans are to return late in August.

Mrs. J. Bridger Thornhill left yesterday for Washington, D. C. where she will spend several days with friends. After a few days in New York City she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Stevens in Bronxville and will accompany them to Wellesley for the graduation of their daughter, Miss Lelia Doyle Stevens from Pine Manor. Mrs. Thomas Leigh and Mrs. Howard Greene entertained for her at luncheon at the Lotus Club on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt Sperry will arrive home today from a five-day visit in Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mouk have as their guests this week end Mr. and Mrs. George M. Mouk of Baton Rouge and their children, George III and Susan.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Reiger Jr., former Monroe residents, announce the birth of their second daughter and third child, Rachael Brent. She was born May 6 in Baton Rouge, where the Reigers are making their home.

Mrs. John R. White is in Jersey, Ark., today, where she was invited to give a program of poetry for the annual community "Homecoming." Hundreds of former residents and friends gather each year in Jersey for this celebration. This is Mrs. White's birthplace and the background for her two books of poems, "These Are My Hills," and "Forty Acres."

Mrs. C. H. Young of Maryville, Mo., is visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Monerief and Mr. Monerief. Before arriving in Monroe she was the guest of her son, C. H. Young, Jr., and Mrs. Young in New Orleans.

Major and Mrs. Gene M. Freeman and daughter, Christine left Friday for Augusta, Ga., for their new assignment of duty at Camp Gordon. Major Freeman has been an instructor in military science at Northeast State College.

Mrs. C. W. Wallace is visiting relatives in Wharton, Tex., and before returning home will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Will Wallace in Wichita Falls, Tex.

Mrs. Earl Moore left Friday for her home in Ft. Worth, Tex., after a visit of several days with Mr. and Mrs. Grant Boardman.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bell returned Thursday from Nashville, Tenn., where they attended the Southern States Accounting Conference. While there they were guests at the Hermitage.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Terzia and daughter, Martha, departed this week on a motor trip through Florida. They plan to visit St. Augustine, Miami and other points of interest during the next two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Neel and daughter, Laurelle, left yesterday for Atlanta, Ga., where they will visit Mrs. Neel's parents. Later they will vacation on the Atlantic coast.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Myatt, Jr., are the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Pautout in New Iberia.

Joe Loper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Loper, departed this week for El Paso, Tex., where he will serve in the armed forces at Fort Bliss.

Friends will be interested to learn that Sue Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, won first place in a recent opera contest. Her picture was carried along with a sketch in the current Junior Music Club's magazine. Sue is also president of the Moment Musicale Coterie.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Crow will return home Monday from a trip to New York City.

Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Dickenhorst attended the medical convention in New Orleans this week and will spend a few days at Grand Isle before returning home.

Mrs. Theo Terzia, Jr. and daughter, Louise Le, have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Anderson, in Shreveport for the past few days.

MISS ANN MCDONALD

Mooney-McDonald Engagement Is Announced Today

Of interest to a wide circle of friends throughout Louisiana is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur C. McDonald of Jonesboro of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ann, to Joseph M. Mooney of New Orleans, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mooney of Hamilton, New York.

Garden Club Tour Cancelled

Mrs. V. H. Rivers, president of the Monroe Garden Club, announces that the tour scheduled for early in May, and postponed because of rains, has been definitely cancelled for the summer. The tour was to include the bayou homes of the Nathon Gastons, J. C. Ernests, Harold Mouks, and Charles Whittelseys. This property was at one time known as "The Gums" plantation and was owned by the Henry Bry family. The present site of all four homes is on a ridge, one of the highest elevations in Ouachita Parish.

TRUNK TRADE

Here's how to exchange an old trunk for a gay toy chest: Put castors on each corner of a wooden base. Nail or glue the old trunk to the base. Paint the top and base of the trunk a bright color. Paint the sides in stripes. Glue the seat of a doll onto the center of the top and—there you have a dream toy chest.

MRS. THOMAS DENSON ALLEN

Miss McLaurin Weds T. D. Allen In Ruston

Of interest to friends, was the recent marriage of Miss Emma Jean McLaurin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McLaurin of Ruston, to Thomas Denson Allen, son of Mr. T. D. Allen of Calhoun.

Vows were exchanged in the First Baptist Church at 5 o'clock in the afternoon with Reverend G. Avery Lee officiating. Tall white tapers burned in wrought-iron candelabra in front of the altar which was decorated with southern smilax and large baskets of white gaildioli and smaller baskets of deutsia. Drew Shaw, organist, accompanied Charles Worley who sang, "Thine Alone," "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride given in marriage by her father was dressed in a bridal gown with cotton lace bodice with rounded neck, lined in seed pearls. Self covered buttons decorated the long pointed sleeves and the waist which came to a point where it joined the bouffant skirt of nylon net over taffeta. Her veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis and feverfew, centered with a purple orchid.

The maid of honor was Miss Mary Ann McLaurin, sister of the bride. Her dress was of dusty rose taffeta with circular skirt with wide waist band and matching tulle drape. Garlands of daisies formed her bouquet. Bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Sutton, Miss Millie Tinsley, Miss Jo Ann Frazier and Miss Jan Williams were dressed like the maid of honor in sky blue taffeta. They also carried garlands of daisies.

The candle lighters were Miss Jannis Breeden and Miss Elizabeth McLaurin.

Billy Joe Adcox served as best man and ushers were Joe Kavanaugh, Jimmy Breeden, Clem Drewett, Jimmy Boyd, Lacey Stinson and Jimmy Childress.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was given in the home of the bride. The bride's table was covered with a linen cloth decorated with roses, calenduals and daisies. Silver candle holders and the double ring wedding cake were on one end of the table and the crystal punch bowl on the other. Presiding at the table were Mrs. A. A. Breeden, aunt of the bride, who served the punch and Mrs. C. J. Thayer, another aunt, serving the cake. Assisting them were Miss Jeanne Upshaw, Mrs. Roy Stedman, Mrs. Billy Edwards, Miss Beulah Ford, Miss Sue and Miss Ann Melton. Miss Louise Murchison was in charge of the bride's book.

Rundle-Kelley Vows Exchanged

Our Lady Of Fatima Alter Society Installs Officers

The first annual banquet of the Altar Society of Our Lady of Fatima Church was held at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club Tuesday.

On this occasion, new officers for the coming year were installed. Re-elected to serve for a second term were Mrs. E. L. Ritter, president; Mrs. Jerome Braud, treasurer; and Mrs. Jack Hover, secretary. Other officers installed were Miss Sara Scalia, vice president, and Mrs. F. J. Scalia, corresponding secretary.

Father George W. Martinez, pastor of Our Lady of Fatima Church, gave the blessing and Father Joseph Susi, assistant pastor of St. Matthew's Church, gave the thanksgiving.

Members present at the dinner were the Mesdames: A. Trichel, E. J. Jeansonne, Carl Guinn, F. E. Smith, E. D. Galligan, George Heller, Owen Moses, L. R. Merten, Peter Morrell, Parker McGee, L. M. Brinson, E. H. Raynaud, E. L. Ritter, Frank Rizzo, L. F. Rodwig, F. J. Scalia, R. A. Tompkins, Frank Trichel, C. O. Worley, W. E. McCoy, Merton Abington, John Adranga, James Balsamo, Jerome Braud, W. Neville Seniors Are Entertained At Series Of Graduation Parties

Activities in the social world this week centered around graduation with high school seniors entertaining classmates and friends at a series of pre-graduation parties.

Highlighting the festivities was a formal dance at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club Thursday night hosted by Virginia Blanks, Miss Elstner Frazer, Palmer Jarrell, Miss Pauline Barringer and Miss Pat Reitzell.

A graduation theme was used in the decorations with magnolia leaves and candles banked along the corridor and club entrance. Of focal interest in the lounge was a large mortarboard and diploma suspended from the ceiling and a picturesque painting of Neville High School.

Music was provided by Mel Spain and his orchestra between nine and one o'clock.

Following the formal, the hostesses and hosts entertained their guests at breakfast in the club dining room.

Earlier in the evening, Miss Julia Williams, Miss Marion Huckaby and Miss Margaret Lee were hostesses at an open house for Neville seniors and their dates in the home of Miss Lee on McGuire avenue.

A coke hour on Wednesday was Miss Jo Cross' compliment to the Neville senior girls.

On Wednesday Mrs. Aylmer Montgomery honored Miss Catherine Noel with a luncheon at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Enjoying the occasion with Miss Noel and Mrs. Montgomery were: Miss Elstner Frazer; Miss Virginia Blanks; Miss Clara Ann Starnes; Miss Martha Ann Coon; Miss Pat Reitzell.

Among the out-door parties for seniors was a wiener-roast at Bernstein Park for the ninety-six members of Neville's graduating class.

Those who gave the party were Miss Joan Walsworth, Miss Pat White, Miss Pat Simmons, Miss Pat Patterson, Miss Barbara Gresham, Miss Barbara Farmer, Miss Maurine Knight, Miss Patsy Rasberry, Miss Billie Fay Williams, Miss Erline Mathus, Miss Sally Smith, Miss Caroline Graham and Miss Rita Davis.

They were assisted by Mrs. Milton Coverdale and Mrs. Beatrice Patterson.

Mrs. Zell Smith New President Of Book Club

Mrs. B. E. McWilliams, program chairman for Welcome Branch Book Club, conducted a very impressive installation ceremony at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club, Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. when members and guests met for luncheon.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Ben Oliphant and the guests introduced were, Mrs. Florence Caldwell, Mrs. Best and Mrs. Mason.

Mrs. Zell Smith was installed as president and with her will be Mrs. E. E. Lawson, first vice-president, Mrs. Morris Miller, second vice-president, Mrs. A. J. Speer, Jr., recording secretary, Mrs. W. B. Wheelis, corresponding secretary, Mrs. D. R. Hamilton, treasurer, Mrs. R. H. Dollar, reporter, Mrs. E. M. Vandiver, historian, Mrs. E. A. Porter, parliamentarian. Mrs. James Eppinette will be program chairman, Mrs. R. H. Dollar, library chairman, Mrs. A. S. Gunter, clubwoman and Mrs. W. H. Cushman, pianist.

During the luncheon, Mrs. Eppinette presented the new year books. Mrs. F. E. Black gave a brief resume of the state L. F. W. C. she attended in Shreveport. Mrs. Zell Smith gave an interesting account of the Highway Safety conference. She was appointed state safety chairman of L. F. W. C. by the state president, Mrs. Mary Stewart.

Mrs. J. D. Petty gave a brief talk on Americanism.

Members present were: Mrs. R. H. Dollar, Mrs. A. C. Warner, Mrs. B. R. Oliphant, Mrs. James Eppinette, Mrs. Henson Coon, Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. J. D. Petty, Mrs. L. V. Tarver, Mrs. George Phebus, Mrs. Zell Smith, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. A. S. Gunter, Mrs. E. A. Porter, Mrs. W. B. Wheelis, Mrs. Cyril Yancey, Mrs. D. R. Hamilton, Mrs. F. E. Black, Mrs. L. F. Bewick, Mrs. E. E. Lawson, Mrs. W. H. Cushman, Mrs. Morris Miller, Mrs. Blanche Cummins, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. James Horton, Mrs. B. E. McWilliams and the three guests.

News From The Public Library

This was a banner week for the arrival of new books at the Ouachita Parish Public Library and there are books available for every reading taste. In the field of adult fiction alone there are more than a dozen new titles, with duplicate copies of most of them. Leading the list of course is "The Royal Box" by Frances Parkinson Keyes. This story has a European background, which will be a disappointment to those who enjoy stories written by Mrs. Keyes with a Louisiana setting. However, she writes interestingly about the activities of high society in Europe and there will be many people who will want her book.

Historical novels are always popular and there are three new titles this week. "Diane" by Herbert Best is a thrilling story set on the island of Jamaica in the year 1804. "The Corioli Affair" by Mary Deasy is a story of mystery and intrigue, set in a southern river town during the last century. "Lights Across the Delaware" by David Taylor is another interesting and exciting story of the War of the American Revolution.

Novels with a contemporary setting are becoming more and more popular. This week we have four titles of that group. "The Tunnel of Love" by Peter De Vries has for its setting a large newspaper office. "Miss Library Lady" by Ann McLelland Pfaender is the story of a young American girl who went to Hawaii as a librarian. "The Mango Season" by Kathryn Grondahl is a completely absorbing story of life on a mango plantation in Siam. "Temptation for a King" by John H. Secondari is a story of international intrigue in present day Europe.

Readers of western stories will welcome a new title, "Texas Renegade" by Walter A. Tompkins, while mystery readers will be glad that we have two new books for them. "The Face of Fear" by Louise Eskrigge Crump has for its setting Etonville in the Mississippi Delta, which is in reality Greenville. Many people in this locality know Mrs. Crump, who is the society editor of the Delta Democrat Times in Greenville. The other mystery story is "The Silent Pool" by Patricia Wentworth. This is another one of the remarkably interesting "Miss Silver" stories.

Newer than tomorrow are two books of supernatural type. "Flight" by Evelyn Easton is a story of the afterlife, while "The Secret Stair" by Phyllis Bottome has its setting in a sanitorium in the Swiss Alps. This book has a great deal of psychological information in it.

The books mentioned are available at all of the branches of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Are you using the library resources? If not, start as soon as possible.

Engagement Told

FERRIDAY — Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brocato, of Ferriday, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Gloria, to Freddie Martello, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Crump, Clayton. The wedding will be solemnized June 11 at the First Baptist Church in this city.

HATLESS CZECHS

The average Czechoslovakian woman buys a new hat only once every 36 years, reports "Lidova Demokracie," Prague daily newspaper. The reasons cited, in a translation by the Free Europe Committee are: lack of attractive styles and the growing popularity of kerchiefs.

Mrs. Everett Zeagler Is Hostess To Music Teachers

The Music Teachers Association of Monroe and West Monroe held their May meeting at the country home of Mrs. Everett Zeagler on Columbia Road. A buffet supper was served at the hostess and hospitality chairman, Mrs. A. R. Kilpatrick, assisted by Mrs. W. E. Williams.

Following the social period a brief business session featured the changes and new plans for the next season's meetings. Nominating committee chairman, Mr. James E. Monroe, announced names of the incoming executive board. Officers elected were Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, president, Mr. Frank Parker, vice president, Mrs. Evan Zeagler, secretary, Mrs. R. G. Luckett, recording secretary, Mrs. Wilbur Bullock, treasurer, Mrs. Elvera Smith, publicity, Mrs. A. R. Kilpatrick, historian, Mrs. James E. Monroe, parliamentarian.

Annual reports of club activities were given by committee chairmen and officers. A recommendation to have fewer meetings in the months of December was adopted. To be more prepared with special meetings of at least three, in order to give teachers the opportunity of presenting more music students in more public appearances than in the past. A chairman for each regular meeting will be appointed by the year book committee, in order that interesting programs may be planned in advance. Mr. Elbert Strahorn, of the music faculty of Northeast Louisiana State College, will be the 1954-55 yearbook chairman, as asked by Mr. James E. Monroe also of the music faculty of the local college, and Mrs. A. R. Kilpatrick, director of the West Monroe High School choir and ensemble. The membership committee consists of Mrs. M. M. Tabb, chairman, Mrs. Willys Hopkins and Mrs. W. E. Williams. Mr. Frank Parker was appointed hospitality chairman, assisted by Miss Lila Scogin and Mrs. Harvey Nelson.

Mrs. Bennie Phelps was accepted as a new member of the organization at the conclusion of the business period.

Members and guests present at the social meeting were: Mrs. Florence Z. Albritton, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Bullock, Mr. and Mrs. Willys Hopkins and Miss Edwina Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kilpatrick, Mrs. R. G. Luckett, Mr. and Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, Mr. James E. Monroe, Mrs. Harvey Nelson, Mr. Frank Parker, Miss Lila Scogin, Mrs. W. E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Zeagler.

MISS JIMMIE GRACE HAYLES

Miss Hayles Will Wed In Late August

Mrs. Rubye M. Hayles of Oxford, Miss., announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Jimmie Grace Hayles, to Walter J. Pierron, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Pierron of Wisner, La. Miss Hayles is the daughter of Mrs. Rubye Hayles and the late Mr. David Earl Hayles of Oxford, Mississippi.

The bride - elect was graduated with distinction from the University High School at Oxford, Miss., receiving the Danforth Foundation Award. At present, Miss Hayles is a sophomore in the University of Mississippi School of Commerce, majoring in secretarial science. She is a member of Epsilon Gamma Epsilon, professional educational fraternity, Delta Gamma social fraternity, and of the Junior Pan-Hellenic Council.

Mr. Pierron was graduated from Wisner High School and attended the University of Mississippi School of Pharmacy where he received his bachelor of science degree and was a member of Rho Chi Society, honorary pharmacy society, Gamma Sigma Epsilon, honorary chemistry fraternity, and Phi Delta Chi, professional pharmacy fraternity. He, upon graduation in May, 1954, received the Lehn and Fink prize for obtaining the highest overall average of graduates in the school of pharmacy.

The ceremony will be solemnized on August 22 in the Oxford University Methodist Church with the Rev. A. L. Meadows officiating.

Becky Watts Receives DAR Recognition

Miss Becky Watts, an 8th grade student at the West Monroe High School has been awarded the D.A.R. medal for excellence in history. During the senior achievement day program, Miss Katherine Averett, a member of Chief Tusquahoma Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, made the presentation.

Becky is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Watts, 305 N. 4th Street, is 13 years of age, and currently finishing the 8th grade.

She is a member of the Future Homemakers of America and a member of Student Council Constitution Committee.

MRS. THEODORE EVANS was before her recent wedding Miss Barbara Browder, daughter of Mrs. Henry Browder and the late Mr. Browder of Winnsboro. Dr. Evans is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Evans of Baskin. The couple will make their home in Baskin.

Mrs. W. Marlowe Hostess To Club In Mangham

Last month the Mangham Literary Club met in the home of Mrs. Woodford Marlowe with Mrs. Annette Coolidge, co-hostess.

Mrs. Ruby Williamson, international relations chairman, announced the topic for discussion, Shining Personalities in International Relations, and presented Miss Ola Cooper, who gave a most interesting reading on an article from the April, 1953 Clubwoman, entitled "World Tour Diary."

The club was privileged to have as guest speaker, Miss Ethel Watson, who gave a short biographical sketch on the first American woman ambassador, Mrs. Helen Eugenie Anderson.

The meeting adjourned by repeating the club collect in unison. Refreshments were served to those present.

The May meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Ruby Williamson. Assisting with the duties of hostess was Mrs. Marlon Lyle and Mrs. W. T. Sartor.

The leader, Mrs. Bennie Hixon, Fine Arts chairman, had a special treat in store for those present. She presented Mrs. W. T. Sartor of Alto, La., and her art disunison.

The club collect was repeated in play. This section of north Louisiana is proud to recognize and acknowledge Mrs. Sartor's outstanding talent. A portion of her display depicted life in the deep south showing the colored folks on their way fishing, and the vast fields white with cotton. Beautiful, indeed, were her sketches of the lovely iris in bloom. Her work is varied and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity to view it and to listen to Mrs. Sartor's interesting remarks.

Mrs. Bob Bell Jr. discussed Treasty - Making Powers of the President.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to those present.

do more work per day . . . more work per dollar!

You save time in traffic. New truck Hydra-Matic transmission gets you off to smooth, time-saving starts without shifting or clutching. Imagine how easy this makes driving in traffic and on delivery routes! It's optional at extra cost on ½-, ¾- and 1-ton models.

You save time on the highway. New high-compression power gets you up to highway speeds from a standing start in less time, and saves you time on hills, too. You make trips faster—and the new Comfortmaster cab makes them seem shorter. It's got everything!

You save extra trips, too. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New pickup bodies are deeper . . . new stake and platform bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower to the ground for easier loading.

You save on operating costs. High-compression power saves you money! The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235," and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost), deliver greater horsepower plus increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep. New Chevrolet trucks are built stronger to last longer and save you money on maintenance. There are heavier axle shafts in 1½-ton models . . . bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models . . . stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay - and they never stop. Chevrolet, you know, is America's lowest-priced line of trucks. And it's also the truck that has a traditionally high trade-in value.

Come in and see how much you're ahead with America's number one truck. You'll like the way we're talking business!

Becky Watts Receives DAR Recognition

Miss Becky Watts, an 8th grade student at the West Monroe High School has been awarded the D.A.R. medal for excellence in history. During the senior achievement day program, Miss Katherine Averett, a member of Chief Tusquahoma Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, made the presentation.

Becky is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Watts, 305 N. 4th Street, is 13 years of age, and currently finishing the 8th grade.

She is a member of the Future Homemakers of America and a member of Student Council Constitution Committee.

MRS. THEODORE EVANS was before her recent wedding Miss Barbara Browder, daughter of Mrs. Henry Browder and the late Mr. Browder of Winnsboro. Dr. Evans is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Evans of Baskin. The couple will make their home in Baskin.

Mrs. W. Marlowe Hostess To Club In Mangham

Last month the Mangham Literary Club met in the home of Mrs. Woodford Marlowe with Mrs. Annette Coolidge, co-hostess.

Mrs. Ruby Williamson, international relations chairman, announced the topic for discussion, Shining Personalities in International Relations, and presented Miss Ola Cooper, who gave a most interesting reading on an article from the April, 1953 Clubwoman, entitled "World Tour Diary."

The club was privileged to have as guest speaker, Miss Ethel Watson, who gave a short biographical sketch on the first American woman ambassador, Mrs. Helen Eugenie Anderson.

The meeting adjourned by repeating the club collect in unison. Refreshments were served to those present.

The May meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Ruby Williamson. Assisting with the duties of hostess was Mrs. Marion Lyle and Mrs. W. T. Sartor.

The leader, Mrs. Bennie Hixon, Fine Arts chairman, had a special treat in store for those present. She presented Mrs. W. T. Sartor of Alto, La., and her art disunison.

The club collect was repeated in play. This section of north Louisiana is proud to recognize and acknowledge Mrs. Sartor's outstanding talent. A portion of her display depicted life in the deep south showing the colored folks on their way fishing, and the vast fields white with cotton. Beautiful, indeed, were her sketches of the lovely iris in bloom. Her work is varied and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity to view it and to listen to Mrs. Sartor's interesting remarks.

Mrs. Bob Bell Jr. discussed Treaty - Making Powers of the President.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to those present.

Girl Scout News

One of the most successful events at Pine Wood, the participants will agree, was the recent Brownie day for the girls who excelled in the cookie sale. Forty - five of the sixty girls who were eligible showed up, along with a few little brothers and sisters and the following grown-ups who assisted: Mrs. J. C. Loftin, Mrs. Gordon Jordon, Mrs. Jack Norman, Mrs. Elizabeth Atkinson, Mrs. Owen Moses, Mrs. Leon Noland, Mrs. Burt Sperry, Miss Stella Jernigan, Mrs. C. E. Carter, Mrs. W. H. Chambliss, Mrs. Stanley Jones, Mrs. P. A. Purvis, and Miss Annis Klie.

After the opening flag ceremony the girls were divided into patrols and assigned to different leaders. Each girl was given a colored ribbon to pin in her hair, each patrol wearing a different color. A nature scavenger hunt followed, with the green patrol winning and the lavender coming in second. The patrols picked up rocks on the camp grounds, played such lively games as "Run, Rabbit, Run" and "Buddies," and of course, spent all their free time on the grapevine swing.

At lunch time the girls made ice cream in two big freezers and did all the preparations for the meal, as well as the cleaning up afterward, just like the big girls. All the girls said they had a wonderful time. For some of them it was the first visit to Pine Wood, our own troop camp. Their leaders announced that day camp will be held at Pine Wood for eight days in July.

Troop 7, with their leaders, Mrs. Robert Riddle and Mrs. Curtis Nichols, had spent Friday night at camp. The Brownies were interested in seeing their housekeeping. The older campers, however, went on a long hike, taking their lunch to the sand bar and spending most of the day there.

Last Saturday the green uniform was very much in evidence when 43 Scouts and several leaders from Alexandria visited Monroe for a tour of the television station. The group stopped at the Girl Scout office first, and were joined at the station and for lunch by groups of local Scouts from troops 11 and 34.

Troop 35 reports an interesting tour of the television station recently. Troop 6 made a trip to a bakery, where the girls were given a loaf of fresh - baked bread and shown all the steps in making it. The bread tasted mighty good, they said.

One of the newest Brownie troops, Troop 54, had a picnic at Bernstein Park last week, under the leadership of Mrs. D. A. Stancil, Mrs. Elsie D. Dupont, and Mrs. Marjorie Lewis. Miss Annis Klie, executive director, visited with them and taught the girls a game and a song.

This week will see another cookie group at camp Wednesday and Thursday, and Troop 11 Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Troop 11 plans to have its court-of-awards at camp Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Parents of the girls are to come out after church, bringing picnic lunches and remaining for the ceremony. The troop invites any other Scout families to drive out with a picnic lunch or for the court-of-awards.

OFFICERS OF LA VINGT CLUB met last week to discuss plans for the new club year. Seated are Mrs. T. H. Scott, the outgoing president and Mrs. A. Petrus, who will guide the club for the coming year. Standing, Mrs. Richard Whitehurst, secretary, Mrs. George Phebus, re-elected treasurer for the year, Mrs. A. D. Bernhardt, vice-president, and Mrs. Lucian Harris, Jr., retiring secretary.

LaVingt Club Ends Year Of Interesting Programs

LaVingt Club, under the leadership of Mrs. T. H. Scott, president, is ending a year of study and interesting programs, interspersed with social activity. The year's program was in three parts, the first quarter being devoted to Louisiana in connection with Sesquicentennial of Louisiana Purchase, the second quarter, religion, psychology and music, and the third quarter, spring styles, homes and yards. For the Louisiana programs the speakers were Miss Frances Flanders, who gave an interesting history of our state; Miss Julia Wossman, who told of historic points in north Louisiana; a book review by Mrs. T. H. Scott by a Louisiana author; Louisiana music by Mrs. B. A. Trousdale, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. E. W. Cruse; Louisiana writers by Mr. Jack Ansell; and an outing at Grasse Haven, enjoying Louisiana hospitality and viewing the art collection of Mr. Grasse.

Dr. E. K. Means, speaker for the December luncheon meeting, brought an inspiring message to members and guests for the beginning of the Christmas season, and at the December 17th meeting Mr. Maurice Glazer showed his pictures of the Holy Land, which was one of the outstanding programs of the year. Dr. H. W. Sagasor talked to members on different phases of psychology and also recounted some of his experiences as a teacher at the College of the Ozarks, at a meeting in the home of Mrs. W. O. Webb, Mrs. J. Norman Coon entertained with several delightful readings at a luncheon meeting.

Beginning the spring season at a luncheon at the Lotus Club, Mrs. Ada Gruber and Mrs. Jo Whetstone discussed spring styles, colors and materials. An instructive and interesting talk on yards and use of different fertilizers was given by Mrs. J. W. Swift at a meeting on April 8, at which time the birthday of the club's president, Mrs. Scott, was observed by the presentation of a corsage to Mrs. Scott and the cutting of a birthday cake. At a recent meeting in the lovely new home of Mrs. Lucian H. Harris the members were entertained by piano selections and songs by Mrs. Cecil Hill and a book review, "Indigo Bend" by Alice Walworth Graham, was given by Mrs. Rupert Scott of Wisner, La., who also told some of the highlights of her recent trip to Williamsburg.

One of the outstanding events of this club each year is the musical program by members of the club, which is held in the home of Mrs. William Wilkerson, who is an accomplished organist and pianist. Mrs. Wilkerson rendered several organ solos as well as organ and piano duets with her sister, Mrs. E. W. Cruse. Other members giving piano selections were Mrs. A. Petrus, Mrs. Richard Whitehurst, Mrs. Cecil Hill, Mrs. W. O. Webb and Mrs. A. D. Bernhardt. Several guests enjoyed this afternoon of music along with members.

Along with the study and music programs were several evening entertainments in which the husbands and guests were included. A fish fry at Riley's Camp was enjoyed during the early fall; a Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Leon Sutton was held during the holiday season, and a barbecue at Straus' Camp was a highlight of the early spring. Social activities are ending with a bridge luncheon at Bayou DeSiard Club and an outing at Louisville Cooperage Camp to be held during May.

Home Ceremony Unites Couple In Irving, Texas

In an impressive home ceremony at Irving, Tex., Miss Vivana Finklea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Finklea of Calhoun, became the bride of Billy Harold Brunette of Dallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Brunette of Naples, Tex.

Miss Vanara Parsons of Dallas served as maid of honor.

Best man was Mr. Jamie Cranfield also of Dallas.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Finklea wore a pale blue linen suit with navy and white accessories and a white corsage. Mrs. Brunette was dressed in a navy crepe model with navy and white accessories and a white corsage.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. The dining table was overlaid with a lace cloth and held a tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Opposite the cake was a crystal punch bowl.

Mrs. Laverne Cranfield served the wedding cake and Mrs. Janelle Frost presided at the punch service.

Out - of - town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Orville Brunette of Naples, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. James Finklea; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Frost of Calhoun; Mrs. Janelle Frost of Monroe.

The bride is a graduate of Calhoun High School and Louisiana Business College.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: I am 19 and went steady with my boy friend, who is now in the service, for six months before he left. He often spoke of marriage but never asked me directly if I would marry him. Now, I have received a diamond ring from him through the mail and I don't know whether I should keep it or not? Please advise me. —Daily Reader

If it's a proposal you're holding back for, you've had it, my sweet. What could speak a more beautiful language than that sparkling solitaire in its little bed of velvet? If your friend talked "marriage" and now sends this stolid little message, you need merely answer "Yea" or "Nay" according to the dictates of your heart.

If, however, you are not sure about your feelings, thank the boy prettily for his vote of confidence but tell him you will wait until he returns home to decide. Also ask him to advise you what he wants you to do with the ring—whether to return it via mail (registered, please) or keep it locked in a safe place until he returns.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 45 and the mother of two boys, 19 and 25. Neither of the boys thinks I have any right to reprimand him. If I do, the boy clears off the handle and I seem to end up by being the one scolded. Their father will say or do nothing since he says it will be their own fault if they get into trouble. The older boy is becoming addicted to frequent lateness and has come home on several occasions with too much to drink. He drives a car and I worry about him.

He served two years in the service and came home with a splendid letter of recommendation from his C. O. It is hard to stand by now and see him lower himself. He no longer attends church, as he is "sleeping it off" on Sunday morning. The rest of us all go. I spoke to our doctor about him and he said to let him go at it if he wanted to, as no one could help him but himself. Can you help me?—Mrs. D. M.

Your husband and your doctor are both right. Too many parents of 21-year-old men are adults. Their patterns are pretty well set and there is little "parent" except for money giving and bailing to do. The more you nag the older boy about drinking and not attending church the more he will resent it. There is no sense in your trying to "save" him. He is no more to blame for his habits than for naughty or unsightly ears. Ask your clergyman to encourage him to come back to church. Maybe one day some lovely girl will do the trick. Also hope and pray that he becomes ashamed of himself and one day will want to be a good and fine man who will want him to be former straight path. And, at his age, it may happen any minute.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 20-year-old single boy who works full time and pays "board and room" at home. My problem is with my father. When I go out Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock and come home at 12:30 a.m. he raises heck and says one he will keep me in the following week end. I do not care about the racing heck but I do detest his constant nagging about me having to get up at 6 in the morning to go to work. I figure that I am the best judge of the amount of sleep I need. Also I have been late or absent from work for the past year and a half. What do you say?—Fed Up.

Also ask him to advise you what he wants you to do with the ring—whether to return it via mail (registered, please!) or keep it tucked in a safe place until he returns.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 45 and the mother of two boys, 19 and 25. Neither of the boys thinks I have any right to reprimand him. The more you nag the older boy about drinking and not attending church, the more he will continue "just to show you he is no longer a child." He'll do more for you out of love than for nagging or scholding. Ask your clergyman to encourage him to come back to church by giving him some church work to do. Also, hope and pray that he becomes interested in a good girl—one who will lead him to his former straight path. And, at his age, it may happen any minute.

What do I say? I say that 5½ hours are not enough sleep and that you should do your night-owling on Saturday nights and get in earlier on Sunday night because you have to get up at 6 in the morning to go to work!

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper.)

Catahoula Parish Offers Best Inland Fishing Area In Nation

Sportsmen Pour In By Thousands Each Year

By PETE DOSHER

Busy farmers, who are always hoping they will be fortunate enough to escape the annual floods which prevail in this section, look up from their labor in the fields to see hundreds of automobiles loaded with fishermen streaming into the area—that tells the story of Catahoula Parish—a section of predominantly small farmers located in the best inland fishing area in the nation.

The name "Catahoula" is believed to have been derived from the Choctaw Indian word "Okkatahoula" which means "beautiful clear water." Most believe this had reference to Catahoula Lake, formerly located in the parish. Others contend that this name was conferred on the area because of the many clear creeks that traverse the hill sections of the parish.

Parish In 1808

Catahoula parish was created in 1808, four years before the state of Louisiana was admitted into the union, by an act of the legislative council and House of Representatives of the Territory of Orleans.

Boundaries of Catahoula parish have been changed several times since creation of the area and the present boundaries of the parish were established by legislative act in 1906 and went into effect in 1910.

"That from and after the passing of this act, all that part of the county of Rapide, known by the name of Catahula settlement, is hereby divided into a separate and distinct parish, that is to say, all that part of Rapide included within the following bounds, to-wit: Beginning at the mouth of Bayou Tensaw, thence up the said bayou to the Tensaw Lake, thence through the said lake, running northwest until it strikes the river Aux Boeufs, so as to include all that settlement known by the name of Sicily, thence down the said river Aux Boeufs to its junction with the Ouachita River to the Bayou Dain, a line running thence west until it strikes the south fork of (Bayou) Catahula or Little River, thence down said river to its junction with the Ouachita and Bayou Tensaw, and place of beginning shall be one distinct parish, and called and known by the name of Catahula parish."

There were several attempts to clarify the parish boundaries in the 1830's and in 1843 the northern part of Avoyelles parish was added to Catahoula.

After 1859 new parishes began to be created, with the parish of Caldwell created from parts of Ouachita and Catahoula parishes. Then in 1843, part of the parish was declared to be a part of the new parish of Franklin.

County Seat

Legislators took a big slash at Catahoula in 1852 when a large portion of the west side of the parish was incorporated into the Parish of Winn. The legislature of 1890 created from Catahoula the Parish of Troy and designated Jonesville as the county seat, with this new parish including practically all the alluvial land, including the Sicily Island area. This act, however, was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

Catahoula again lost territory in 1908, when the western part of the parish was used to create LaSalle parish. This move resulted in a big controversy but finally went into effect in 1910.

As it now exists, Catahoula is located in east central Louisiana, 26 miles from the Mississippi River and is bounded on the north by Franklin, east by Tensas and Concordia, south by Avoyelles and west by Rapides, LaSalle and Caldwell parishes. Tensas and Black Rivers flow through the parish and form the eastern boundary, Red River is the southern boundary, and the Ouachita and Little Rivers flow through and in some places form boundaries. It is a sister parish in the fifth congressional district.

Early Settlements

History of early settlements in what is now Catahoula parish is meager, but it is fairly well established that the influx of people from the south, Avoyelles parish, were French or of French descent. Many families with French names still reside in the area and one branch of Little River is still commonly referred to as "French Fork."

The upper part of the parish seems to have been settled by English - speaking persons from other states. Spanish grants in that area were made invariably to persons having English names.

The first settlements of the parish to attain the proportions of villages were Trinity, located on the narrow peninsula between the Little and Ouachita Rivers, across Little River from the present site of Jonesville, and Harrisonburg, on the Ouachita River, 10 miles north.

It is certain that Trinity came into existence prior to 1833. The town of Trinity was incorporated by an act of the 1850 legislature, and derived its name because it was located at the confluence of three rivers, the Tensas, Ouachita and Little.

Trinity continued to be a thriving river town until Jonesville on the opposite bank of Little River, supplanted it in business, population and industry. At present, little remains of Trinity, which was then the center of commercial activity.

Harrisonburg

Harrisonburg, the present parish seat, came into existence on a tract of land owned by John Harrison in the early 19th century. Little is known of the early history, except that is probably antedated Trinity because the Harrison tract was part of a Spanish grant that had been acquired by John Hamberlain from either the French or Spanish government before 1800.

Harrisonburg, like Trinity, from the beginning assumed commercial importance as a river trading town. People from all directions, and as far as 40 miles away, traded in Harrisonburg. Steamboats from New Orleans and other cities plied the Ouachita and Black Rivers regularly, bringing cargoes of goods, wares and merchandise needed for human subsistence and comfort.

Some people say that the parish seat of Catahoula was at one time on Buckies Creek, about a mile east of the present village of Manifest, but evidently it was soon transferred to Harrisonburg, as no public buildings were erected at the Buckley site.

Located within the corporate limits of Harrisonburg is a long, narrow ridge overlooking the Ouachita River, now called Fort Beauregard in honor of the Confederate general, T. G. P. Beauregard. During the Civil War, the fort was garrisoned by Rebel soldiers who threw up breastworks on all sides of it and which are still visible today.

The Confederates evacuated the fort in September 1863, after being mercilessly pounded by cannons from Federal gunboats and threatened by a Federal land force.

Jonesville

Jonesville, located in the angle between the Little and Black Rivers, is the largest town in the parish and has several industries. Located in the heart of a rich agricultural area, Jonesville also derives much benefit and profit from commercial fishing.

The town is located upon a Spanish grant containing 1,000 acres. Jonesville was plotted and laid off in lots in 1871 by Mrs. Laura Stewart Jones, who owned the entire tract. The town grew rapidly at the expense of its older sister, Trinity, across Little River, but was hampered until recent years by the annual overflows. In 1946, a ring levee around the town was completed, greatly increasing the population and property values.

In the center of Jonesville until a few years ago stood the second highest Indian mound in the United States. Representatives of the Smithsonian Institute were present when the mound was cut down and the dirt used in constructing the approach to the bridge which now spans Black River.

In 1852 on the Elmly plantation below Jonesville, a feud broke out that ultimately cost the lives of five prominent parish citizens. This Jones - Liddell feud ended in 1859 when a Colonel Jones and his son William, who had recently killed Gen. St. John Liddell, were surrounded and murdered in a hotel in Harrisonburg, while in custody of the sheriff, by friends of the Liddells.

Sicily Island

Sicily Island is said to have got its name as a result of being similar in shape to the Isle of Sicily lying in the Mediterran Sea off the coast of Italy. The valuable area is surrounded at times by water of various streams in the vicinity, although the town itself is never flooded.

Sicily Island's eastern side ends in a bluff that borders on Bayou Macon and Lake Louise. Little is known of the early history of the town but the island forming the bluff line, because of their freedom from overflow, were acquired and settled during the Spanish and French regimes prior to 1800.

A tale has been passed down through the years that somewhere along the Sicily Island bluff line, military forces overtook and routed the Natchez Indians in battle soon after they had massacred the settlers in and about what is now Natchez, Miss. There is also a legend that these Indians buried their treasure somewhere in the Catahoula hills and that it has never been recovered.

Early Handicaps

There were many communication and transportation handicaps in the parish from the time it was settled until after 1900.

Prior to 1900 a person living north of Bayou Louise who had to go to Jonesville to pleasure or business was required to cross four ferries on flat boats and pay a toll at each crossing.

In the winter, travel was almost abandoned, as the trails, called roads, were too boggy and carried too much standing water to permit traffic except under the most trying circumstances.

Steady Progress

In recent years, perhaps no parish in that state can point to more progress than Catahoula. Improved farming methods, a ring levee around Jonesville an oil strike in Catahoula, an increase in commercial fishing and a realization that tourists can be attracted to the "fishing paradise" have all played a big part in this progress march.

Both transportation and communication, long behind the times, is about to catch up. U. S. Highway 84, from Natchez to Alexandria, is paved and passes through Jonesville. Utility, Archie and Waters in Catahoula parish. State Highway 8 is paved, running north from Ferriday through Lee Baxton, Foules, Sicily Island, Peck and Ellam north to Monroe, connecting with U. S. 80 at Monroe.

State Highway 18 from Sicily Island to Harrisonburg is hard-surfaced and State Highway 10 from Harrisonburg to Jonesville. State Highway 68 from Harrisonburg north to Enterprise. Delhi and Rayville is being surfaced at the present time, a project which has been sought for many years. The highway from Harrisonburg through Manifest and Rhinehart to the LaSalle parish line is also hard-surfaced.

The Louisiana Midland Railway passes through Catahoula on a route from Shreveport to Natchez and serves Archie, Utility and Jonesville. The Missouri Pacific Railroad from St. Louis runs through the parish, serving Ellam, Peck, Sicily Island, Foules and Lee Bayou.

Catahoula will soon have a very adequate telephone system in operation, serving practically all areas of the parish. Sicily Island, Harrisonburg, Jonesville, Manifest and the Sandy Lake area already have phone service and rural projects are underway at Enterprise and down Black River in several communities.

Area And Farming

Catahoula has a total area of 903,480 acres, with 133,114 acres in farms in 1949. The average size of farms in the parish in 1949 was 79 acres, with a total of 1,668 farms listed in the 1950 census.

The total white population of the parish in 1950 was 9,518, with 4,148 Negroes. Population in the parish since the turn of the century has shown a sharp decline. There was a population of 16,351 in 1930, but last figure had plummeted to 16,175 by 1940.

Tenant farming is still popular in Catahoula, with 68% engaged in some sort of tenant farming in 1950.

The parish comprises three distinct topographic divisions, the alluvial land, the Macon Ridge land and the upland hill sections. Soils in the alluvial land are very fertile, easily tilled and close to river boats. Soil of Macon Ridge is classified as sandy loam. Soils in the upland hill area are deficient in organic material and phosphorous and are very erosive and greatly varied, sand and sandy loam, silt loam and clay loam.

Catahoula boasts its unique in that cotton is homegrown can be found only similar to that of north Louisiana hill land. Sandstone Macon Ridge type soil, first and bottom alluvial soil and Ouachita valley soil. Over 80 per cent of the parish are suitable for growing of such crops adaptable to Louisiana.

The economy of Catahoula centers chiefly upon agriculture with approximately 70 per cent of the population engaged in that occupation. In recent years there has been a definite emphasis on livestock, as the number and quality of livestock in the parish and many farmers are turning to other crops because cotton.

Parish Schools

The public school system in Catahoula parish consists of one high school and six elementary schools for white and two high schools and nine elementary schools for Negroes. High schools for white children are at Jonesville, Enterprise, Harrisonburg, Central of Lacto, and Sicily Island. Eleven negro schools are [illegible] these two places and at Clayton.

The Catahoula Parish Training School at Jonesville, the Parish Negro high school in the north, although another Negro high school is located at Sicily Island.

Hunting, Fishing

Catahoula has been heaped "the best inland fishing area" in the United States and both are heaped often to insure the parish keeping that title.

Only in recent years have the citizens of the parish begun to capitalize on the sport men tourists that swarm into the area by the thousands each year.

Black River Lake, south of Jonesville, has become an excellent year round fishing spot since it was formed in recent years by cutting off a 40-mile bend in Black River.

Another project being developed is one to place a control structure on Little River near Jonesville, a move designed to put of the area the State of Catahoula Lake. Proponents of the plan claim that Catahoula Lake will become a year round fishing "paradise" affording excellent fishing for thousands of tourists.

Opposition to the plan says that the Catahoula Lake area will be ruined as a duck feeding area. Proponents of the plan say that the control structure can be opened each year and the water level of the lake lowered to permit crops to grow to serve as food for the ducks.

Levee Needed

Prior to the most overflows [illegible] Catahoula are [illegible] flooding to local citizens. For instance, according to E. F. [illegible] on Catahoula county [illegible] 25,000 of the parish's 903,480 acres of land were flooded, causing a loss of $1,214,800. Of those 25,000 acres flooded 10,000 were of cultivable crop land and the total farming land flooded was 85,000 acres. Also 10,000 of these acres were already planted and lost to the flood.

Did a flood strike the area about every three years, although the parish is usually threatened each year. The damage caused by the 1945 flood in Catahoula was even higher than the loss in 1953. St. John in says the loss in 1945 was $1,750,000, with 350,000 acres flooded and 1,200 families affected by the flood waters. He estimates that 15,000 cattle and 25,000 swine were in the flooded area.

Parish citizens are working to [illegible] such a control structure. They realize and solidly backing the [illegible] citizens must turn their [illegible] and enable millions of fish to [illegible] and there into streams and [illegible] River before the lake is [illegible] to spawn. Catahoula Parish Offers Best Inland Fishing Area In Nation

By PETE DOSHER

Busy farmers, who are always hoping they will be fortunate enough to escape the annual floods which prevail in this section, look up from their labor in the fields to see hundreds of automobiles loaded with fishermen streaming into the area—that tells the story of Catahoula Parish—a section of predominantly small farmers located in the best inland fishing area in the nation.

The name "Catahoula" is believed to have been derived from the Choctaw Indian word "Okkatahoula" which means "beautiful clear water." Most believe this had reference to Catahoula Lake, formerly located in the parish. Others contend that this name was conferred on the area because of the many clear creeks that traverse the hill sections of the parish.

Parish In 1808

Catahoula parish was created in 1805, four years before the state of Louisiana was admitted into the union, by an act of the legislative council and House of Representatives of the Territory of Orleans.

Boundaries of Catahoula parish have been changed several times since creation of the area and the present boundaries of the parish were established by legislative act in 1908 and went into effect in 1910.

"That from and after the passing of this act, all that part of the county of Rapide, known by the name of Catahula settlement, is hereby divided into a separate and distinct parish, that is to say, all that part of Rapide included within the following bounds, to-wit: Beginning at the mouth of Bayou Tensaw, thence up the said bayou to the Tensaw Lake, thence through the said lake, running northwest until it strikes the river Aux Boeufs, so as to include all that settlement known by the name of Sicily, thence down the said river Aux Boeufs to its junction with the Ouachita River to the Bayou Dain, a line running thence west until it strikes the south fork of (Bayou) Catahula or Little River, thence down said river to its junction with the Ouachita and Bayou Tensaw, and place of beginning shall be one distinct parish, and called and known by the name of Catahula parish."

There were several attempts to clarify the parish boundaries in the 1830's and in 1843 the northern part of Avoyelles parish was added to Catahoula.

After 1838 new parishes began to be created, with the parish of Caldwell created from parts of Ouachita and Catahoula parishes. Then in 1843, part of the parish was declared to be a part of the new parish of Franklin.

County Seat

Legislators took a big slash at Catahoula in 1852, when a large portion of the west side of the parish was incorporated into the Parish of Winn. The legislature of 1890 created from Catahoula the Parish of Troy and designated Jonesville as the county seat, with this new parish including practically all the alluvial land, including the Sicily Island area. This act, however, was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

Catahoula again lost territory in 1908, when the western part of the parish was used to create LaSalle parish. This move resulted in a big controversy but finally went into effect in 1910.

As it now exists, Catahoula is located in east central Louisiana, 26 miles from the Mississippi River and is bounded on the north by Franklin, east by Tensas and Concordia, south by Avoyelles and west by Rapides, LaSalle and Caldwell parishes. Tensas and Black Rivers flow through the parish and form the eastern boundary. Red River is the southern boundary, and the Ouachita and Little Rivers flow through and in some places form boundaries. It is a sister parish in the fifth congressional district.

Early Settlements

History of early settlements in what is now Catahoula parish is meager, but it is fairly well established that the influx of people from the south, Avoyelles parish, were French or of French descent. Many families with French names still reside in the area and one branch of Little River is still commonly referred to as "French Fork."

The upper part of the parish seems to have been settled by English - speaking persons from other states. Spanish grants in that area were made invariably to persons having English names.

The first settlements of the parish to attain the proportions of villages were Trinity, located on the narrow peninsula between the Little and Ouachita Rivers, across Little River from the present site of Jonesville, and Harrisonburg, on the Ouachita River, 10 miles north.

It is certain that Trinity came into existence prior to 1833. The town of Trinity was incorporated by an act of the 1850 legislature, and derived its name because it was located at the confluence of three rivers, the Tensas, Ouachita and Little.

Trinity continued to be a thriving river town until Jonesville, on the opposite bank of Little River, supplanted it in business, population and industry. At present, little remains of Trinity, which was then the center of commercial activity.

Harrisonburg

Harrisonburg, the present parish seat, came into existence on a tract of land owned by John Harrison in the early 19th century. Little is known of the early history, except that is probably antedated Trinity because the Harrison tract was part of a Spanish grant that had been acquired by John Hamberlain from either the French or Spanish government before 1800.

Harrisonburg, like Trinity, from the beginning assumed commercial importance as a river trading town. People from all directions and as far as 40 miles away traded in Harrisonburg. Steamboats from New Orleans and other cities plied the Ouachita and Black Rivers regularly, bringing cargoes of goods, wares and merchandise needed for human subsistence and comfort.

Some people say that the parish seat of Catahoula was at one time on Bushley Creek, about a mile east of the present village of Manifest, but evidently it was soon transferred to Harrisonburg, as no public buildings were erected at the Bushley site.

Located within the corporate limits of Harrisonburg is a long, narrow ridge overlooking the Ouachita River, now called Fort Beauregard in honor of the Confederate general, T. G. P. Beauregard. During the Civil War, the fort was garrisoned by Rebel soldiers who threw up breastworks on all sides of it and which are still visible today.

The Confederates evacuated the fort in September 1863, after being mercilessly pounded by cannons from Federal gunboats and threatened by a Federal land force.

Jonesville

Jonesville, located in the angle between the Little and Black Rivers, is the largest town in the parish and has several industries. Located in the heart of a rich agricultural area, Jonesville also derives much benefit and profit from commercial fishing.

The town is located upon a Spanish grant containing 1,000 acres. Jonesville was plotted and laid off in lots in 1871 by Mrs. Laura Stewart Jones, who owned the entire tract. The town grew rapidly at the expense of its older sister, Trinity, across Little River, but was hampered until recent years by the annual overflows. In 1946, a ring levee around the town was completed, greatly increasing the population and property values.

In the center of Jonesville until a few years ago stood the second highest Indian mound in the United States. Representatives of the Smithsonian Institute were present when the mound was cut down and the dirt used in constructing the approach to the bridge which now spans Black River.

In 1852 on the Elmly plantation below Jonesville, a feud broke out that ultimately cost the lives of five prominent parish citizens. This Jones - Liddell feud ended in 1870 when a Colonel Jones and his son William, who had recently killed Gen. St. John Liddell, were surrounded and murdered in a hotel in Harrisonburg, while in custody of the sheriff, by friends of the Liddells.

Sicily Island

Sicily Island is said to have got its name as a result of being similar in shape to the Isle of Sicily lying in the Mediterrean Sea off the coast of Italy. The valuable area is surrounded at times by water of various streams in the vicinity, although the town itself is never flooded.

Sicily Island's eastern side ends in a bluff that borders on Bayou Flacon and Lake Louis. Little is known of the early history of the town, but the island forming the bluff line, because of their freedom from overflow, were acquired and settled during the Spanish and French regimes prior to 1800.

A tale has been passed down through the years that somewhere along this Sicily Island bluff line, military forces overtook and routed the Natchez Indians in battle soon after they had massacred the settlers in and about what is now Natchez, Miss. There is also a legend that these Indians buried their treasure somewhere in the Catahoula hills and that it has never been recovered.

Early Handicaps

There were many communication and transportation handicaps in the parish from the time it was settled until after 1900.

Prior to 1900, a person living north of Bayou Louis who had to go to Jonesville for pleasure or business, was required to cross four ferries on flat boats and pay a toll at each crossing.

In the winter, travel was almost abandoned, as the trails, called roads, were too boggy and carried too much standing water to permit traffic, except under the most trying circumstances.

Steady Progress

In recent years, perhaps no parish in that state can point to more progress than Catahoula. Improved farming methods, a ring levee around Jonesville an oil strike in Catahoula, an increase in commercial fishing and a realization that tourists can be attracted to this "fishing paradise" have all played a big part in this progress march.

Both transportation and communication, long behind the times, is about to catch up. U. S. Highway 84, from Natchez to Alexandria, is paved and passes through Jonesville, Utility, Archie and Walters in Catahoula parish. State Highway 15 is paved, running north from Ferriday through Lee Bayou, Foules, Sicily Island, Peck and Elam north to Monroe, connecting with U. S. 80 at Monroe.

State Highway 18 from Sicily Island to Harrisonburg is hard-surfaced as is State Highway 10 from Harrisonburg to Jonesville. State Highway 68 from Harrisonburg north to Enterprise, Duty and Rosefield is being surfaced at the present time, a project which has been sought for many years. The highway from Harrisonburg through Manifest and Rhinehart to the LaSalle parish line is also hard-surfaced.

The Louisiana Midland Railway passes through Catahoula on a route from Shreveport to Natchez and serves Archie, Utility and Jonesville. The Missouri Pacific Railroad from St. Louis runs through the parish, serving Elam, Peck, Sicily Island, Foules and Lee Bayou.

Catahoula will soon have a very adequate telephone system in operation, serving practically all areas of the parish. Sicily Island, Harrisonburg, Jonesville, Manifest and the Sandy Lake area already have phone service and rural projects are underway at Enterprise and down Black River in several communities.

Area And Farming

Catahoula has a total area of 468,480 acres, with 133,114 acres in farms in 1949. The average size of farms in the parish in 1949 was 79 acres, with a total of 1,668 farms listed in the 1950 census.

The total white population of the parish in 1950 was 9,518, with 4,148 Negroes. Population in the parish since the turn of the century has shown a sharp decline. There was a population of 16,351 in 1900, but that figure had plummeted to 10,415 by 1910.

Tenant farming is still popular in Catahoula, with 613 engaged in some sort of tenant farming in 1950.

The parish comprises three distinct topographic divisions, the alluvial lands, the Macon Ridge type soil and the upland hill sections. Soils in the alluvial lands are very fertile, sandy to sandy loam and clay to clay loam soils. Soil of Macon Ridge is classified as silty loam. Soils in the upland hill area are deficient in organic matter and plant food and are grey and greyish yellow sand and sandy loam, silt loam and clay loam.

Catahoula parish is unique in that within its boundaries can be found soils similar to those of north Louisiana hill lands, Northeast Macon Ridge type soil, Mississippi bottom alluvial soil and Ouachita valley soils. Climate and soils of the parish are suitable to growing of most crops adaptable to Louisiana.

The economy of Catahoula centers chiefly upon agriculture, with approximately 75 per cent of the population classified as rural. In recent years there has been a definite upswing in both the number and quality of livestock in the parish and many farmers are turning to other crops besides cotton.

Parish Schools

The public school system in Catahoula parish includes five high schools and six elementary schools for whites and two high schools and nine elementary schools for Negroes. High schools for white children are at Jonesville, Enterprise, Harrisonburg, Central of Larto, and Sicily Island. Elementary schools are located at those five places and at Manifest.

The Catahoula Parish Training School at Jonesville is the largest Negro high school in the parish, although another Negro high school is located at Sicily Island.

Catahoula has two banks and a branch bank serving the parish. The Catahoula Bank at Harrisonburg, with a branch located in Jonesville, has assets totaling $2,509,948.36. The Sicily Island State Bank, Sicily Island, has assets totaling $594,374.18. W. S. Peck Jr., is president of the Sicily Island bank and G. C. Womack, Catahoula state representative, is president of the Catahoula Bank.

Hunting, Fishing

Catahoula has been termed "the best inland fishing area" in the United States and steps are being taken to insure the parish's keeping that title.

Only in recent years have the citizens of the parish begun to capitalize on the sportsmen tourists that stream into the parish by the thousands each year.

Black River Lake, south of Jonesville, has become an excellent year - round fishing spot since it was formed in recent years by cutting off a "40-mile bend" in Black River.

Another project being discussed is one to place a control structure on Little River near Jonesville, a move designed to control the water stages of Catahoula Lake. Proponents of the plan claim that Catahoula Lake will become a year-round fishing "paradise," affording excellent fishing for thousands of tourists.

Opposition to the plan says that the Catahoula Lake area will be ruined as a duck feeding area. Proponents of the plan say that the control structure can be opened each year and the water level of the lake lowered to permit grass to grow to serve as food for the ducks.

Such a control structure, they say, will enable millions of fish to find their way into streams and Little River before the lake is drained to afford food for ducks. At the present time, literally thousands of pounds of fish die each year when trapped in the lake bed when it dries up.

Catahoula Lake has numerous small streams, lakes, rivers and bayous which furnish excellent fishing for both residents and sportsmen tourists.

4 Rivers Meet

Jonesville, heralded as the only place in the world where four rivers meet, is the jumping - off place for fishing in all directions. The Little, Tensas and Ouachita rivers meet at Jonesville to form Black River.

A favorite spot for fishermen is the U. S. government lock and dam on the Ouachita River at Harrisonburg, chiefly noted for its excellent bar fish (stripped bass). North of Harrisonburg is Sargent's Lake and south of the parish seat is Sandy Lake and Tew Lake, both excellent at times for bass, barfish, white perch (crappie) and bream.

Lake Louis, Lake Lovelace and Well's Lake afford excellent fishing in the Sicily Island area. The parish police jury recently approved a project to place a control structure on Lake Louis to maintain a high water level on the lake the year-round.

South of Jonesville sportsmen gather at Snaggy Lake, Jones' Bayou and Larto Lake, in addition to many others. Around the parish are other fishing areas such as Bushley Bayou, Bushley Creek, Rosin's Creek, Green's Creek, Big Lake, Fish Lake, Flat's Creek and Saline Lake.

With its immense wooded areas, Catahoula parish is also ideal for hunting. The game most predominant in the parish are squirrels, deer, ducks, quail, rabbit and fox. During the open season, hunters from all over the state converge on its bountiful hunting grounds.

Levee Needed

Wedon Smith, Jonesville attorney and member of the Tensas Basin Levee board, is the unofficial parish leader in efforts to get a levee around the parish to protect the people and their crops from the annual overflows.

Figures on the many overflows which have struck Catahoula are even sometimes shocking to local citizens. For instance, according to E. E. Johnson, Catahoula county agent, 225,000 of the parish's 468,480 acres of land were flooded, with a loss of $1,314,890. Of those 225,000 acres flooded, 40,000 were of cultivatible crop land and the total farming land flooded was 85,000 acres. Also, 10,000 of these acres were already planted and lost to the floods.

Disastrous floods strike the area about every three years, although the parish is usually threatened each year. The damage caused by the 1945 flood in Catahoula was even higher than the loss in 1953. Johnson says the loss in 1945 was $1,540,000, with 350,000 acres flooded and 1,694 families affected by the flood waters. He estimates that 15,000 cattle and 15,400 swine were in the flooded areas.

Parish citizens are working together and solidly backing the levee for Catahoula. They contend that thousands of additional acres could be put into cultivation, that property values would greatly increase and that industries might be located in the parish.

At the present time, they claim, the prospect of annual overflows when citizens must turn their homes over to the flood waters and move into the hills in tents, will not attract new people or industries.

But most concede that, with a levee around the parish, Catahoula will not take a back seat to any of the other 63 parishes in the march of progress.

WSCS At First Church Adopts Years' Program

The Woman's Society of Christian Service, of the First Methodist Church, honored four members when the society bestowed honorary life memberships at the annual meeting held in the church. They are Mrs. A. E. Allen, Mrs. R. H. Gannaway, Mrs. H. L. Wilson and Mrs. H. S. Stansill. They received beautiful gold life membership pins and a certificate for their unusual service.

Over 100 members attended the occasion, enjoying a covered dish luncheon before the meeting opened. Invocation was by Rev. H. L. Johns. Mrs. C. C. Lucky and Mrs. C. E. McKenzie and Mrs. H. C. Ray and Mrs. Warren Breard served on the special committee.

Devotional was by Mrs. E. P. Cudd, Mrs. D. V. Lofton Jr., vice-president, proposed recommendations from the program committee setting up a new schedule for the coming year. It is as follows:

First Tuesday: Business luncheon and program meeting at church, 10:45 a. m. to 2 p. m.; second Tuesday, circle meetings in homes; third Tuesday, open for visitation; fourth Tuesday, missionary education. Study at church, 3 p. m.

The outgoing president, Mrs. A. E. Allen, told briefly of her year's work and introduced the incoming president, Mrs. E. N. Jackson, who made some remarks concerning plans for the next year.

New circle lists were announced at this time by new circle leaders, Mrs. Mike John, Jr., reporter.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: Recently I was released from a mental institution and am now seeking to find my place again in society. I cannot help being very shy and retiring, because I feel everybody knows where I have been. What do you suggest? H. Y.

ANSWER: You have been ill; and now that you are well again, you should seek to take on responsibilities for which you have the strength and ability. You should not overtax your strength and thus endanger your health. An illness of the mind is not different from that of the body, only that it may seem that a longer time is needed for restoration and strength. For example, someone who has been cured of tuberculosis after long hospitalization and treatment is not hesitant, or should not be, about taking up some kind of work that he is able to do. We rejoice with such, and one who has now a large measure of restored health, and realize that he must be careful with his strength. The same is true for you. Perhaps you will want to move to a new neighborhood, and to get employment other than that in which you were occupied before. Most of all, be sure to seek God's help and strength, for you will find Him to be an unfailing helper.

Bible Words for Today

LUKE 5:24 — "But that you may know that the Son of man has authority on earth to forgive sins"— he said to the man who was paralyzed—"I say to you, rise, take up your bed and go home." (RSV)

• • •

From the Christian point of view, such things as disease, poverty, ignorance, superstition, war are symptoms of a deeper malady which the Bible calls sin. To say, however, that these things are symptoms is not to imply that they can be ignored. It is only to say that they must be dealt with on two levels. They are like the surface sores which need alleviating care but also require that the bloodstream be made pure. Jesus showed the way. He brought into the world a concern for oppressed humanity. He substituted active sympathy for lazy apathy in the presence of suffering. He fed hungry men. He cured leprosy because He wanted people to be whole. He opened blind eyes. He illuminated darkened minds and hearts. But, with Him, these ministries were only manifold expressions of a redemptive grace that touched the inner core of men's being and made them into new creatures.

Temple Baptists Plan Addition To Structure

Temple Baptist Church, 601 Plum Street, Monroe has decided to add 25 feet to the educational building which is to be done at once with men of the church doing the work. When this is completed the next project will be to construct a new sanctuary. It is hoped to start on this the first of the year.

The nursery is open for all services. There will be a baptismal service at the close of the evening worship services today.

General Assembly Of Presbyterian Church For Union

DETROIT, May 22 (AP)—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America voted unanimously today to unite with two other branches of the Protestant denomination. One branch broke off in a Civil War slavery dispute; the other on the issue of a state church in the 18th Century.

The Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. has 2,581,580 members concentrated in the Northern states.

Those with which its General Assembly voted merger are the Presbyterian Church in the United States, with 730,000 members in the South, and the United Presbyterian Church, with 220,000 members in its Pennsylvania stronghold and elsewhere.

The Northern (U.S.A.) and Southern (U.S.) branches broke apart on the question of slavery at the time of the Civil War. The United Presbyterians broke from the Church of Scotland (Presbyterians) in the 18th Century, disagreeing with state assignment of pastors among other things.

When today's first vote was taken, two of the 247 delegates to the U.S.A. church's 166th General Assembly voted "no." But they explained their votes were for the purpose of raising questions, and when these were answered they changed their votes to make it unanimous.

One question concerned segregation of Negroes. The assembly moderator, Dr. Ralph Waldo Lloyd, said that the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. (Southern) already had abolished the only segregated synod it had.

The union plan now goes to the U.S.A. groups' 256 Presbyteries for approval or rejection by church members. They were instructed to study it until Dec. 31 and vote after that. Final action, if majority approval is given, would be taken at next year's Assembly meeting.

A spokesman said the plan of union, drafted by representatives of all three branches, includes basic standards common to all three groups and involves no doctrinal changes.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
First Church of Christ, Scientist
No. 2nd & Auburn

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the lesson - sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 23, 1954.
The Golden Text is: "What agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God" (II Cor. 6:16).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson - sermon is the following from the Bible: "For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens" (II Cor. 5:1.)
The lesson - sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man's individuality is not material. This science of being obtains not alone hereafter in what men call Paradise, but here and now; it is the great fact of being for time and eternity" (285).

Highland Park Baptists Open House Today

The new Highland Park Baptist Church on Roberts Avenue, which started as a mission last November, has enjoyed unusual success. Its pastor, Rev. C. B. Thompson, and his wife invite the public to visit open house at this church Sunday May 23 from 2:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Inspection of the new building will be made.

This church was completely organized after it has served as mission. On April 11, 1954 there were 116 members and on May 1, 1954, Rev. C. B. Thompson was called to serve as the first pastor of the church.

It is to observe the great strides made and the brilliant future ahead that open house will be held Sunday when the public will be extended a cordial invitation to participate.

Men's Club To Hear R. L. Lay In May Meet

The Men's Club at the First Methodist Church in Monroe, will meet Friday for their monthly supper. At that time Robert P. Lay, of Gilliam, who is serving as lay leader of the Methodist church in the state, will speak.

This will be ladies' night and a large attendance is expected. Reservations can be made with the attendance committee or through the church office. C. D. Wallace is chairman of the committee.

Mr. Lay has been conference lay leader since 1950. He is a member of the General Board of Lay Activities of the Methodist Church and was a delegate to the jurisdictional conference in El Paso in 1948 and to the general conference in San Francisco in 1952.

He has been a merchant in Gilliam for thirty years. He is member of the board of directors of the Methodist Caney Lake Camp, in Minden; of the Seashore Assembly grounds, Biloxi; of the Board of Hospitals and Homes of the Louisiana Methodist conference; and of the Louisiana Conference Board of Trustees. He is listed in "Who's Who In Methodism."

The dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m.

Former Monroyan Honored At L.S.U.

Miss Maurine Linquist of Houston, Tex., formerly of Monroe was among the students and two faculty members recently honored at Louisiana State University by being elected to Phi Kappa Phi, national honor society. The initiates are graduate students and seniors who finished in the top seven per cent of the university class.

Miss Linquist received her degree in education at mid-term and is now teaching in Houston.

While at the university she also received a number of scholastic and social honors, among them being elected coed vice - president of L. S. U. She is a graduate of Neville High School, and was given nearly every honor at the school.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Linquist, 3763 Westerman Drive, Houston, formerly of Monroe.

If you do not care to wear nail polish, get into the habit of buffing your nails. Use one buffer to apply powder polish and another to polish them to a satiny finish. Do this once a day.

WSCS At First Church Adopts Years' Program

The Woman's Society of Christian Service, of the First Methodist Church, honored four members when the society bestowed honorary life memberships at the annual meeting held in the church. They are Mrs. A. E. Allen, Mrs. R. H. Gannaway, Mrs. H. L. Wilson and Mrs. H. S. Stansill. They received beautiful gold life membership pins and a certificate for their unusual service.

Over 100 members attended the occasion, enjoying a covered dish luncheon before the meeting opened. Invocation was by Rev. H. L. Johns. Mrs. C. C. Lucky and Mrs. C. E. McKenzie and Mrs. H. C. Ray and Mrs. Warren Breard served on the special committee.

Devotional was by Mrs. E. P. Cudd. Mrs. D. V. Lofton Jr., vice-president, proposed recommendations from the program committee setting up a new schedule for the coming year. It is as follows:

First Tuesday: Business luncheon and program meeting at church, 10:45 a. m. to 2 p. m.; second Tuesday, circle meetings in homes; third Tuesday: open for visitation; fourth Tuesday, missionary education. Study at church, 3 p. m.

The outgoing president, Mrs. A. E. Allen, told briefly of her year's work and introduced the incoming president, Mrs. E. N. Jackson, who made some remarks concerning plans for the next year.

New circle lists were announced at this time by new circle leaders. Mrs. Mike John, Jr., reporter.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: Recently I was released from a mental institution and am now seeking to find my place again in society. I cannot help being very shy and retiring, because I feel everybody knows where I have been. What do you suggest? H. Y.

ANSWER: You have been ill; and now that you are well again, you should seek to take on responsibilities for which you have the strength and ability. You should not overtax your strength and thus endanger your health. An illness of the mind is not different from that of the body, only that it may seem that a longer time is needed for restoration and strength. For example, someone who has been cured of tuberculosis after long hospitalization and treatment is not hesitant, or should not be, about taking up some kind of work that he is able to do. We rejoice with such, and one who has now a large measure of restored health, and realize that he must be careful with his strength. The same is true for you. Perhaps you will want to move to a new neighborhood, and to get employment other than that in which you were occupied before. Most of all, be sure to seek God's help and strength, for you will find Him to be an unfailing helper.

Officials named to head the tri-parish group for the next 12 months were:

Eleanor Enright of Sicily Island, president; Jane Brown of Ferriday, vice - president; Clifford Wilkerson of Newellton, secretary; Buddy Miller of Waterproof, treasurer. Mrs. Anita Oliphant of Sicily Island was re-elected youth counselor for the group.

Temple Baptists Plan Addition To Structure

Temple Baptist Church, 601 Plum Street, Monroe has decided to add 25 feet to the educational building which is to be done at once with men of the church doing the work. When this is completed the next project will be to construct a new sanctuary. It is hoped to start on this the first of the year.

The nursery is open for all services. There will be a baptismal service at the close of the evening worship services today.

General Assembly Of Presbyterian Church For Union

DETROIT, May 22 (AP)—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America voted unanimously today to unite with two other branches of the Protestant denomination. One branch broke off in a Civil War slavery dispute; the other on the issue of a state church in the 18th Century.

The Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. has 2,581,580 members concentrated in the Northern states.

Those with which its General Assembly voted merger are the Presbyterian Church in the United States, with 740,000 members in the South, and the United Presbyterian Church, with 220,000 members in its Pennsylvania stronghold and elsewhere.

The Northern (U.S.A.) and Southern (U.S.) branches broke apart on the question of slavery at the time of the Civil War. The United Presbyterians broke from the Church of Scotland (Presbyterian) in the 18th Century, disagreeing with state assignment of pastors among other things.

When today's first vote was taken, two of the 217 delegates to the U.S.A. church's 166th General Assembly voted "no." But they explained their votes were for the purpose of raising questions, and when these were answered they changed their votes to make it unanimous.

One question concerned segregation of Negroes. The assembly moderator, Dr. Ralph Waldo Lloyd, said that the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. (Southern) already had abolished the only segregated synod it had.

The union plan now goes to the U.S.A. group's 256 Presbyteries for approval or rejection by church members. They were instructed to study it until Dec. 31 and vote after that. Final action, if majority approval is given, would be taken at next year's Assembly meeting.

A spokesman said the plan of union, drafted by representatives of all three branches, includes basic standards common to all three groups and involves no doctrinal changes.

Fair Park Will Have Vacation Bible School

Fair Park Baptist Church, White's Ferry road, West Monroe, Rev. C. C. Martin pastor, will have a vacation Bible school which will start May 31 and end June 4.

The sessions will be from 8:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. mornings.

The church will operate a bus to carry those who have no other means of transportation.

There will be a class for each age group.

You can now buy brassieres with wide-set shoulder straps to go with the wide - necked dresses that will be worn through summer.

Bible Words for Today

LUKE 5:24 — "But that you may know that the Son of man has authority on earth to forgive sins"— he said to the man who was paralyzed—"I say to you, rise, take up your bed and go home." (RSV)

* * *

From the Christian point of view, such things as disease, poverty, ignorance, superstition, war are symptoms of a deeper malady which the Bible calls sin. To say, however, that these things are symptoms is not to imply that they can be ignored. It is only to say that they must be dealt with on two levels. They are like the surface sores which need alleviating care but also require that the bloodstream be made pure. Jesus showed the way. He brought into the world a concern for oppressed humanity. He substituted active sympathy for lazy apathy in the presence of suffering. He fed hungry men. He cured leprosy because He wanted people to be whole. He opened blind eyes. He illuminated darkened minds and hearts. But, with Him, these ministries were only manifold expressions of a redemptive grace that touched the inner core of men's being and made them into new creatures.

Highland Park Baptists Open House Today

The new Highland Park Baptist Church on Roberts Avenue, which started as a mission last November, has enjoyed unusual success. Its pastor, Rev. C. B. Thompson, and his wife invite the public to visit open house at this church Sunday May 23 from 2:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Inspection of the new building will be made.

This church was completely organized after it has served as mission. On April 11, 1954 there were 116 members and on May 1, 1954, Rev. C. B. Thompson was called to serve as the first pastor of the church.

It is to observe the great strides made and the brilliant future ahead that open house will be held Sunday when the public will be extended a cordial invitation to participate.

Men's Club To Hear R. L. Lay In May Meet

The Men's Club at the First Methodist Church in Monroe, will meet Friday for their monthly supper. At that time Robert P. Lay, of Gilliam, who is serving as lay leader of the Methodist church in the state, will speak.

This will be ladies' night and a large attendance is expected. Reservations can be made with the attendance committee or through the church office. C. D. Wallace is chairman of the committee.

Mr. Lay has been conference lay leader since 1950. He is a member of the General Board of Lay Activities of the Methodist Church and was a delegate to the jurisdictional conference in El Paso in 1948 and to the general conference in San Francisco in 1952.

He has been a merchant in Gilliam for thirty years. He is member of the board of directors of the Methodist Caney Lake Camp, in Minden; of the Seashore Assembly grounds, Biloxi; of the Board of Hospitals and Homes of the Louisiana Methodist conference; and of the Louisiana Conference Board of Trustees. He is listed in "Who's Who In Methodism."

The dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m.

Former Monroyan Honored At L.S.U.

Miss Maurine Linquist of Houston, Tex., formerly of Monroe was among the students and two faculty members recently honored at Louisiana State University by being elected to Phi Kappa Phi, national honor society. The initiates are graduate students and seniors who finished in the top seven per cent of the university class.

Miss Linquist received her degree in education at mid-term and is now teaching in Houston.

While at the university she also received a number of scholastic and social honors, among them being elected coed vice - president of L. S. U. She is a graduate of Neville High School, and was given nearly every honor at the school.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Linquist, 3763 Westerman Drive, Houston, formerly of Monroe.

If you do not care to wear nail polish, get into the habit of buffing your nails. Use one buffer to apply powder polish and another to polish them to a satiny finish. Do this once a day.

Fertilizer Makes Grass Easy To Mow

It seems the men are unhappy over the statement made last week that the lawn can be fertilized again. Their cry is, "Fertilizer makes the grass grow too fast." Here's a quote a la Jasper J. Joyce, Jr., county agent, "Fertilizer makes grass tender and easier to mow. Also, well fed grass crowds out obnoxious weeds that are difficult to cut with the mower." Yours truly adds, "And fertilizer makes the lawn lush and green, avoids starved spots that die out in hot weather."

The iron sulphate spray for yellow leaf azaleas is almost a miracle food. I sprayed with the solution about three weeks ago, and again 10 days later. In three days after the second spraying the leaves had turned dark green. Now the azaleas seem to have new life. They're putting on new growth and look strong and healthy instead of pale and anemic. The proportions are: two tablespoons of iron sulphate in one gallon of water.

Now that we're staying in the yard so much, our thoughts turn to lawn furniture. There are lots of good sturdy types from which to choose, much more than in past years. The color of your furniture should be subordinate to your surroundings. White is rather conspicuous but it is better than the vivid reds and oranges sometimes used. Good colors for outdoor furniture are a dark green or brown. They blend with the colors of the landscape. Black is not bad, neither is gray, so say the landscape architects.

As the blossoms die on your hydrangeas and oleanders, keep them cut. This should be enough pruning for these two shrubs. If the plants have grown too large just take out long branches when you cut the dead blossoms. Sufficient time will elapse for hardening of new growth to ensure flowers again next summer.

Don't miss seeing the oleanders in bloom at the foot of the levee on Riverfront and at the base of the sea wall on South Grand. They were simply beautiful this morning.

There's no better support for tying plants to stakes than pieces of nylon hose. Start at the ankle and cut in a circular direction on up to the top of the stocking. This makes an inconspicuous and strong tie.

I talked to the horticulturist from LSU extension Tuesday about buds falling from gardenias. He says it is the shock of change in weather. You know we had a late freeze, followed by a very warm spell—then cool weather again. The same thing happened last year.

Mrs. Willie Davis, 110 Pargoud Drive, Monroe has about six different varieties of day lilies she'll give to you if you'll call for them. Mrs. Davis was even nice enough to say if you'll come on Monday, Wednesday or Friday afternoons when her husband is home, he'll help to dig the plants for you.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

As all housewives know, the main problem with storing shoes and kid gloves in dark clothes closets and similar places is mildew that leather goods attract. Before storing, clean shoes and gloves. Next, get some inexpensive talcum powder and dust the shoes and gloves inside and outside. Then stuff them with wadded newspaper. The paper helps prevent moisture from accumulating. Also wrap the shoes in some of the same newspaper. Next fall when you take your shoes out of storage, brush off the talcum and polish. The talcum will be easily removed from gloves with a damp cloth.

I've just been reading about a new cotton clothes line with a fiberglas core. The manufacturer says the line will not sag nor break nor stretch. In fact it is described as strong enough to hold a small anvil. If you'll call me I'll give you the address to order. If you find it as satisfactory as described, we'll ask our local stores to order.

The interior decorators tell us that we can do a lot about making our homes more attractive, without spending a cent. Just unload our rooms. They say we put too much in them. We cover our lovely bare walls with too much furniture, pictures, plants, lamps, plates, clocks and a collection of other items. Quoting one house furnishing specialist, "This cluttering shows up in home after home and is one of the unpardonable sins of contemporary interior decoration."

Here's a sewing trick to keep in mind. Hem-stitching threads will pull easier and break less if you rub wet soap along the line of the threads.

Do you know that bottle caps are handy when moving a heavy trunk or packing case? Slip them underneath, crimped side up. Then slide the load along the floor instead of lifting. They don't scratch the floor.

Hardened glue can be softened by adding a few drops of vinegar to the container and it's balm to the disposition when one finds the glue too hard to use.

Dates:

You're invited to tune in Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. on KNOE-TV for the around home program. I'll clean and oil a sewing machine.

See you next Sunday.

If you are planning a vacation trip, whether by plane, train or bus, tag each piece of luggage for easy identification. It will save you time and annoyance.

Garden Center Notes

By Mary M. Jardine

Long, Ho... Days Are... Forecast

The Flower Show at the center this week was staged by the Farmerville Garden Club. Mrs. John Lewis, Monroe judged the all blue ribbon horticulture and arrangement classes. In the arrangement section first place was awarded to Mrs. Frank Goss. In a chartreuse container Mrs. Goss created a pleasant and long-lasting arrangement of the new growth of pine with a focal point of leaves of the fraxinetree.

Second place awarded to Mrs. L. M. Holder, Sr. for a crescent design of purple hull pea vine and purple native iris. The green container of the same tone as the foliage.

Third place, Mrs. Guy Ludwig for a chartreuse bouquet of Easter Lilies and bell, in a low white oval container. Pine branches and ribbon grass were used for height and interest.

In the horticulture section, Mrs. L. M. Holder Sr. was awarded blue ribbon, for an excellent specimen of Peace Rose and for blue hydrangea. Mrs. Frank Goss, a blue ribbon for Easter lilies. The club also displayed some fine varieties of day lilies.

Doctors Katherine and Edward Fortier of Monroe exhibited a lovely yellow tuberous begonia plant which they raised in their pit greenhouse. This is the only greenhouse of this type that I have heard of in Monroe. If there are other gardeners in the area who have one please let us hear about it.

The following books have just arrived in the center library: The Triumph of the Tree by John Stewart Collis, Southern Gardening by Charles L. Pudlacz, Jr., The Complete Book of Dried Arrangements by Rose Miller Underwood, Field Guide to the Birds, by Roger Tory Peterson, Flower Arranging for Juniors by Virginia Stone Marshall, Junior Flower Arranging by Katherine N. Cutler, and The Pasture Book by W. R. Thompson. This last book will be of interest to the men as well as the women. This is the new edition and contains a chapter on lawns. Copies of this book may be ordered through the center.

The long hot days are ahead of us so heed our garden experts' feed and mulch your plants and spray or dust as needed. If you use a deep mulch there will be less need for weeding and watering and you can sit back and enjoy your garden.

Make use of the center library and plan your next year's garden when it's too hot to do anything else. The Louisiana Garden Club Federation received a national award for editorial work in the publication of a book Gardening in New Orleans".

A good choice to keep you comfortably fresh - looking around the house this summer is a sleeveless, boat - necked cotton dress that wraps around to button and bow at back. It needs no ironing.

Best Way To Reset Red Spider-Lilies

Get ready to take up and divide your red spider-lilies, (Lycoris radiata), Hall's amaryllis (Lycoris squamigera), yellow spider - lilies (Lycoris aurea) and any other bulbs that have the Latin name Lycoris. If you have those beautiful little yellow fall blooming Sternbergias, they can be taken up now, too. Watch the tops of all these bulbs, and dig the bulbs just as soon as the tops have actually dried up — not before then. None of these bulbs will flower if you move them when the tops are green, and that is the reason why some people complain that they cannot get spider - lilies to bloom for them. You will have to wait two or three years after they are moved with green leaves. We have given you the Latin names for all these bulbs in order to straighten out the confusion about them.

It is best to prepare the place where you are going to put any of the lycorises — you call them spider - lilies — before you even dig the bulbs. While you can leave them out of the ground, you will get more blooms out of a batch of bulbs if you dig them and divide them and replant them within the same hour. There is a very definite reason for this: the roots of lycorises do not die back each year but go on from year to year. For this reason, you will do well to leave the roots right on the bulbs and keep them moist while they are out of the ground. Reset them at once before they dry out if you can. From the largest bulbs, you will get several blooms this fall. Of course, we cannot always replant bulbs right away. If this be the case with you, then dig the bulbs with soil on them in clumps. Leave the soil right on them until you are ready to replant. Even in a very dry place, the largest roots will often not die, and when you divide, take care not to pull the roots off the bulbs. Your columnist has had fairly small bulbs to flower just as they would have done had they not been divided when roots were left intact. Do not think that because you have broken off the tips of the old roots they will not grow. The roots of lycorises can send out little branchlets and will do so when they are planted and watered. Sternbergias do not behave the way lycorises do, so you can dry them out just like you would treat daffodils, and replant them some time before the middle of September. Watch the bulbs because they will bloom right in the sacks or on the floor without any water if you wait till after the end of August before planting them again.

The large foliage on colchicums will soon be turning yellow, and then the corms can be dug if you wish to move them this year. Colchicums make a lot of tiny little cormlets under the ground next to the main corm, so be sure that you dig every single one. The corms can be kept in a dry place till late August, too, or you can replant them immediately. The variety Autumn Queen and the varieties Autumn King and The Giant are the earliest to bloom. They will sometimes flower in late August when left in the ground to bloom when they will. You can have a longer season by taking a few up each year, however, or ordering a few new ones and planting them when the first ones bloom in the garden. If you cochicums are not very close together, stick the new bulbs in between the ones that are in bloom in order to get the same effect over again in the same part of the garden picture.

One of the most effective flowers for the late summer garden is Gallonia, the so - called cape-hyacinth. Look in the back of your seed catalogues of the general kind that sell everything, and order two or three dozen of these bulbs right now. When they arrive, they will look like small hyacinth bulbs. Remember that the stalks of giant white hyacinths are from three to five feet tall, so be sure to plant them at the back of your border or better still, somewhere at a little distance where you can enjoy the stalks and the silvery green leaves. For late summer bloom, you may still be able to buy the bulbs of the Philippine lily, and for very late summer or early fall, the African Acidanthera is a beautiful thing. The calonies of these bulbs in your columnist's garden are usually not in flower till the leaves are turning red in the woods around the garden and frost is in the air. Do not expect acidanthera to come up for several weeks after you plant the corms, and, by the way, they are small and should not be planted more than four times as deep as they measure the longest way across. A light mulch in winter will protect them from too much cold. Apparently, they will stand fairly low temperatures in the ground. The foliage looks like gladiolus leaves.

Wisner Garden Club Meets

The Wisner Garden Club held its May meeting in the patio of the A. J. Ensminger's. The luscious green of the trees and grass and the flowers plus the warmth and beauty of the weather were a welcome respite from the recent cold rains.

Each member brought her choice specimen blooms and some extra plants to be sold. The horticulture specimens were judged by the president, Mrs. E. B. Knotts, top honors going to Mrs. W. E. Gilbert for her gorgeous pink gladioli. The plant sale was very interesting as well as profitable to the club treasury.

Among the interesting reports from the committee chairmen were that of the Junior Garden Club sponsors, Mrs. W. B. Huggins and Mrs. Kirk T. Warner. They gave an inspiring account of the work done by the junior club, "The Daisy Garden Club," during this school year, which was ended with their own flower show given last week in the music room of the Wisner High School. The adults attending the show were amazed at the quality of the arrangements made by the children.

At the conclusion of the business session, delicious home made ice cream and cookies were served from the game house.

This 200-horsepower Buick Century is the Riviera touring car that's sweeping America by storm.

Live wire that really looks it

And that look-of-tomorrow styling that's part and parcel of every new Buick — that sweeping panoramic windshield with the dream-car slant — all that says there's action here, and plenty of it.

But just note the name "CENTURY" emblazoned on its rear fender, and you can take it as gospel that this is a performance car of the very first water.

It is instant on getaway, a joy in cruising, a breeze on hills — and a honey of a friend in the added safety of its plenty reserve power always on hand for sudden needs.

With this great-powered good-looker setting the pace — and with equally impressive SPECIALS, SUPERS and ROADMASTERS adding to the excitement—is it any wonder Buick today is outselling every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three"?

Come in and try one of these gorgeous new Buicks. With the prices we're quoting, you can make the buy of the year this very week.

BUICK Sales are Soaring!

The stunning Buick Convertible shown here is the high-powered Century model—is available in all four Buick Series, including the low price SPECIAL.

Do you know that bottle caps are handy when moving a heavy trunk or packing case? Slip them underneath, crimped side up. Then slide the load along the floor instead of lifting. They don't scratch the floor.

Hardened glue can be softened by adding a few drops of vinegar to the container, and it's balm to the disposition when one finds the glue too hard to ue.

Dates:

You're invited to tune in Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. on KNOE-TV for the around home program. I'll clean and oil a sewing machine.

See you next Sunday.

Garden Center Notes

By Mary M. Jardine

Long, Ho Days Are Forecast

The Flower Show at the center this week was staged by the Farmerville Garden Club. Mrs. John Lewis, Monroe judged the all blue ribbon horticulture and arrangement classes. In the arrangement section first place was awarded to Mrs. Frank Goss. In a chartreuse container Mrs. Goss created a pleasing and long-lasting arrangement of the new growth of pine with a focal point of leaves of the fringe-tree.

Second place awarded to Mrs. L. M. Holder, Sr. for a crescent design of purple larkspur and purple native iris. The green container of the same tone as iris foliage.

Third place, Mrs. Guy Ludwig for a charming arrangement of Easter Lilies and buds in a low white oval container. Iris foliage and ribbon grass were used for height and interest.

In the horticulture section, Mrs. L. M. Holder Sr. was awarded blue ribbons for an excellent specimen of Peace Rose and for blue hydrangea. Mrs. Frank Goss, a blue ribbon for Easter lilies. This club also displayed some fine varieties of day lilies.

Doctors Katherine and Edward Foster of Monroe exhibited a lovely yellow tuberous begonia plant which they raised in their pit-greenhouse. This is the only greenhouse of this type that I have heard of in Monroe. If there are other gardeners in the area who have one please let us hear about it.

The following books have just arrived in the center library: The Triumph of the Tree by John Stewart Collis, Southern Gardening by Charles J. Hudson, Jr., The Complete Book of Dried Arrangements by Raye Miller Underwood, Field Guide to the Birds, by Roger Tory Peterson, Flower Arranging for Juniors by Virginia Stone Marshall, Junior Flower Arranging by Katherine N. Cutler, and The Pasture Book by W. R. Thompson. This last book will be of interest to the men as well as the women. This is the new edition and contains a chapter on lawns. Copies of this book may be ordered through the center.

The long hot days are ahead of us so heed our garden experts—feed and mulch your plants and spray or dust as needed. If you use a deep mulch there will be less need for weeding and watering and you can sit back and enjoy your gardens.

Make use of the center library and plan your next year's garden when it's too hot to do anything else. The Louisiana Garden Club Federation received a national award for editorial work in the publication of a book Gardening in New Orleans".

Best Way To Reset Red Spider-Lilies

Get ready to take up and divide your red spider-lilies, (Lycoris radiata), Hall's amaryllis (Lycoris squamigera), yellow spider - lilies (Lycoris aurea) and any other bulbs that have the Latin name Lycoris. If you have those beautiful little yellow fall blooming Sternbergias, they can be taken up now, too. Watch the tops of all these bulbs, and dig the bulbs just as soon as the tops have actually dried up — not before then. None of these bulbs will flower if you move them when the tops are green, and that is the reason why some people complain that they cannot get spider - lilies to bloom for them. You will have to wait two or three years after they are moved with green leaves. We have given you the Latin names for all these bulbs in order to straighten out the confusion about them.

It is best to prepare the place where you are going to put any of the lycorises — you call them spider - lilies — before you even dig the bulbs. While you can leave them out of the ground, you will get more blooms out of a batch of bulbs if you dig them and divide them and replant them within the same hour. There is a very definite reason for this: the roots of lycorises do not die back each year but go on from year to year. For this reason, you will do well to leave the roots right on the bulbs and keep them moist while they are out of the ground. Reset them at once before they dry out if you can. From the largest bulbs, you will get several blooms this fall.

Of course, we cannot always replant bulbs right away. If this be the case with you, then dig the bulbs with soil on them in clumps. Leave the soil right on them until you are ready to replant. Even in a very dry place, the largest roots will often not die, and when you divide, take care not to pull the roots off the bulbs. Your columnist has had fairly small bulbs to flower just as they would have done had they not been divided when roots were left intact. Do not think that because you have broken off the tips of the old roots they will not grow. The roots of lycorises can send out little branchlets and will do so when they are planted and watered. Sternbergias do not behave the way lycorises do, so you can dry them out just like you would treat daffodils, and replant them some time before the middle of September. Watch the bulbs because they will bloom right in the sacks or on the floor without any water if you wait till after the end of August before planting them again.

The large foliage on colchicums will soon be turning yellow, and then the corms can be dug if you wish to move them this year. Colchicums make a lot of tiny little cormlets under the ground next to the main corm, so be sure that you dig every single one. The corms can be kept in a dry place till late August, too, or you can replant them immediately. The variety Autumn Queen and the varieties Autumn King and The Giant are the earliest to bloom. They will sometimes flower in late August when left in the ground to bloom when they will. You can have a longer season by taking a few up each year, however, or ordering a few new ones and planting them when the first ones bloom in the garden. If your cochicums are not very close together, stick the new bulbs in between the ones that are in bloom in order to get the same effect over again in the same part of the garden picture.

One of the most effective flowers for the late summer garden is Galtonia, the so - called cape-hyacinth. Look in the back of your seed catalogues of the general kind that sell everything, and order two or three dozen of these bulbs right now. When they arrive, they will look like small hyacinth bulbs. Remember that the stalks of giant white hyacinths are from three to five feet tall, so be sure to plant them at the back of your border or better still, somewhere at a little distance where you can enjoy the stalks and the silvery green leaves. For late summer bloom, you may still be able to buy the bulbs of the Philippine lily, and for very late summer or early fall, the African Acidanthera is a beautiful thing. The colonies of these bulbs in your columnist's garden are usually not in flower till the leaves are turning red in the woods around the garden and frost is in the air. Do not expect acidanthera to come up for several weeks after you plant the corms, and, by the way, they are small and should not be planted more than four times as deep as they measure the longest way across. A light mulch in winter will protect them from too much cold. Apparently, they will stand fairly low temperatures in the ground. The foliage looks like gladiolus leaves.

Wisner Garden Club Meets

The Wisner Garden Club held its May meeting in the patio of the A. J. Ensminger's. The luscious green of the trees and grass and the flowers plus the warmth and beauty of the weather were a welcome respite from the recent cold rains.

Each member brought her choice specimen blooms and some extra plants to be sold. The horticulture specimens were judged by the president, Mrs. E. B. Knotts, top honors going to Mrs. W. E. Gilbert for her gorgeous pink gladioli. The plant sale was very interesting as well as profitable to the club treasury.

Among the interesting reports from the committee chairmen were that of the Junior Garden Club sponsors, Mrs. W. B. Huggins and Mrs. Kirk T. Warner. They gave an inspiring account of the work done by the junior club, "The Daisy Garden Club," during this school year, which was ended with their own flower show given last week in the music room of the Wisner High School. The adults attending the show were amazed at the quality of the arrangements made by the children.

At the conclusion of the business session, delicious home made ice cream and cookies were served from the garden house.

Live wire that really looks it

And that look-of-tomorrow styling that's part and parcel of every new Buick—that sweeping panoramic windshield with the dream-car slant—all that says there's action here, and plenty of it.

But just note the name "CENTURY" emblazoned on its rear fender, and you can take it as gospel that this is a performance car of the very first water.

It is instant on getaway, a joy in cruising, a breeze on hills—and a honey of a friend in the added safety of its plenty reserve power always on hand for sudden needs.

With this great-powered good-looker setting the pace—and with equally impressive SPECIALS, SUPERS and ROADMASTERS adding to the excitement—is it any wonder Buick today is outselling every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three"?

Come in and try one of these gorgeous new Buicks. With the prices we're quoting, you can make the buy of the year this very week.

Gaining After Dieting? Get Back On The Diet

Many women who have lost weight successfully wish to know how to keep their ideal weight without remaining on their reducing diet. A letter before me says, "The minute I stop dieting I gain my weight right back."

If your reducing period was a fairly long one you will probably have lost your taste for the rich, calorie-high foods which made you fat in the first place.

When the individual gains weight right back, it is usually because she has returned to her old eating habits. She immediately begins stuffing herself with the rich foods she left off when on her diet.

Simply Cuts Fats

The good reducing diet is a scientifically planned diet so far as health needs are concerned. It simply cuts fats and carbohydrates lower than usual, avoids rich desserts and pastries and those little trimmings which skyrocket the calorie count. It also gives you smaller amounts.

When you have reached your ideal weight, keep on eating as you did while reducing but eat larger portions. You can have a little more fat and carbohydrate foods and once in a while splurge a bit with those rich foods but not as a habit.

Stick to the rules of nutrition you learned while reducing.

Start Again

As I have said in this column, add from three to five hundred calories daily and watch the scales. After once losing your extra pounds, always go after the first four you gain back. Go back to your reducing diet. Stay on it until you lose the four pounds.

If you have had the experience of gaining your extra weight back as soon as you stop dieting, then I advise you to continue counting calories for a while anyway. Add to the reducing diet but count calories to be certain that you are not eating more than you realize.

If you would like to have my calorie chart, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 36, "Count Your Calories," to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

WEBB PIERCE

Webb Pierce To Appear June 5 In West Monroe

Webb Pierce, former West Monroe resident, who has made good in the folklore field, will appear in West Monroe Saturday, June 5, under the joint auspices of the Monroe-West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce and the West Monroe Businessmen's Association. The event will be held in Gentry's arena beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Pierce, considered the nation's number one folk singer, is one of the stars of the "Grand Ole Opry" and is the star of his own show. He has put out such hit tunes as "Wondering," "That Heart Belongs To Me," "Back Street Affair," and "You Just Can't Be True."

Besides Webb on the stage show, there will be the Wendering Boys, the Wilburn Brothers along with others.

If you enjoy the "new" (provided it's not too daring), this should be your dish: Bleach the very tips of your hair here and there to create a sun-swept glow.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. False, according to one fashion authority. She may have a closet full of clothes, but means she has nothing that will make her feel as poised and self-confident as she wishes. Women rarely want something to wear, but something that will make them feel their best. Dress is a powerful aid to her life and morale.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes, says a psychologist who studies serious love affair among college students. Te states "The outstanding problem for girls is to find a mate, but the boy has to find both the mate and the means." This is doubtless why girls marry earlier than boys — she has to find the man but the boy, the girl and the money.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No, it proves conclusively you feel inferior to the person. You don't want to pull yourself up to their level, but to pull their superiority down. You are merely trying to conquer feelings of inferiority, instead of imitating them and rising to their level.

DEL MAR EMPHASIZES THE EMPIRE IN OUR OWN COUTURE PATTERN

PROMINENT DESIGNER—SLEEKLY SHAPED in the Empire silhouette is this halter costume by del Mar. The bare back makes the dress perfect for sunning, and its divine lines make it a sure hit on the dance floor. Note how smoothly the waist is molded above the flaring skirt. See the angled seaming under the bosom—it gives a young, high-curved look. Now, you know why thousands of women are devotees of del Mar! The Original of this halter fashion is a striped denim, cut to create a chevron effect (small sketch). The short jacket has a smart bloused back to allow "reaching" room. Choose linen or pique for a summery look; taffetized shantung for a dinner dress. Sewing is simple—very, very simple.

Pattern A690 is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 dress requires 4⅜ yards 35-inch fabric; jacket requires 1⅞ yards.

Woman Is Granted Her 13th Divorce

LOS ANGELES, May 22 (AP) — Mrs. Beverly Nina O'Malley, 44, today won her 13th divorce decree —and some biting words from the judge.

Mrs. O'Malley was granted a divorce from husband No. 13, Raymond J. O'Malley, 37, whom she accused of blacking her eyes, setting fire to her hair, tearing her clothing and burning her bosom with a cigaret.

"Marriage is a habit with this lady," Superior Judge Otto J. Hume said. "I don't suppose she will ever get out of the habit. Giving her a divorce is only turning her loose to do it over again. However, we might just as well let O'Malley out of the picture."

Answer to Question No. 1

1. False, according to one fashion authority. She may have a closet full of clothes, but means she has nothing that will make her feel as poised and self-confident as she wishes. Women rarely want something to wear, but something that will make them feel their best. Dress is a powerful aid to her life and morale.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes, says a psychologist who studies serious love affair among college students. Te states "The outstanding problem for girls is to find a mate, but the boy has to find both the mate and the means." This is doubtless why girls marry earlier than boys — she has to find the man, but the boy, the girl and the money.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No, it proves conclusively you feel inferior to the person. You don't want to pull yourself up to their level, but to pull their superiority down. You are merely trying to conquer feelings of inferiority, instead of imitating them and rising to their level.

Phythian Sisters Will Drape Its Charter Monday

The Monroe Temple No. 1, Pythian Sisters, will hold regular meeting on Monday night, May 24, at 7:30 p.m. in Castle Hall. Most Excellent Chief Katie Smith wants all Sisters and Knights to attend and bring in some new applications.

In memory of a member who recently died, the charter for Temple No. 1, Pythian Sisters will be draped for Juanita Abboud. She was for years a valued member.

Refreshments will be served at the close.

Woman Is Granted Her 13th Divorce

LOS ANGELES, May 22 (AP) — Mrs. Beverly Nina O'Malley, 44, today won her 13th divorce decree —and some biting words from the judge.

Mrs. O'Malley was granted a divorce from husband No. 13, Raymond J. O'Malley, 37, whom she accused of blacking her eyes, setting fire to her hair, tearing her clothing and burning her bosom with a cigaret.

"Marriage is a habit with this lady," Superior Judge Otto J. Hume said. "I don't suppose she will ever get out of the habit. Giving her a divorce is only turning her loose to do it over again. However, we might just as well let O'Malley out of the picture."

DEL MAR EMPHASIZES THE EMPIRE IN OUR OWN COUTURE PATTERN

PATTERN A690 by del Mar

PROMINENT DESIGNER—SLEEKLY SHAPED in the Empire silhouette is this halter costume by del Mar. The bare back makes the dress perfect for sunning, and its divine lines make it a sure hit on the dance floor. Note how smoothly the waist is molded above the flaring skirt. See the angled seaming under the bosom—it gives a young, high-curved look. Now, you know why thousands of women are devotees of del Mar! The Original of this halter fashion is a striped denim, cut to create a chevron effect (small sketch). The short jacket has a smart bloused back to allow "reaching" room. Choose linen or pique for a summery look; taffetized shantung for a dinner dress. Sewing is simple—very, very simple.

Pattern A690 is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 dress requires 4⅜ yards 35-inch fabric; jacket requires 1⅞ yards.

General Electric Air Conditioner Control Is Fast

One of the most popular features of the new General Electric room air conditioners is the automatic temperature control which turns the conditioner off before a room gets too cool and turns it back on before it gets too warm.

Allergy sufferers like the ease with which filters can be changed simply by lifting off the cover and inserting a new filter after throwing the used filter away.

Other features of the new G-E include the single concealed control, quietness of operation, rotator air directors and the sealed-in refrigerating mechanism.

The unit comes in sizes from ½ HP to 1 HP.

Home Is Burned On Hudson Lane

Fire, originating from an unknown cause while the residents were out of town, destroyed a frame house at 700 Hudson Lane here early Saturday morning.

According to firemen, three trucks answered the alarm to the house at 2:30 a. m. Saturday, when an unexplained explosion called the attention of neighbors.

The firemen said the blaze was already out of control by the time they reached the scene and the house was a total loss. They said the fire apparently originated in a back bedroom.

The owner and occupant, Lannie Dortch, and his family were out of town when the fire broke out, firemen said.

Engines number 101, 103 and ladder truck two answered the call.

Welfare Asked To Up Nursing Home Pay

A House resolution in the Louisiana legislature, introduced by Rep. Horace Jones of Calcasieu parish, would authorize the Louisiana Department of Public Welfare to survey licensed nursing homes with a view to boosting payment by the state for the care of the aged.

Jones, who reported the state now pays $95 per person a month for the care of aged individuals, said the national average is $150.

"What I want is for the payments to reach high enough for the operators of nursing homes to take proper care of the old people," he stated.

Two Good Stories

By VAN HEFLIN
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, May 22 — Thanks for the invitation to do a Jimmie Fidler guest column. I know two good stories I'd like to tell. One is about Aldo Ray, and the other concerns James Whitmore. Well, let's get down to the business of writing.

Ray admits nobody has yet approached him with a musical offer, but he has launched a vigorous campaign to win recognition in the musical comedy field.

The actor explained this interest between scenes of his current Warners production, "Battle Cry," in which I have a role. Though wearing heavy Marine boondockers and full field equipment, Ray went into a tap dance to prove his adaptability to musicals, then declared:

"This desire of mine is not just based on the idea that I would enjoy doing something different. It is sound business. As a politician wants to win as many votes as possible, an actor wants to appeal to as large an audience as possible and to persuade them to buy tickets to his pictures.

"The greater the variety of an actor's pictures, the greater will be his box office appeal. There are some people who have a special preference for musicals, but rarely see other pictures. By appearing in a musical I'll be seen by a new group. I hope they'll like and then come to see me in a non-musical film."

Ray concedes that his previous experience is slight, though he is not a complete greenborn. After all he points out that he did do a Charleston in "The Marrying Kind," a mambo in "Let's Do It Again" and a jitterbug routine in "Miss Sadie Thompson."

Now for my second story. Though you've probably never heard of the James Whitmore family radio show, in a select circle it's said to be even more popular than radio families that have been on the air for many years.

This show is beginning its second year with movie actor James Whitmore, his wife, Nancy, and their three sons, James Allen, 5, Stephen, 3, and D nel, 2, as the stars.

Whitmore, who was a radio announcer at Yale University before he turned to acting, explained the origin and format.

"I have the common ailment, letteritis," he said. I hate to write letters, but have wonderful parents in Buffalo, anxious for news about their son, daughter-in-law and the three grandchildren. It posed a problem. Then one Sunday afternoon I made a recording in which we all sent greetings back to Buffalo. It was of course enthusiastically received by my parents. They clamored for more.

"Now we're as conscientious about putting a half-hour show on tape every Sunday as if we had a regular sponsored program. A portion of the half-hour program is devoted to straight news on our activities, some of it to little skits and some to the recording of important historical events such as the first word spoken by our youngest son.

"Back in Buffalo my parents stage their own show. Occasionally mother sings one of the favorites she used to sing to me. They prove that good old songs and stories never die. My sons enjoy them as much as I did.

"We even have guest stars. Old friends in Buffalo will talk to me. Occasionally I'll listen to someone I haven't heard from in fifteen years.

"And a feature of this show is that we never worry about our Hooper rating. We believe we'll wow our limited audience no matter what we do."

So, thanks again, Jimmie. I enjoy doing a piece of writing now and then, especially about two chaps as fine as Ray and Whitmore. We were together much of the time we spent recently in Puerto Rico, doing a jam-up picture of the Marines in action. It so often happens when fellows share hardship as well as pleasant travel together, they get to be friends—

Welfare Asked To Up Nursing Home Pay

A House resolution in the Louisiana legislature, introduced by Rep. Horace Jones of Calcasieu parish, would authorize the Louisiana Department of Public Welfare to survey licensed nursing homes with a view to boosting payment by the state for the care of the aged.

Jones, who reported the state now pays $95 per person a month for the care of aged individuals, said the national average is $150.

"What I want is for the payments to reach high enough for the operators of nursing homes to take proper care of the old people," he stated.

Two Good Stories

By VAN HEFLIN
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, May 22 — Thanks for the invitation to do a Jimmie Fidler guest column. I know two good stories I'd like to tell. One is about Aldo Ray, and the other concerns James Whitmore. Well, let's get down to the business of writing.

Ray admits nobody has yet approached him with a musical offer, but he has launched a vigorous campaign to win recognition in the musical comedy field.

The actor explained this interest between scenes of his current Warners production, "Battle Cry," in which I have a role. Though wearing heavy Marine boondockers and full field equipment, Ray went into a tap dance to prove his adaptability to musicals, then declared:

"This desire of mine is not just based on the idea that I would enjoy doing something different. It is sound business. As a politician wants to win as many votes as possible, an actor wants to appeal to as large an audience as possible and to persuade them to buy tickets to his pictures.

"The greater the variety of an actor's pictures, the greater will be his box office appeal. There are some people who have a special preference for musicals, but rarely see other pictures. By appearing in a musical I'll be seen by a new group. I hope they'll like and then come to see me in a non-musical film."

Ray concedes that his previous experience is slight, though he is not a complete greenhorn. After all he points out that he did do a Charleston in "The Marrying Kind," a mambo in "Let's Do It Again" and a jitterbug routine in "Miss Sadie Thompson."

Now for my second story. Though you've probably never heard of the James Whitmore family radio show, in a select circle it's said to be even more popular than radio families that have been on the air for many years.

This show is beginning its second year with movie actor James Whitmore, his wife, Nancy, and their three sons, James Allen, 5, Stephen, 3, and Daniel, 2, as the stars.

Whitmore, who was a radio announcer at Yale University before he turned to acting, explained the origin and format.

"I have the common ailment, let-veritis," he said. I hate to write letters, but have wonderful parents in Buffalo, anxious for news about their son, daughter-in-law and the three grandchildren. It posed a problem. Then one Sunday afternoon I made a recording in which we all sent greetings back to Buffalo. It was of course enthusiastically received by my parents. They clamored for more.

"Now we're as conscientious about putting a half-hour show on tape every Sunday as if we had a regular sponsored program. A portion of the half-hour program is devoted to straight news on our activities, some of it to little skits and some to the recording of important historical events such as the first word spoken by our youngest son.

"Back in Buffalo my parents stage their own show. Occasionally mother sings one of the favorites she used to sing to me. They prove that good old songs and stories never die. My sons enjoy them as much as I did.

"We even have guest stars. Old friends in Buffalo will talk to me. Occasionally I'll listen to someone I haven't heard from in fifteen years.

"And a feature of this show is that we never worry about our Hooper rating. We believe we'll wow our limited audience no matter what we do."

So, thanks again, Jimmie. I enjoy doing a piece of writing now and then, especially about two chaps as fine as Ray and Whitmore. We were together much of the time we spent recently in Puerto Rico, doing a jam-up picture of the Marines in action. It so often happens when fellows share hardships as well as pleasant travel together, they get to be friends—

Convention Of H. D. Agents This Week

State Council Meeting:

Two hundred seventy-seven home demonstration club women from 64 parishes were in attendance at the state meeting. The 1955 program of work, which includes bringing another foreign woman to Louisiana was made. Mrs. A. T. Stout, president of the Ouachita Council, served as state chairman of the citizenship committee. Plans for transportation to National Council meeting, which will be held at Washington, D. C., in October, were announced. Any club member interested get in touch with the agent as she has copy of plan, tour, cost, etc.

Ouachita Parish Council Meeting

Representatives from 19 home demonstration clubs were in attendance at the council meeting. Ten clubs turned in transportation fee for one member from each of the ten clubs to attend the annual State Farm and Home Short Course at L. S. U. Other clubs are requested to decide on this matter and let the president know at an early date, if you want to go on the bus.

Nylon Sheets

Some have asked about nylon sheets. Miss Rupert Perry, home management specialist, has this to say about them: "Nylon sheets have several features that may appeal to you in spite of high cost. It might be wise to invest in only one nylon sheet until you find out if you like sleeping on it. They're made only in fitted bottom sheets. The nylon sheet cost about twice as much as muslin and nearly one-half more than combed percale. Home laundering of the nylon sheet requires somewhat more attention than cotton sheets, but nylon don't need ironing. If you perspire heavily, you may find nylon sheets uncomfortable."

Summer Vacation

What to do with the youngsters during summer vacation is a much discussed question by mothers. Finger painting might be a solution to this question as youngsters enjoy finger painting no matter what age they are, whether they have any artistic talent or not. Finger paint can be made right at home. All it takes is laundry starch, soap flakes and something for coloring. Here's a recipe. Bring 6 cups of water to a boil. Dissolve one-half cup starch in one-half cup cold water; add this paste to the boiling water. Cook the mixture until it becomes shiny. Remove from the stove and add one-half cup of soap flakes. The soap makes cleaning up afterwards easier. When the mixture is cool add food coloring or regular tempra paint to color it.

Vegetables Gardening

Flowers To Plant:

The rain will cause plants to grow unruly, so pinch those that will respond to it. These are: verbenia, marigolds, phloxs, pinks, snap dragons, petunias, calendula, chrysanthemums and ageratum.

Louisiana Home Demonstration Agents Convention

Home Demonstration Agents from all parts of the state will visit Monroe May 27-28- and 29th to attend their annual convention. The agents of Ouachita are busy getting ready for this event and all three agents will be away from their offices on these dates.

See you next Sunday.

Bridal Plans Made Known

Of interest to friends is the approaching marriage of Miss Kitty Dartez and Travis Lee DeFreese, to be solemnized May 30 at 5 o'clock in the afternoon at the McGuire Methodist Church.

Miss Dartez has chosen for her attendants Miss Elaine Knight, Miss Ruthie Knight, Mrs. Dollie Dartez and Mrs. Dorothy DeFreese of Monroe, Miss Louise McDonald, Luson, Mrs. Virginia Simmons, Atlanta, Ga. and Mrs. Nona Hollis of Ruston.

The groomsmen will be Richard Curry, El Dorado, Ark., Raymon Campbell, Camden, Ark., Richard Douglas, West Monroe, Donald Megeson, Pineville and Harold Dartez, Monroe. Soloist, Max Dillingham and Ragan C. DeFreese will serve his brother as best man.

Miss Dartez, a former resident of Monroe is a member of the faculty of the West Side Elementary School of Minden. She is a graduate of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute in Ruston.

Bring last year's strapless cottons up-to-date by making Bertha collars for them in contrasting colors. For easy sewing and added comfort, make each collar from two pieces of material and join them at the shoulders with ribbon. Make a wide, low neckline that starts at the shoulder, where the collar joins the back and front pieces.

MRS. R. L. ROSS was recently appointed by the Executive Council of Delta Rho Delta National Sorority to serve as Counselor of the Monroe Sigma Chapter. Mrs. Ross has had several years of experience as a Church and civic leader in Monroe. It was through her effort that the Monroe Literary Club was organized. She had the honor of serving as the first President of that organization in 1939. For several years she has served as an officer of the Baptist Music Association—Director of Music for Memorial Park Baptist Church—Member of the board of directors of the Twin City Concert Association—Membership Director of the Monroe Symphony Society.

PEGGY PIERCE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pierce, was awarded the Curved Bar, highest rank in Girl Scouting, at a court of awards held by Troop 10 recently. Peggy, who earned First Class Rank with a Major in the out of door field last year while a member of Troop 14, chose the grouping of badges known as Voyageur for her Curved Bar work. Now an eighth grader, Peggy plans to enter Senior Scouting as a member of Troop 14, with Mrs. Robert Easterling as leader.

When buying white accessories, remember their attractiveness depends upon their being ever-bright. Check to be sure handbags, jewelry, and collars, as well as gloves and scarves, will take to frequent sudsings.

Local Members Of B And PW Endorse Bills

The endorsement of six current or proposed state legislative bills, the election and installation of officers and a banquet highlighted the session Saturday of the annual convention of the Louisiana Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at the Captain Shreve Hotel in Shreveport.

Mrs. Verda G. Baker of DeRidder was installed as president, Mrs. Laudine Smith of Alexandria was installed as first vice president and Mrs. Helen Trichel of Monroe was installed as second vice-president. Mrs. Lucile Mathis retired as recording secretary.

The B and PW organization reaffirmed its stand backing the stock law bill and endorsed the bill relating to marriage contracts. In other action, the organization endorsed proposed bills for a uniform vehicle traffic code, compulsory mechanical inspection of motor vehicles, a bill calling for adequate housing facilities for the state library, and a bill for higher standards of education.

A continuation of Civil Defense "as an essential part of the security of our Louisiana citizens" was urged by the organization also. The morning session was taken up with business meetings. Miss Naomi Rausch of Covington was principal speaker during a noon luncheon. Also, Miss Jean Rendell, past president of the Australian Federation, addressed the group. Mayor Clyde E. Fant welcomed the delegates, and Miss Opal Roberts and Miss Margaret Bronson responded to the mayor's address.

Approximately 170 delegates attended the convention, which had as its theme, "Adventure in Achievement."

Club members from Monroe who attended were Mrs. Ruth Cooley, Mrs. Edna Vaughan, Miss Elizabeth Stenberg, Mrs. Zera Edwards, Mrs. Laura Slator, Mrs. Gladys Miles, Mrs. Bessie Skinner, Mrs. Agnes Krogmire, Mrs. Helen Trichel, Mrs. Lucile Mathis, Mrs. Louise Massey and Mrs. Mary Gene Lea.

When making a tossed salad, don't overlook the possibilities of shredded cabbage, dandelions, spinach leaves and beet tops. Any of these will add an intriguing flavor to the usual greens and all are high in nutritional value.

MRS. HUBERT TRICHEL, an outstanding member of the Monroe Business and Professional Women's Club, was elected second vice-president of the Louisiana Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at the thirty-fifth convention held in Shreveport.

Two hundred seventy-seven home demonstration club women from 64 parishes were in attendance at the state meeting. The 1955 program of work, which includes bringing another foreign woman to Louisiana was made. Mrs. A. T. Stout, president of the Ouachita Council, served as state chairman of the citizenship committee. Plans for transportation to National Council meeting, which will be held at Washington, D. C., in October, were announced. Any club member interested get in touch with the agent as she has copy of plan, tour, cost, etc.

Ouachita Parish Council Meeting

Representatives from 19 home demonstration clubs were in attendance at the council meeting. Ten clubs turned in transportation fee for one member from each of the ten clubs to attend the annual State Farm and Home Short Course at L. S. U. Other clubs are requested to decide on this matter and let the president know at an early date, if you want to go on the bus.

Nylon Sheets

Some have asked about nylon sheets. Miss Rupert Perry, home management specialist, has this to say about them: "Nylon sheets have several features that may appeal to you in spite of high cost. It might be wise to invest in only one nylon sheet until you find out if you like sleeping on it. They're made only in fitted bottom sheets. The nylon sheet cost about twice as much as muslin and nearly one-half more than combed percale. Home laundering of the nylon sheet requires somewhat more attention than cotton sheets, but nylon don't need ironing. If you perspire heavily, you may find nylon sheets uncomfortable."

Summer Vacation

What to do with the youngsters during summer vacation is a much discussed question by mothers. Finger painting might be a solution to this question as youngsters enjoy finger painting no matter what age they are, whether they have any artistic talent or not. Finger paint can be made right at home. All it takes is laundry starch, soap flakes and something for coloring. Here's a recipe: Bring 6 cups of water to a boil. Dissolve one-half cup starch in one-half cup cold water; add this paste to the boiling water. Cook the mixture until it becomes shiny. Remove from the stove and add one-half cup of soap flakes. The soap makes cleaning up afterwards easier. When the mixture is cool add food coloring or regular tempra paint to color it.

Vegetables Gardening

Flowers To Plant:

The rain will cause plants to grow unruly, so pinch those that will respond to it. These are: verbenia, marigolds, phloxs, pinks, snap dragons, petunias, calendula, chrysanthemums and ageratum.

Louisiana Home Demonstration Agents Convention

Home Demonstration Agents from all parts of the state will visit Monroe May 27-28- and 29th to attend their annual convention. The agents of Ouachita are busy getting ready for this event and all three agents will be away from their offices on these dates.

See you next Sunday.

Bridal Plans Made Known

Of interest to friends is the approaching marriage of Miss Kitty Dartez and Travis Lee DeFreese, to be solemnized May 30 at 5 o'clock in the afternoon at the McGuire Methodist Church.

Miss Dartez has chosen for her attendants, Miss Elaine Knight, Miss Ruthie Knight, Mrs. Dollie Dartez and Mrs. Dorothy DeFreese of Monroe, Miss Louise McDonald, Lisbon, Mrs. Virginia Simmons, Atlanta, Ga. and Mrs. Nona Hollis of Ruston.

The groomsmen will be Richard Curry, El Dorado, Ark., Raymod Campbell, Camden, Ark., Richard Douglas, West Monroe, Donald Mageson, Pineville and Harold Dartez, Monroe. Soloist, Max Dillingham and Ragan C. DeFreese will serve his brother as best man.

Miss Dartez, a former resident of Monroe is a member of the faculty of the West Side Elementary School of Minden. She is a graduate of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute in Ruston.

MRS. R. L. ROSS was recently appointed by the Executive Council of Delta Rho Delta National Sorority to serve as Counselor of the Monroe Sigma Chapter. Mrs. Ross has had several years of experience as a Church and civic leader in Monroe. It was through her effort that the Monroe Literary Club was organized. She had the honor of serving as the first President of that organization in 1939. For several years she has served as an officer of the Baptist Music Association—Director of Music for Memorial Park Baptist Church—Member of the board of directors of the Twin City Concert Association—Membership Director of the Monroe Symphony Society.

Bring last year's strapless cottons up-to-date by making Bertha collars for them in contrasting colors. For easy sewing and added comfort, make each collar from two pieces of material and join them at the shoulders with ribbon. Make a wide boat neckline that starts at the shoulder, where the ribbon joins the back and front pieces.

PEGGY PIERCE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pierce, was awarded the Curved Bar, highest rank in Girl Scouting, at a court of awards held by Troop 10 recently. Peggy, who earned First Class Rank with a Major in the out of door field last year while a member of Troop 14, chose the grouping of badges known as Voyageur for her Curved Bar work. Now an eighth grader, Peggy plans to enter Senior Scouting as a member of Troop 14, with Mrs. Robert Easterling as leader.

When buying white accessories, remember their attractiveness depends upon their being ever-bright. Check to be sure handbags, jewelry, and collars, as well as gloves and scarves, will take to frequent sudsings.

Local Members Of B And PW Endorse Bills

The endorsement of six current or proposed state legislative bills, the election and installation of officers and a banquet highlighted the session Saturday of the annual convention of the Louisiana Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at the Captain Shreve Hotel in Shreveport.

Mrs. Verda G. Baker of DeRidder was installed as president, Mrs. Laudine Smith of Alexandria was installed as first vice president and Mrs. Helen Trichel of Monroe was installed as second vice-president. Mrs. Lucile Mathis retired as recording secretary.

The B and PW organization reaffirmed its stand backing the stock law bill and endorsed the bill relating to marriage contracts. In other action, the organization endorsed proposed bills for a uniform vehicle traffic code, compulsory mechanical inspection of motor vehicles, a bill calling for adequate housing facilities for the state library, and a bill for higher standards of education.

A continuation of Civil Defense "as an essential part of the security of our Louisiana citizens" was urged by the organization also. The morning session was taken up with business meetings. Miss Naomi Rausch of Covington was principal speaker during a noon luncheon. Also, Miss Jean Rendell, past president of the Australian Federation, addressed the group. Mayor Clyde E. Fant welcomed the delegates, and Miss Opal Roberts and Miss Margaret Bronson responded to the mayor's address.

MRS. HUBERT TRICHEL, an outstanding member of the Monroe Business and Professional Women's Club, was elected second vice-president of the Louisiana Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at the thirty-fifth convention held in Shreveport.

Club members from Monroe who attended were Mrs. Ruth Cooley, Mrs. Edna Vaughan, Miss Elizabeth Stenberg, Mrs. Zera Edwards, Mrs. Laura Slator, Mrs. Gladys Miles, Mrs. Bessie Skinner, Mrs. Agnes Krogmire, Mrs. Helen Trichel, Mrs. Lucile Mathis, Mrs. Louise Massey and Mrs. Mary Gene Lea.

When making a tossed salad, don't overlook the possibilities of shredded cabbage, dandelions, spinach leaves and beet tops. Any of these will add an intriguing flavor to the usual greens and all are high in nutritional value.

Furniture Trends Show Blend Of Old And New

There also is a suggestion that the die-hards in both camps—the modern and traditional—are giving in a little toward a combination of the two. The functional qualities of the modern pieces make them essential to convenient living. These qualities are being incorporated into new furniture of traditional style.

Homemakers who plan to study their decorating problems will be interested in the results of a recent survey of general trends in home furnishings:

Luxurious sofas and chairs with loose foam rubber pillow ends. When pillows are removed there is a hard surface, attached end table for snacks, drinks and ash trays. Pillow ends fit on ottoman-cocktail table when not on sofa.

These are a few of the more recent developments in the field of home furnishings. Each year the American home becomes more casual and more personalized. Homemakers have learned to put the stamp of individuality on a room setting rather than conforming to the dictates of formal decorators.

The language of the Tarascan Indians of Mexico has no known relationship to any other Indian language.

Desk Doubles As Dining Table

Making one piece of furniture do the work of two is a homely but honest definition of the dual-purpose trend so evident in smart homes throughout the country today.

The sofa-bed, a classic example of dual - purpose design, has been with us almost as long as overnight guests, and authorities believe it is still the most widely used piece of furniture ever devised to serve more than one purpose in the home. However, the hundreds of thousands of smaller houses built in the post - war era have created the need for other furnishings which can do double duty, usually in a limited space.

Budget - minded home owners have been quick to realize the advantages of such items as cocktail tables which expand to handle a game of bridge and later provide spacious accommodations for a snack or full meal.

They also find a great deal of appeal in lounge chairs which will convert to sleep one and in chests that will make handsome dining room commodes.

One of the happiest aspects of this trend rests in the fact that furniture designers have achieved the dual purpose goal without sacrificing good taste and clean lines. They have turned to sound engineering principles rather than gimmicks to make multi-purpose furniture handsome and practical.

Foam rubber is playing an important role in the new combination seating and sleeping pieces. One metal - framed sofa has a luxurious foam rubber seat and wedge - shaped bolsters of the same material. The piece converts to a sleeper when the bolsters and metal back frame are removed.

A newly designed tea cart, perfect for getting through doorways with a minimum of trouble, opens its top to double size to serve as a tea table for two.

Before Painting

The most important step in preparing to paint a house is to seal all openings through which moisture can enter. Check all flashing and calk all joints to keep water out. Leaks not only can destroy a good paint job, but also can destroy lumber.

No Water Used In New Air Conditioning

When you're selecting your home air conditioning unit, be sure to find out whether you're living in a section where water is now or might become scarce or expensive.

If so, you'll probably want air-cooled refrigeration which eliminates water use altogether, and puts an end to all water consumption problems in home air conditioning.

These units are being made available for the first time in full two and three ton air-cooled sizes. Such full-capacity sizes will handle the largest homes in the low and medium priced group in virtually any section of the country.

The need for using either water or air-cooling for the refrigeration is to absorb and take away the heat collected by the refrigerant from the interior of the home.

A household refrigerator, for example, releases the heat taken from the interior of the box into the kitchen. You can feel it if you hold your hand over the back of the refrigerator. But in an air conditioning unit the heat taken from the house is so great that it must be turned loose outside.

In water-cooled units the hot compressed refrigerant gas is therefore sent through a coil in a condenser with water flowing around the coil. The heat passes from the refrigerant to the water, and the warmed-up water is discharged down the drain or pumped to a cooling tower.

In the air-cooled models, a stream of outside air is sent over these coils instead of water. The air-cooled condenser is packed into a compact, weather-proof cabinet which can be installed in a yard, a garage, or breezeway, or in a louvered attic where a supply of outside air is available.

How do you tell whether you might need air-cooled refrigeration at some time in the future? A good air conditioning dealer—one who handles both water and air-cooled equipment — can estimate whether the available water supply and sewage facilities could handle a large concentration of water-cooled units in your vicinity.

Driftwood Decor

Driftwood for home decoration can be bleached or used in its natural state. Whichever way you prefer, give it a thin coat of fresh, white shellac. A second coat, after the first is dry, will make it look even better.

Home Suits Any Climate

Tomorrow's Kitchen To Be Multipurpose Room Of Early Days

The ultra - modern "dream" kitchen of the future will probably have a rocking chair!

Strange as that may sound in this day of jet engines and atomic bombs, visual designers at Hotpoint believe tomorrow's kitchen will be a multipurpose room much like the kitchen of pioneer days. They cite as indications of this trend the fact that many new homes being built today have kitchens with open fireplaces, dining areas, laundry facilities and space for recreation and children's indoor games.

Of course the wood stove and blackened pans of grandmother's day will be replaced by automatic appliances in the kitchen of tomorrow. But the warm friendly atmosphere of yesteryear will be back, dressed in bright colors, textured woods and polished metals.

In sharp contrast to grandmother's poorly - planned kitchen and the sterile walk-in kitchen of the 1930's, tomorrow's kitchen will probably be a "living kitchen," big enough for the whole family to enjoy. Here again tomorrow's trend can be found in many kitchens today. Some presentday homes already have automatic kitchen and laundry appliances that do routine household job at the touch of a button, giving parents and children more time to enjoy each other, entertain friends or just relax. As this trend to "living kitchens" continues to grow, it is expected that more and more family activities will move back to this room — and history will have repeated itself once more!

Kitchen research into the why's and how's of housekeeping has made exciting progress in the last 20 years and is continuing at a rapid rate today. Ice boxes and smoky stoves have become about as extinct as the five-cent nickel, with more desirable results! Today even the rusty garbage can is being replaced by electric garbage disposers that quickly flush food scraps and vegetable peelings down the drain.

A Cool Future

By the end of 1958, there will be nearly 2 million single - family homes equipped with year-round conditioning, not including large apartment house air conditioning systems. By then the non-air-conditioned house will have started down the long road to obsolescence traveled previously by the horse and buggy, the hand - crank phonograph, and other outmoded devices of earlier eras.

Buy Heating Unit With Year-Round Air-Conditioning

Think in terms of year-round air-conditioning rather than just heating when you plan your purchase of a "heating" system. This is the suggestion of the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association.

According to the association, the home owner who installs an air-conditioning heating system to serve his winter heating needs, will find that his investment in this type of system will actually result in considerable savings when the time comes that he wants to enjoy summer cooling in his home, too.

Air - conditioning is defined by air-conditioning engineers as the simultaneous control of at least the first three of those factors which affect both the physical and chemical conditions of the atmosphere—or air — inside a structure. These factors are listed as temperature, humidity, motion, distribution, dust, bacteria, odors and toxic gases.

The system which applies these principles of air-conditioning in conjunction with wintertime heating is known as a warm air winter air-conditioning system. It is acknowledged by heating authorities as the simplest, least complicated method now available to provide for unified control of heater air temperature, humidity, motion, distribution, dust, and odors.

By installing a warm air winter air - conditioning system to handle the heating of his home, the home owner will be more than half-way toward the year-round air-condition ing goal. The ducts which are installed to distribute air to all the rooms in the house will serve equally well to trasnmit conditioned air that has been warmed for winter heating as they will for conditioned air that has been cooled for summer cooling.

Thus, whenever the home owner is ready to add summer cooling to his winter air-conditioning system, all that will be necessary will be to install a summer air-conditoner next to his furnace and connect it to the same air distribution system. New summer air - conditioners now coming on the market are just as compact as winter air - conditioning furnaces. Together, the two units will take up little room while providing complete indoor comfort all year long.

Air conditioning got its name from the textile industry where yarn conditioning was the term used to describe controlling the amount of moisture in the fiber, just as the air conditioning process was one of controlling water vapor in the air.

YEAR ROUND AIR CONDITIONING

● Coleman gives you complete air circulation because of intake and discharge outlets at the ceiling and floor of each room.

● Coleman's 3½-inch tubes allow more attic space and less heat gain through tubes. Tubes are sized for heating and air conditioning, making it easy to add air conditioning to your present heating system.

● Coleman's low coil temperature removes twice as much moisture as a conventional system. Drier air provides greater comfort.

● With Coleman's thrifty "Water Miser" condensing unit, no water pump or cooling tower is necessary. You use less electricity. Noise inside the house is eliminated because the compressor is enclosed inside the "Water-Miser" outside the house.

We invite you to consult Mr. R. W. Gregory, Jr., our registered professional engineer, for a free estimate on your needs and the cost of installing your Coleman Blend-Air heating and air conditioning system.

A household refrigerator, for example, releases the heat taken from the interior of the box into the kitchen. You can feel it if you hold your hand over the back of the refrigerator. But in an air conditioning unit the heat taken from the house is so great that it must be turned loose outside.

In water-cooled units the hot compressed refrigerant gas is therefore sent through a coil in a condenser with water flowing around the coil. The heat passes from the refrigerant to the water, and the warmed-up water is discharged down the drain or pumped to a cooling tower.

In the air-cooled models, a stream of outside air is sent over these coils instead of water. The air-cooled condenser is packed into a compact, weather-proof cabinet which can be installed in a yard, a garage, or breezeway, or in a louvered attic where a supply of outside air is available.

How do you tell whether you might need air-cooled refrigeration at some time in the future? A good air conditioning dealer—one who handles both water and air-cooled equipment — can estimate whether the available water supply and sewage facilities could handle a large concentration of water-cooled units in your vicinity.

The ultra - modern "dream" kitchen of the future will probably have a rocking chair!

Strange as that may sound in this day of jet engines and atomic bombs, visual designers at Hotpoint believe tomorrow's kitchen will be a multipurpose room much like the kitchen of pioneer days. They cite as indications of this trend the fact that many new homes being built today have kitchens with open fireplaces, dining areas, laundry facilities and space for recreation and children's indoor games.

Of course the wood stove and blackened pans of grandmother's day will be replaced by automatic appliances in the kitchen of tomorrow. But the warm friendly atmosphere of yesteryear will be back, dressed in bright colors, textured woods and polished metals.

In sharp contrast to grandmother's poorly - planned kitchen and the sterile walk-in kitchen of the 1930's, tomorrow's kitchen will probably be a "living kitchen," big enough for the whole family to enjoy. Here again tomorrow's trend can be found in many kitchens today. Some presentday homes already have automatic kitchen and laundry appliances that do routine household job at the touch of a button, giving parents and children more time to enjoy each other, entertain friends or just relax. As this trend to "living kitchens" continues to grow, it is expected that more and more family activities will move back to this room — and history will have repeated itself once more!

Kitchen research into the why's and how's of housekeeping has made exciting progress in the last 20 years and is continuing at a rapid rate today. Ice boxes and smoky stoves have become about as extinct as the five-cent nickel, with more desirable results! Today even the rusty garbage can is being replaced by electric garbage disposers that quickly flush food scraps and vegetable peelings down the drain.

A Cool Future

By the end of 1958, there will be nearly 2 million single - family homes equipped with year-round conditioning, not including large apartment house air conditioning systems. By then the non-air-conditioned house will have started down the long road to obsolescence traveled previously by the horse and buggy, the hand - crank phonograph, and other outmoded devices of earlier eras.

Buy Heating Unit With Year-Round Air-Conditioning

Think in terms of year-round air-conditioning rather than just heating when you plan your purchase of a "heating" system. This is the suggestion of the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association.

According to the association, the home owner who installs an air-conditioning heating system to serve his winter heating needs, will find that his investment in this type of system will actually result in considerable savings when the time comes that he wants to enjoy summer cooling in his home, too.

Air - conditioning is defined by air-conditioning engineers as the simultaneous control of at least the first three of those factors which affect both the physical and chemical conditions of the atmosphere—or air — inside a structure. These factors are listed as temperature, humidity, motion, distribution, dust, bacteria, odors and toxic gases.

The system which applies these principles of air-conditioning in conjunction with wintertime heating is known as a warm air winter air-conditioning system. It is acknowledged by heating authorities as the simplest, least complicated method now available to provide for unified control of heater air temperature, humidity, motion, distribution, dust, and odors.

By installing a warm air winter air - conditioning system to handle the heating of his home, the home owner will be more than half-way toward the year-round air-condition ing goal. The ducts which are installed to distribute air to all the rooms in the house will serve equally well to trasnmit conditioned air that has been warmed for winter heating as they will for conditioned air that has been cooled for summer cooling.

Thus, whenever the home owner is ready to add summer cooling to his winter air-conditioning system, all that will be necessary will be to install a summer air-conditoner next to his furnace and connect it to the same air distribution system. New summer air - conditioners now coming on the market are just as compact as winter air - conditioning furnaces. Together, the two units will take up little room while providing complete indoor comfort all year long.

Air conditioning got its name from the textile industry where yarn conditioning was the term used to describe controlling the amount of moisture in the fiber, just as the air conditioning process was one of controlling water vapor in the air.

Coleman® Blend-Air®
YEAR ROUND AIR CONDITIONING

● Coleman gives you complete air circulation because of intake and discharge outlets at the ceiling and floor of each room.

● Coleman's 3½-inch tubes allow more attic space and less heat gain through tubes. Tubes are sized for heating and air conditioning, making it easy to add air conditioning to your present heating system.

● Coleman's low coil temperature removes twice as much moisture as a conventional system. Drier air provides greater comfort.

● With Coleman's thrifty "Water Miser" condensing unit, no water pump or cooling tower is necessary. You use less electricity. Noise inside the house is eliminated because the compressor is enclosed inside the "Water-Miser" outside the house.

We invite you to consult Mr. R. W. Gregory, Jr., our registered professional engineer, for a free estimate on your needs and the cost of installing your Coleman Blend-Air heating and air conditioning system.

Advanced 1954 Room Air Conditioners

More than 800,000 people will be buying room air conditioners for the first time in their lives this year. More than 400,000 people will be buying their second or third or fourth unit, but the new one may be entirely different from any they have purchased previously.

When these more than 1,200,000 people go out to put their money down, they will have available nearly 100 different brands to choose from, manufactured by about 45 different companies. In fact there will probably be more brand names in room air conditioners than in almost any other major appliance field, with only a few exceptions.

Some will embody new standards of design, appearance, performance resulting from years of cumulative experience in air conditioning by the manufacturer.

The fact is that room units have changed tremendously over the past few years from the time when they were simply mechanical devices to cool, dehumidify and filter the air. For the first time they are being very specifically designed for home use with a new range of added requirements. And there's a good reason for that—some 75 per cent are now sold for installation in homes.

Here are a few pointers to keep in mind in selecting a modern unit when you go out to buy:

Appearance — A completely new look is sweeping the field. It's a "hideaway" unit projecting no farther than the line of the drapes, is called the new "slim silhouette." No longer does the room air conditioner need to be an "ugly duckling" extending far over the sill into the room.

Color is also important. Is the unit you're looking at a pleasant neutral tone which will pick up surrounding colors, or is it a garnish hue difficult to fit into your decor? Does it offer a color choice? Many companies have hired industrial designers to create a graceful attractive grille design. When you're looking at room air conditioners, place yourself in front of the unit, imagine your room around it, and ask yourself these questions. Is it unobtrusive? Does it blend with the color scheme? Do the lines add distinction to the room, or are they something which must be overlooked? Comfort now can be visually as well as physically satisfying.

Flexibility of location — If you own your own home, it may not make sense to block up the lower part of a window with a room unit as though it were only a temporary innovation. The design change that brought the first "hideaway" unit also made it possible to install it easily through a simple framed opening in the wall, or built into bookcases or wall storage. It can even be backed up to a casement window without the need and expense of cutting the mullions. Ask the salesman if he can install it in these different ways and how much it will cost.

Automatic operation — The best units today have highly sensitive thermostats which not only maintain the even temperature you select, ending the need to turn the unit on and off, but are also a built-in safeguard against some types of misoperation. In addition, they'll allow you to use a smaller unit for a given-size room.

Quietness — Ask to hear it run. Quietness means a different thing today than it did when the big market for room air conditioners was in offices. Such loccations normally have a fairly high noise level compared to the bedroom where they may be installing the unit you buy. This is one of the most important features of the trend toward design for the home. And quietness implies more than simply volume. Rhythmic sounds or certain tones or combinations can be distracting.

Some quickies — Does the unit have adjustable louvers to control air distribution? Note whether a special residential selection sheet is used to determine what size you'll need for your living room or bedroom. Don't be satisfied with a simple calculation of square footage because orientation of eposed walls is extremely important in determining the cooling required.

If you're in a climate which sometimes turns sultry, look for a unit that has been designed to avoid sweating at humidities up to 80 per cent. If you're at a beach-front location, you should buy one with corrosion resistance built into it. The advanced new units will satisfactorily handle a wide variety of conditions.

Service — You'll want to consider the reputation of the retailer and the manufacturer's experience and name for providing a high caliber of air conditioning service.

Your air conditioner will mean a great deal to you in terms of health, comfort and all-around satisfaction in the air conditioned age we're moving into. It's worth it to know what to look for when you buy.

Try Cooling Single Room To Fit Budget

If your budget will not permit you to air condition your entire home this summer, try cooling a single room — an oasis where family life can center during hot weather.

A window-type air conditioner will do the job, and you can get units for a second and third room in succeeding years, spreading the expense.

For the first room, choose one where you can entertain, watch TV, perhaps dine, and even sleep on particularly hot nights. This could be your living room, a den with studio couch, or a large bedroom.

Units come in a third, half, three-quarters, and one horsepower sizes. The terms horsepower and tons often are used synonymously in rating units. According to Frigidaire engineers, this is because, roughly speaking, a one horsepower unit provides cooling somewhat comparable to that caused by the melting of one tone of ice every 24 hours.

The proper capacity for your room depends on room size, number of windows, exposure, insulation, type of building, geographic location, and a number of other factors, making it a complicated question which only a reliable dealer can answer after being given all the facts.

In determining size, it is well to consider the possibility of using a larger capacity unit in order to cool an adjoining room.

Which brand to buy? Do some comparative shopping. Ask to have units demonstrated and the top removed to inspect the interior mechanism. Look for sturdy construction, large filters, insulation, and grilles that direct the flow of air throughout the room without creating a draft. Check for quietness of operation. Inquire about operating costs.

Refrigeration Tips Offered

Whether your refrigerator is new or old, you can keep it looking better and working more efficiently with a reasonable amount of periodic care.

Here are 10 tips on refrigerator care. You can apply all of these tips without special skill or equipment. Each will mean longer life, better looks and increased efficiency for your refrigerator.

1. To clean enamel surfaces use a damp, soapy cloth, rinse and dry thoroughly. Stubborn stains can be removed with cleaning fluid, or use the special cleaner recommended by the refrigerator maker. Don't use gritty soaps, acids or abrasives. Protect surface with a coat of household or auto wax and polish to a gloss with a soft cloth.

2. Touching up small scratches will improve appearance and protect the exposed metal against rust. On an enameled cabinet, use touch-up enamel, applying it with a small brush. Be sure surface is clean and dry. Hide scratches in porcelain finish with porcelain glaze, sold by hardware stores.

3. All metal parts need to be polished regularly, both for appearance and to prevent possible rusting. Do the job with jewelers' rouge, which you can get at hardware and jewelry stores, or use silver or chromium polish. Apply with a sift, dry cloth and rub vigorously. Ice cube trays need cleaning with warm, soapy water. Don't use an abrasive; scratches may make cubes stick.

4. Door gasket should be cleaned regularly, as any accumulation of food grease will damage the rubber. This seal must be in good condition to keep heat out of the box. Wash the gasket at least once a month with mild soap or a detergent and water, followed by rinsing with clear water. A dusting with talc prevents sticking.

5. Some refrigerators were designed so the rubber gasket on the door can easily be replaced when it deteriorates. If the design of your refrigerator permits, take out screws holding corner plates, side and center plate, and remove the old gasket. Note how it was fastened on, and replace it the same way, using a new, pre-cut gasket from your dealer. To make the job easier, take the door off by slipping the hinge pins out. If this job seems too involved, call a service man. He'll do it quickly.

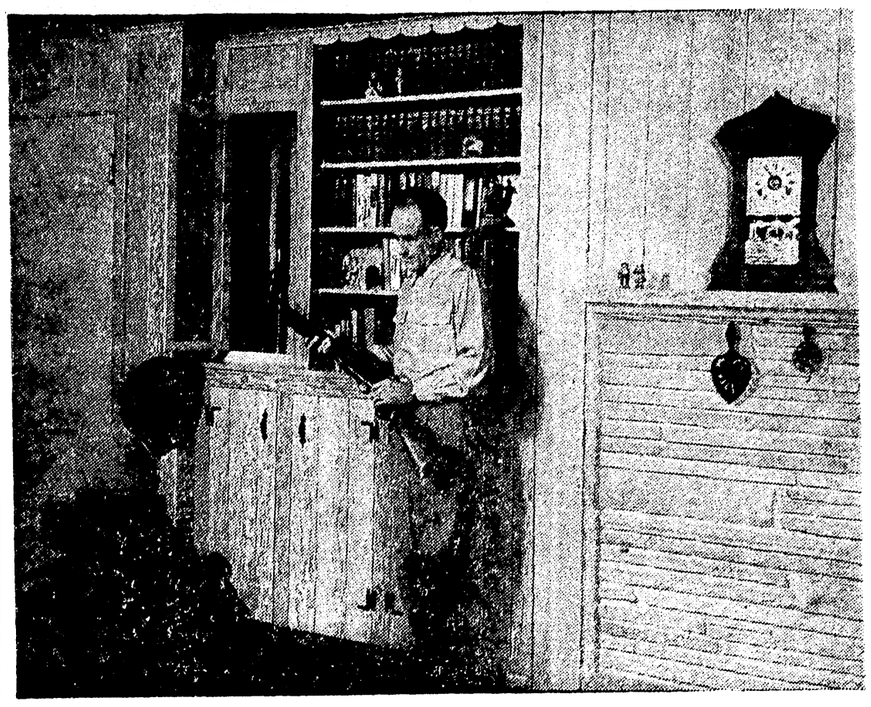
6. To make a door swing easily and smoothly, slip the hinge pins out one at a time. Then puff in a little powdered graphite, sold at both hardware and auto-supply stores. Use graphite as lubricant because it doesn't collect dust.

7. Light oil placed on the door's catch, plus the lubrication of hinges should make it possible for you to close the door without slamming.

8. Door latch may be adjustable. If so, loosen adjusting screws and close the door. Press on the door until there is no space between the box and the rubber gasket. Then the latch should be in the right position. Open the door, tighten the screws, and recheck to be sure.

9. Heat-transfer coil on the back of an electric refrigerator must be kept clean if the unit is to function efficiently. Clean it periodically with an old paint brush, with the brush attachment of your vacuum cleaner, or with a cloth moistened with a few drops of furniture polish. Make sure there is ventilation so the motor doesn't overheat.

10. The electric plug connections should be inspected to make sure that a good contact is being made. As this connection is more or less permanent, the contact points may become oxidized. Clean them every two or three months with a file or sandpaper, so that the flow of electricity won't be impeded.



IN FATHER'S CORNER—When planning a family room in any motif, it's a good idea to set aside a corner for dad's hobbies. Here he has space for gun case, shelves for his own books, and cabinets below for audio equipment and other storage.

Ranch Styles Add To Casual Living

Nothing fits in so well with today's trend toward the informal way of life as ranch type furniture because it suggests casual living.

It will fit just as well into an older home, adding a new look, as it does into the new ranch house.

The variety of units included in ranch type furniture is unlimited. The pieces are flexible and functional. There are sectional pieces which give the homemaker a free rein in planning her room arrangements.

One living - dining group contains as many as 35 pieces. It includes a cocktail - dining table with companion benches that are stackable. These are double useful as television seating units or for serving snacks. Serving carts are made with removable trays. Multi-drawer units have been designed to take up little room while still offering considerable storage space.

For lasting durability, sturdy woods of birch, hickory, knotty pine and oak have been chosen for ranch furniture construction. This will win the appreciation of families with children in the most active period of their growth.

While constructed in heavy woods it is light in look and in finish. Light finishes have been created to hide dust and fingerprints.

New Refrigerators By Servel Promise Better Way Of Life

Servel, since 1929 has contributed many "first" and outstanding inventions to the refrigeration industry. Until 1933 they manufactured electrically operated refrigerators. Then they adapted part of their plant facilities to manufacture the then new, but destined to be world known, Electrolux refrigerators operated on the absorption principle by heat from a tiny flame.

Servel continued to manufacture electrically operated refrigeration units and sold them for use in such commercial applications as meat coolers and cases, beverage coolers and so on.

Then in December 1952 Servel again introduced an electrically operated refrigerator. Their reason for doing so was to enable their dealers to cover all segments of the market and thus, by increased production materially decrease their retail selling prices.

At the same time Servel introduced a totally new device, the automatic ice-maker that makes ice in a home refrigerator without the use of trays, then puts them in a handy basket ready for use. It was then and still is an exclusive feature found only in some models of the Servel refrigerators operated either by gas or electricity. The space taken up by this unit in the refrigerator is little, if any, greater than that required for ice trays.

Then they adapted part of their plant facilities to manufacture the then new, but destined to be world known, Electrolux refrigerators operated on the absorption principle by heat from a tiny flame.

Servel continued to manufacture electrically operated refrigeration units and sold them for use in such commercial applications as meat coolers and cases, beverage coolers and so on.

Then in December 1952 Servel again introduced an electrically operated refrigerator. Their reason for doing so was to enable their dealers to cover all segments of the market and thus, by increased production materially decrease their retail selling prices.

At the same time Servel introduced a totally new device, the automatic ice-maker that makes ice in a home refrigerator without the use of trays, then puts them in a handy basket ready for use. It was then and still is an exclusive feature found only in some models of the Servel refrigerators operated either by gas or electricity. The space taken up by this unit in the refrigerator is little, if any, greater than that required for ice trays.

Many Packaging Aids Available

Here is a list of suggested packaging materials and descriptions for use in the home freezer. These descriptions refer to basic materials. There are many brand names of these on the market.

CONTAINERS

1. Bags — Pliofilm or polyethylene. Use for irregularly shaped foods. Also can be used for dry packaging of fruits and vegetables. Do not use for liquids as they are difficult to handle and bag may burst seams. Polyethylene is reusable and pliofilm can be reused if care is used in handling. Cellophane is also used for bags, but must be used with carton or containers.

2. Waxed folding cartons—With these, use a bag or liner of some moisture-vapor-proof material, or over-wrap with Cellophane and seal. These are suitable for dry packaging of vegetables and some meats. These cartons are available in top opening (trunk style) and end opening styles. Special wire racks and funnels are available for convenience in filling and opening boxes.

3. Heavily - waxed cartons—Use for liquid or drypack foods. No liner necessary. These come in two shapes—round tub shape with slanting sides and disk snap-in lids, and square tapered cartons with flexible plastic caners. Easily filled and contents can be removed without complete thawing.

4. Glass freezer jars — Can be used for liquid or dry pack. Jars have full open mouth so contents can be removed without thawing and have flat top so one can stack easily on another.

5. Canning jars — Regular canning jars may be used in the freezer. Because the jar opening is smaller than the remainder of the jar, foods must be partially or completely thawed before using. Be sure to leave 1½-inch head space for pint and quart jars respectively. No head space is required in freezing dry-packed products.

6. Molded or plastic containers—Use for liquid or dry pack. This type container is easy to label and is reusable indefinitely. Its tapered sides make for nesting when empty and for stacking in the freezer. Its various shapes anl sizes make it easy to accommodate various odd-shaped foods.

7. Heavy aluminum foil containers—Can be used for both liquid and dry pack. Heavy foil lid must be sealed with a special device which comes with the containers. Foods can be heated right in these containers directly from the freezer. Follow manufacturers' directions for using.

8. Aluminum containers — Small aluminum dishes with tight fitting covers can be used as above for heating foods directly from freezer. These do not need sealing device. Follow manufacturers' directions for using.

9. Stockinette — Loosely knitted tubular material. Available in rolls. Used to over-wrap food wrapped in moisture-vapor-proof or pliofilm for added protection.

WRAPPING MATERIALS

1. Aluminum foil — Very satisfactory for use with irregularly shaped foods such as meat, fish, fowl, cakes, pies. Be sure to choose the foil especially designed for freezing foods. Ordinary household foil is too fragile for freezer use. Use drugstore wrap and mold foil around product, eliminating all air. Freezer foil does not need any overwrap of stockinette. Foil is reusable if handled carefully.

2. Cellophane — For same purposes as aluminum foil. Select type especially designed for freezing, not gift wrapping. Use a drugstore wrap, but package should be over-wrapped for protection. Stockinette can be used for over-wrap. Cellophane is not reusable.

3. Pliofilm — Use the same as Cellophane. Pliofilm is a rubber derivative and has slight elasticity.

4. Polyethylene — The chemical name for a flexible translucent material. Use the same as above. Does not require an over-wrap, is strong and is reusable.

Key To Freezing Is Good Planning

Consider the size of your food freezer when preparing to freeze a large amount of food at one time.

A four - cubic foot model will freeze about 25 pounds of food in a 24-hour period. An eight-cubic-foot model will freeze about 50 pounds of food in a 24-hour period. An 11-cubic-foot model will freeze about 60 pounds of food in a 24-hour period.

Foods will freeze more quickly if they are arranged around and in contact with the sides of the freezer cabinet. This brings the food in direct contact with the freezing surfaces. Once food is frozen, it may be placed anywhere in the freezer.

Bulk At Bottom

There is no hard and fast rule for loading your freezer. However, bulky foods such as roasts and poultry, are usually stored in the bottom.

Use the baskets for small packages and foods to be used frequently, such as frozen fruits, vegetables, ice cream and left-overs.

You may have one section reserved for leftovers and baked goods. Perhaps lunch boxes are one of your every day duties. Then you will want to reserve one section for packaged lunches or lunch box makings, and another section for a few complete meals for those times when Mother is away and Dad and Sis take over.

Use your freezer to live from day by day. Use foods while they are in prime condition. Freeze only the amount of food your family can use. Too often with typical enthusiasm for a new freezer, owners load the freezer with an over-abundance of, for example, early summer fruits and vegetables. Later when the corn season arrives, there is no room in the freezer. Look ahead and plan accordingly.

Get acquainted with your local locker plant. Locker companies in addition to operating their plants, often have a frozen food business, too. Here you can often buy month specials on fruits, vegetables and meats.

Get Expect Advice

You often get a bargain on meat such as a quarter of beef. Remember, unless you are experienced in the field, your butcher or locker plant manager is the authority to turn to for help in aging and butchering the meat. The locker plant is properly equipped and has trained people for this.

Rather than fill your freezer with a great deal of meat and use valuable space, rent additional space from the locker plant to keep the large cuts and extra amounts. Then as you do your weekly or monthly planning, you can easily transfer foods to your own food freezer as space allows.

Record Keeping Helps

A method of record keeping will be helpful in maintaining your frozen foods. you will want to know what you have in the freezer and when it was frozen, so you can use up food at its peak and know when it's time to replenish.

How Much Cooling? Let Dealer Figure It

Did you ever hear of thermal mass?

Well, don't get up, but in case you hadn't noticed it, the chair you're sitting in has it, as do the walls and the floor and ceiling of your house. And because they have, you'll pay a lot less for your home air conditioning than you would have a few years ago.

Thermal mass means the capacity to store cooling, just as a block of ice does at much lower temperatures. And a house has greater thermal mass in proportion to the total amount of heat that must be removed than almost any other kind of structure.

Research engineers began intensive studies of the effect of thermal mass in home air conditioning six years ago when the residential market showed first signs of its current rapid development.

Most home air conditioning systems were oversized. This was due to the fact that cooling estimates were made on the same basis as they had been for commercial buildings where the heat from people, intensive lighting, and machinery was far greater and more variable in proportion to thermal mass.

The average home-owner could save as much as $500 to $800 in the cost of a system at present prices if his equipment was properly sized.

Where it might once have been thought necessary to use a unit with three tons capacity, many homes in the low to medium price class can now maintain desired temperature control with only two tons of cooling. Duct systems also can be smaller, less complicated and less costly. And greater comfort is produced, since bigger systems would run only a part of the time and whenever they turned themselves off, humidity would climb, producing a cold, clammy effect.

Air conditioning dealers no longer need to try to determine the time of day when the outside heat load is the greatest since the storage effect of thermal mass will level out the peaks.

With the effect of roof overhang and other shading, window orientation, insulation, and even wall color, set down in black and white in easy-to-use tables, the dollars and cents possibilities of cutting operating cost by careful architectural layout also are becoming evident.

Paper Keeps Cold Outside

Remove all original paper covering before placing foods in the refrigerator. Paper covering prevents cold from reaching food and also it may be contaminated. Store foods in covered containers, aluminum foil or plastic refrigerator bags.

Unopened cans of fruit or juice, vegetable oils, pickles, catsup and such foods do not require refrigeration. They may be chilled, if desired, before serving.

Odor - receptive foods (such as butter, bland cheese, and cut melons) or foods with strong odors (such as nippy cheese, green onions and fish) should be kept in separate covered containers or wrapped in aluminum foil or heavy waxed paper to prevent transfer of odors to other foods.

Egg yolks or egg whites stay in good condition for several days if kept in a tightly covered glass jar in the refrigerator.

You Can Store Angleworms Or Fur Coats In Freezers

Believe it or not, brother, you can keep fishing worms in that home freezer, freezing them solid when they are plentiful and thawing them out when you go angling.

There is a catch, however—your wife.

Some spouses, possibly less understanding about these things than others, manifest rather emphatic disapproval of the whole idea. But it can be done.

If you play your cards right, you can maintain a balance by letting her keep her fur coat (if she lets you go fishing you've probably bought her one) in the freezer.

That's right — fishing worms and fur coats are among the items which may be stored in a home freezer, according to a report by a consumers institute.

Furs should be wrapped in moisture - vapor - proof material and placed in the freezer for 48 hours. Then they should be removed and stored in a cool, dry place.

If you win the battle of the worms, you may even get to keep your cigars in the freezer. They should be kept well frozen and stored in the original box. Remove them in small numbers as needed.

As recompense for this concession, your wife can keep her sprinkled clothes, which she has not had time to iron, in the freezer temporarily.

Potato chips, crackers and pretzels can be frozen for short periods. A few of each may be removed from the bag at a time and thawed quickly uncovered on a plat.

A bunch of parsley can be frozen for use in soups and stews, and minced while still frozen and crisp. Shaved and crushed ice also are very handy to have stored in moisture-vapor-proof bags.

Floors Take On New Significance

Fashionable floors today may be bare, or take small rugs here and there that are a new kind and especially handsome.

Rugs and carpets have been too well loved through all the years to be abandoned of course, but there's a growing trend toward design of the floor itself that's too interesting to be covered.

Talls, sun rooms and other smaller floored areas take to bare floors first, but living rooms and dining rooms come in for more and more of their share.

Where it once was that living rooms and dining rooms were carpeted and bedrooms were slighted, it sometimes happens now that living and dining room floors are bare to take small rugs, and the wall - to - wall carpeting in the same home goes to the bedrooms, where quietness and softness underfoot is especially enjoyed.

Today's love for open and airy interiors, and the need for planning small rooms to look as large as they can — both of these points have much to do with the trend toward bare floors.

But it isn't merely the contemporary interior that has taken to the idea.

Worthingtons New Compressor Is Revolutionary

The new Worthington refrigeration compressor, the most important element in any air conditioning system, is the result of over 50 years of experience and over $1,000,000 spent in design and development. According to the Worthington Corporation it is the sturdiest, most reliable compressor available today.

Worthington's "Million Dollar Compressor" is hermatically sealed, insuring extra years of vibration-less, trouble-free operation. In addition, the fan and fan motor ball bearings are lubricated for life and then sealed.

The new Worthington residential air conditioner gives all the features of year-round air conditioning —cooling and dehumidification in the Summer, heating and humidification in the Winter, and filtering and air circulation all year long. And all in one compact, attractive cabinet.

It can be installed in almost any part of the house, and requires less space than any other year-round heating and cooling air conditioners on the market today.

Westinghouse Has Done Something About The Weather

Contrary to Mark Twain's famous remark that everyone talks about the weather, but no one does anything about it, Westinghouse has done something about it. With the new Westinghouse De Luxe Room Air Conditioner you can enjoy year-round comfort with the push of a button.

An exclusive feature of the Westinghouse Deluxe Room Air Conditioner is the Comfort Control, with its 10 comfort zones:

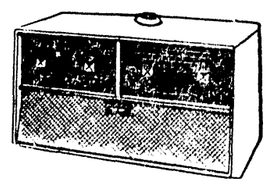
HERE'S COOL COMFORT by the roomful!



WORTHINGTON'S good-looking Window Air Conditioner gives you refreshing, comfortably cool weather at the turn of a dial. Wrings muggy moisture from warm air, cleans and cools it to your liking, exhausts stale air and circulates fresh air all year long.

ECONOMICAL! Night-cycle control reduces speed and current to night time needs.

You Can Store Angleworms Or Fur Coats In Freezers

Believe it or not, brother, you can keep fishing worms in that home freezer, freezing them solid when they are plentiful and thawing them out when you go angling.

There is a catch, however—your wife.

Some spouses, possibly less understanding about these things than others, manifest rather emphatic disapproval of the whole idea. But it can be done.

If you play your cards right, you can maintain a balance by letting her keep her fur coat (if she lets you go fishing you've probably bought her one) in the freezer.

That's right — fishing worms and fur coats are among the items which may be stored in a home freezer, according to a report by a consumers institute.

Furs should be wrapped in moisture - vapor - proof material and placed in the freezer for 48 hours. Then they should be removed and stored in a cool, dry place.

If you win the battle of the worms, you may even get to keep your cigars in the freezer. They should be kept well frozen and stored in the original box. Remove them in small numbers as needed.

As recompense for this concession, your wife can keep her sprinkled clothes, which she has not had time to iron, in the freezer temporarily.

Potato chips, crackers and pretzels czn be frozen for short periods. A few of each may be removed from the bag at a time and thawed quickly uncovered on a plat.

Nut meats of all kinds keep well in the freezer.

A bunch of parsley can be frozen for use in soups and stews, and minced while still frozen and crisp. Shaved and crushed ice also are very handy to have stored in moisture-vapor-proof bags.

Floors Take On New Significance

Fashionable floors today may be bare, or take small rugs here and there that are a new kind and especially handsome.

Rugs and carpets have been too well loved through all the years to be abandoned of course, but there's a growing trend toward design of the floor itself that's too interesting to be covered.

Waxed and well groomed wood and vinyl plastic floors strike high fashion notes in the settings sketched.

The design below is striped in three shades of vinyl and the third floor pattern, which was shown in a model apartment "Interior of the Year," is white vinyl with narrow strips of brass.

Tails, sun rooms and other smaller floored areas take to bare floors first, but living rooms and dining rooms come in for more and more of their share.

Where it once was that living rooms and dining rooms were carpeted and bedrooms were slighted, it sometimes happens now that living and dining room floors are bare to take small rugs, and the wall - to - wall carpeting in the same home goes to the bedrooms, where quietness and softness underfoot is especially enjoyed.

Today's love for open and airy interiors, and the need for planning small rooms to look as large as they can — both of these points have much to do with the trend toward bare floors.

But it isn't merely the contemporary interior that has taken to the idea.

Decorators that have led the way design floors in special ways for interiors that are traditional, and in almost every traditional style.

Wood flooring is most often parquet and in medium shades rather than light.

Worthingtons New Compressor Is Revolutionary

The air conditioner with the "million dollar heart" is the way the Worthington Corporation describes its new year-round home air conditioner.

The new Worthington refrigeration compressor, the most important element in any air conditioning system, is the result of over 50 years of experience and over $1,000,000 spent in design and development. According to the Worthington Corporation it is the sturdiest, most reliable compressor available today.

Worthington's "Million Dollar Compressor" is hermatically sealed, insuring extra years of vibration-less, trouble-free operation. In addition, the fan and fan motor ball bearings are lubricated for life and then sealed.

The new Worthington residential air conditioner gives all the features of year-round air conditioning —cooling and dehumidification in the Summer, heating and humidification in the Winter, and filtering and air circulation all year long. And all in one compact, attractive cabinet.

More Furniture Is Now In Bedroom

In the past the basic requirements of the bedroom were those of dressing, repose and storage and the furniture was limited to use only in the bedroom.

For the home decorator with a large house, there still are pieces designed especially for rooms given over solely to the basic uses of a bedroom.

Many manufacturers create open stock lines with pieces of a wide and varied type. In the collection are bedroom suits with everything matching in a truly conventional fashion. In the same style line are chests, chairs and benches that fit neatly in any room of the house.

This especially is appreciated in the smaller home or apartment where space is precious. Some chests are low slung and may be used as seats. Cushions are provided to identify this function.

In beds, the headboard storage chest has led the popularity field during the last few years. These are designed with book shelves, storage compartments and tambour doors. The headboards are sized to accommodate all types of beds — single, double, twin, swing-twin and king - size.

Not the footboard bookcase has entered to rival the headboard. It, too, provides bookshelves and other storage compartments.

Mobile trundle beds arranged to fit under a modern unit of bookcases, storage cases and lamp stands is another innovation making a concession to the space problem.

The bedroom often is the only quiet retreat in the household. With this in mind, contemporary designers have created pieces such as combination desks and vanities.

Accent Hue Draws Eye

Chambers Ranges Add Features To Aid Housewife

Chambers ranges cook with the gas turned off. Due to a unique arrangement of dampers, plus heavy insulation around the oven and "thermowell," heat is retained to cook foods after the gas has been turned off.

The Chambers way of cooking calls for the gas to be on a predetermined time as shown in the Chambers cook book. The food to be baked or roasted is then left in the stove for a further period of time to allow the retained heat to complete the cooking. This greatly reduces food shrinkage thus saving the user in food costs as well as gas costs.

Specially designed twin or triple vessels can be used in the thermowell to cook two or three foods at a time. Surface cooking, with heat wasted in the kitchen can be virtually eliminated to make summer cooking cooler.

Another feature is the on-a-top griddle and broiler. Broiling, with a Chambers is waist - high to eliminate stooping to knee or ankle height while cooking. Actually, the broiler can even be used to make toast because of the adjustable height feature of this broiler.

It is claimed that the evening meal can be cooked at breakfast time and forgotten for the rest of the day in a Chambers.

The manufacturer of this range was the first to produce full color in ranges and has just introduced a range in antique copper. De-centralized cooking units to allow placing of oven and surface cooking units where the user wishes are also available.

The Chambers factory guarantee virtually all parts of their equipment for 25 years.

As a matter of human interest it is said that Mr. Chambers designed and built his first range over 40 years ago by adapting burners to a chicken incubator to allow his wife to bake in a cooler kitchen. Since that time, Mr. Chambers, still living, has introduced many "Firsts" in range manufacturing.

Air Conditioning Is An Important Factor In Health

A recent survey indicated that most owners of home and office air conditioning units weighed the health factor carefully in making their decisions to invest in cooling equipment, it was revealed here.

It was pointed out that the heart has no trouble, ordinarily, in maintaining a healthy temperature in the body when the thermometer in the room is registering between 65 and 75 degrees However, when the thermometer ranges above that level, the heart must do extra duty.

The explanation for this overload of the vital organ is simple, experts on the subject said. When the weather is hot and the body has difficulty keeping cool, the heart must pump blood near the skin surface, where passing air currents have a chance to carry off the heat.

During so - called muggy summers, when the person retreats to an air conditioned room his heart is given an opportunity to operate at a more normal tempo.

To the health factor there may also be added the element of efficiency which is more likely to be present when people work in the comfortable atmosphere of an air conditioned room.

An air conditioning unit may also play an important part in helping maintain tempers at an even keel—at least preventing the irritability that often arises when a room becomes a modified version of a baking oven.

Philco Units Mount Flush With Drapes

A complete new line of Philco room air conditioners, requiring no inside or outside support, has been announced by the Philco Corporation, Louis Mashaw, Jr., sales manager of the Ark-La-Tex Wholesale Company, of Shreveport, says.

"One of the models in this new line, designed primarily for living room use, is a one h.p. size, which mounts flush with living room drapes, giving it a very neat installation appearance," he said.

"Many air conditioners claiming the same power cannot approach this Philco for cooling power or humidity removal. And even more, nothing less than this Philco—regardless of price—can offer you complete flexibility of installation.

"You don't have to hang unsightly brackets outside your home, and you don't have to build a book case under the unit inside the room.

Keep Cool And Live Longer

A little band of weary men slogged along through the steaming August heat, burdened with heavy clothing and 40 pound packs. Mile after mile they walked, pausing only at 50 minute intervals for a ten minute break. From time to time one would drop out of the line of march, exhausted, or fail to hit the trail again after a rest period.

In another part of the country an anxious family gathered at the bedside of a grandmother dying after heat stroke. Her already weakened heart struggled hopelessly to bear the extra strain imposed by the 100 degree temperature.

The marching men had one thing in common with the dying woman—hot weather. Their long hike was destined to contribute information to medical science that ultimately would help save the lives of heat-stricken men and women. They walked on a motor - driven treadmill in a laboratory specially designed to test the effect of heat and humidity on the human body. The results of this experiment and others like it, as well as field studies of hot weather working conditions, add to our growing body of knowledge of how to beat the heat.

With August upon us, we have more than academic interest in hot weather, what it does to us and how we can avoid its ill effects. We are all too familiar with that dragged-out feeling when the mercury soars and the air is heavy with moisture. We are accustomed to frequent newspaper reports of deaths attributed to the heat. But few of us outside the laboratory know what happens within our bodies when our built-in cooling mechanisms work overtime in an effort to keep us healthy and comfortable.

EXCESS HEAT

Of the food taken into the body, approximately ten per cent goes into measurable physical work, while 90 per cent is turned directly into heat. The excess heat is carried to the body's outer surfaces by the arterial blood stream. Then the body radiates it, "evaporates" it through perspiration or conducts it by direct contact to clothes or other surfaces cooler than the body.

The body's cooling mechanism works efficiently within certain temperature ranges, but when the heat or the humidity, or both, are high, the body can't radiate, evaporate or conduct heat. The heart beats more rapidly; oxygen-carrying blood is diverted from the brain and other internal organs; blood vessels dilate in the attempt to carry off the heat. Heavy perspiration dehydrates the body and depletes its salt.

A survey of research into the effects of heat, made by the Mitchell Air Conditioning Research Foundation, shows that high temperatures can cause heart attacks in people with weak hearts and complete collapse in those suffering from chronic heart diseases. It also shows that heat reduces the ability to carry on mental or physical work and retards growth. The Mitchell Foundation, a non - profit research group, was set up by a Chicago manufacturer of room air conditioners to collate the results of such studies made throughout the country and finance further research on heat effects.

Experiments covered in the Mitchell Foundation survey include tests conducted on marching men at the University of Indiana, the University of Minnesota and the Army's Medical Reasearch Laboratory at Fort Knox.

Healthy men walking on treadmills under high temperatures, either dry or humid, experienced a marked rise in heart rate and body temperature and a drop in blood pressure. They became dull and apathetic, and performed their "Work" poorly. They developed such symptoms as fatigue, headache, dizziness, loss of appetite, nausea, heat cramps, vomiting and shortness of breath. Other signs of heat exhaustion included lack of coordination, staring eyes, mental disturbance and collapse.

Two - year field studies at Boulder City, Nev., during construction of Hoover Dam, underscored the results of laboratory tests. Again it was found that, as arterial blood is diverted to the cooling function, there is a reduction in the oxygen-transporting function and an extra load on the heart.

It was found in this, as in many other studies, that thirst is not a barometer to the body's need for fluids. Workers who drank only when they were thirsty failed to keep up with perspiration loss, "felt the heat" more and lost efficiency.

An additional discovery was the importance of adequate sleep; workers who lost sleep suffered more from the heat than those who had sufficient rest. During the second summer of the Boulder City study, workers' dormitories were air-conditined, making comfortable sleep possible despite the hot weather.

In contrast to the 15 deaths and an unrecorded number of collapses from the heat the first summer, there were no deaths and only five cases of heat cramps the second year. The researchers concluded that a good night's sleep is a prime essential for the maintenance of good health and efficiency under high temperatures.

Much the same results were obtained in a test aboard a Navy hospital ship in the tropics during World War II. Part of the crew, exposed to all the usual conditions of work and rest, suffered a disabling heat rash. Other crew members escaped the rash when they were permitted to spend half their time under air conditioning. Furthermore, their motivation, initiative and alert ness remained unusually high for tropic conditions.

A study of how older people are affected by the heat was conducted at a home for the aged in New York City. It was found that the loss of sodium chloride from the body caused severe heat craps but no deaths. Heat exhaustion, the result of circulatory shock plus the loss of salt, and heat stroke, in which the patient has a high fever and lapses into unconsciousness, often were fatal. Heat was especially hard on those suffering from heart or kidney diseases. A city-wide survey showed that of 56 deaths attributed to the heat during a four-day heat wave, 34 occurred in pople 45 to 64 years old and 13 in those over 65.

It is not surprising that people with chronic heart disease are especially susceptible to the ill effects of hot weather. In one study 25 volunteers, 12 of whom suffered from heart ailments were placed in a room in which the temperature was 104 degrees. Those with heart disease showed signs of collapse within 40 minutes and had to be removed to an air-conditioned room. The others stuck it out for 114 minutes before they were removed because of weakness, eye failure, faintness and headaches. They did not return to normal until they had been out of the heat for nearly twice as long as they had been in it.

HEART PATIENTS

Heart patients, especially, should avoid extremes of temperature, the report emphasized. "Marked fluctuations in conditions, particulaly repeated or prolonged increases in temperature or humidity, are as harmful as excess physical activity," it concluded.

At one steel plant, heat cases jumped to as high as 40 or 50 a day in 100 degree weather. Heat-induced losses in muscle power and coordination were blamed for an increase in accidents on the job. At another steel plant, cases of heat cramps were reduced materially when workers were given salt water to replace salt lost through excessive perspiration.

Studies of office workers and students prove that mental efficiency drops when the temperature rises above the mid-seventies. Oxygen-bearing blood which normally would be serving the brain is partially diverted to the body's cooling system. Tests at a Midwestern university showed that students suffered a 40 per cent loss in mental efficiency during the hot, humid summer months. The speed and accuracy of office workers may be cut as much as 50 per cent when the temperature rises to 95 degrees. At the same time, merely moving about in a 95 degree temperature produces as much strain on the heart as heavy labor in cool weather.

What's New In The Modern Kitchen? It's An Air Conditioner

Air conditioners are joining refrigerators and ranges as "must" appliances in an ever-mounting number of kitchens across the land.

This statement comes from your local distributor of consumer products for the Radio Corporation of America, who reports that the nationwide trend is reflected in local installations of RCA air conditioning units.

Not only does an air conditioner bring more pleasure to mother in the kitchen, but it also protects the health and well-being of the entire family. Thanks to an air conditioner, kitchen windows are closed forever to unsanitary dust, dirt, flies, and insects — thus safeguarding food from foreign matter.

But most of all, an air conditioner in a kitchen gives the housewife more pleasure. After all, the job of cooking is a hot one, year-around. With an air conditioner in the kitchen, a housewife can have the exact degree of desired coolness at all times.

Kitchen-use air conditioners also have other benefits resulting from the removal of excess moisture from the air—no more soggy crackers, soggy cereals and bread.

With an air conditioner, there is always a complete circulation of fresh, filtered, cool air which clears away smoke and objectionable cooking odors.

The housing for the company's entire 1953 line of window-type units were styled by Henry Dreyfus, nationally-known industrial designer, and will fit in with the decoration scheme of almost any kitchen. Prices for RCA units adequate for kitchen use start as low as $229.50 for a one-third ton window model.

I'M SIMPLY DELIGHTED ABOUT THAT LEASE I SIGNED! JUST IMAGINE-- WE'LL BE LIVING IN THE SAME APARTMENT HOUSE WITH MRS. VERREE O'VERBEARING- THE SOCIAL LEADER!!

OH-MOTHER-DON'T SAY WE'RE MOVING!-- I JUST LOVE THIS APARTMENT!

SO DO I! BUT I'VE LEASED AN APARTMENT IN THE SAME BUILDING WITH MRS. VERREE O'VERBEARING! NOW SHE'LL JUST HAVE TO RECOGNIZE US - AND WE'LL BE MADE SOCIALLY!!

BUT- MOTHER - MRS. CARRIE TALES TOLD ME THAT THE O'VERBEARINGS ARE MOVING OUT OF THAT HOUSE.

OH- DON'T TELL ME THAT! HORRORS! I MUST CANCEL THE LEASE AT ONCE!!

WHAT'S YOUR HURRY- MAGGIE? IS THE PLACE ON FIRE?

IT'S WORSE THAN THAT

BUT YOU SIGNED A LEASE ON THE APARTMENT- MRS. JIGGS!

I DON'T CARE! I'VE DECIDED TO STAY WHERE I AM -- I ABSOLUTELY REFUSE TO MOVE INTO THAT APARTMENT!!

I DON'T CARE WHETHER YOU MOVE IN OR NOT-- AS LONG AS YOU PAY THE RENT FOR THE NEXT FIVE YEARS!

THE ISRAELITE ARMY BEGINS ITS ADVANCE ON THE ENEMY CITY OF JERICHO.... SPIRITS ARE HIGH, FOR GOD'S MESSENGER HAS TOLD JOSHUA THE WALLS OF JERICHO WILL FALL IF ISRAEL OBEYS GOD'S ORDER TO MARCH AROUND THE CITY FOR SEVEN DAYS...AS THE ISRAELITES APPROACH JERICHO, THEY ARE SEEN BY SCOUTS...

NOW THE THUNDER OF THE MULES' SPEEDY HOOFS ECHOES OVER THE SUN-BAKED PLAINS....THE SCOUTS ARE RIDING TO WARN THE KING OF JERICHO....

DUSTY AND TIRED, THEY INTERRUPT THE KING'S PLEASANT COURT LIFE.....ONE CRIES OUT, "THE ISRAELITE WARRIORS ARE COMING!"

"SOUND THE TRUMPETS... LET EVERY SOLDIER GUARD THE WALLS!"

ALL EYES ARE TURNED TO THE EAST WHERE HUGE DUST CLOUDS FROM THE MARCHING ARMY CAN NOW BE SEEN!

AND FROM THE INNER WALL OF THIS MIGHTY FORTRESS, THE CAPTAINS OF JERICHO'S ARMY CAREFULLY STUDY THE APPROACHING ISRAELITES...FOR ANY WEAKNESS BY WHICH TO DEFEAT THEM!

"BUT WHERE ARE THEIR WAR MACHINES?" CRIES ONE, "THEIR CHARIOTS... BATTERING RAMS?"... "THEY HAVE NONE," ANOTHER REPLIES EXCITEDLY, "AND THAT IS THEIR WEAKNESS!"

..? IF THEY BUT KNEW! FOR JOSHUA MARCHES BESIDE SOMETHING FAR MORE POWERFUL THAN A MERE WAR MACHINE-- THE ARK OF THE COVENANT!

AND NOW THE ARCHERS OF JERICHO WAIT FOR THE ISRAELITES TO MARCH WITHIN RANGE OF THEIR WAR BOWS... WAIT WITH DEATH DRAWN TIGHT ON THEIR BOW STRINGS!

Your eyes tell you

Is that white shirt really white? Did you get all the grease out of those overalls? How bright are the colors in that dress? In each of these three jobs, SURF will equal or better any other product on the market today. But today's SURF doesn't just get things clean-looking. It does more!

Your nose tells you

Things aren't really clean unless they smell clean. You know that. And that's where SURF knocks other wash-day products into a cocked hat. It will get filthy, dirty work clothes, play clothes, all the things you wash so clean they smell like sunshine. You know they're clean clear through.

Surf beats them all

Don't take our word for it. Prove it to yourself. Compare a SURF wash for looks. Compare it for smell. Compare it with a wash done with any other product in the world. If you don't think that SURF does the best job, we'll foot the bill. We'll refund every single cent you paid —plus postage!

INVENTIONS. In this country we now have a new kind of stove. It melts cheese in five seconds, bakes a cake in three minutes, a potato in five. Do I smell something burning?

NO FRUS. Mrs. F. M. Hussion, Denver, Col., writes: "Since using SURF, I do my washing with no FRUS (Surf spelled backwards). I used to "Frus" and, yes, "Cuss" when it came to washing those grass-stained jeans of my little Indians. But that was before I discovered your wonderful product."

Mrs. Hussion goes on to say she enjoys our House Party show on KLC-TV in Denver. You can join us any Monday, Wednesday, Friday on your own CBS radio or TV station. We have a real good time!

Your eyes tell you

Is that white shirt really white? Did you get all the grease out of those overalls? How bright are the colors in that dress? In each of these three jobs, SURF will equal or better any other product on the market today. But today's SURF doesn't just get things clean-looking. It does more!

Your nose tells you

Things aren't really clean unless they smell clean. You know that. And that's where SURF knocks other wash-day products into a cocked hat. It will get filthy, dirty work clothes, play clothes, all the things you wash so clean they smell like sunshine. You know they're clean clear through.

Surf beats them all

Don't take our word for it. Prove it to yourself. Compare a SURF wash for looks. Compare it for smell. Compare it with a wash done with any other product in the world. If you don't think that SURF does the best job, we'll foot the bill. We'll refund every single cent you paid —plus postage!
